PREPARES FOR DEATH

Work of the Salvation Army to Go On.

After the General Has Passed Away There Will be Another General to Take His Place ---Booth is Vigorous.

GENERAL BOOTH.

Boston, Oct. 3.—According to a statement made by General William Booth, arrangements have been made to continue the work of the Salvation Army, of which he is the head, in case of his death. General Booth said:

"Arrangements have been made, so far as legal acumen and prayer could enable us to make them, so that as one general of the Salvation Army steps off the stage of action another general shall step on. If, therefore, I should die to-night, the message that would flash around the world would be: "The general is dead; long live the general!"

General Booth made this announcement because of a growing anxiety on the part of his loyal followers.

In the course of another address General Booth said: "This is no farewell tour and I have never given the matter of discontinuing my present active work a thought, for as long as there is sufficient strength left in my body I shall be found on the firing line, fighting vice and lending a helping hand where wretchedness and poverty stalk."

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The Very Latest Culled From All Over The World.

Eight hundred mechanics quit work at Springfield, N.S., coal mines.

The damaged liner Huronia is being rapidly patched up, and will carry a full cargo to England.

Paul Hesse, two years old, fell twenty feet from a porch to a stone sidewalk in Chicago and was fatally injured.

Sheriff Harvey K. Brown, Baker City, Oregon, who died from the effects of a bomb explosion, made an ante-mortem statement, blaming the Miners' Federation.

It is reported in London that the formal announcement of the engagement of Prince Francis of Teck to Miss Margaretta Drexel, of Philadelphia, will soon be made.

Mrs. F. W. Baker and her seven-year-old daughter were buried in the same casket at Streator, Ill., yesterday. The mother, while insane, drowned herself and her daughter, recently, near Los Angeles, Cal.

Education Made Compulsory.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 3.—An imperial edict, dated September 30th, decrees compulsory education for everybody in China, and declares, furthermore, that the people are to be taught the principles of constitutional government in order that they may be better fitted to elect representatives when a parliament is created. The throne expresses anxiety to establish parliamentary institutions, but adds that the success of it depends upon the education and knowledge possessed by those called upon to govern.

SOLD STOCK FROM PULPIT.

Demand Boosted Price to 25 Cents a Share.

New York, Oct. 3.—While a fervent prayer meeting was going on last evening in the Macedonia classroom, in the basement of Big Bethel, a colored church on West Twentieth street, shares in an African gold mine were sold at ten cents a share on the pulpit platform of the edifice. The subscription was so liberal that announcement was made of an advance to twenty-five cents a share after midnight.

The mining property staggers under the formidable title of the Arkansu Usuwar & Dompem syndicate, and is situated on the gold coast of West Africa, where the tribal chiefs granted a concession to a New York company, incorporated in South Dakota. Alfred C. Cowan, the colored lawyer, is chairman of the company's committee of exploitation.

ONE OF THE POWERS

In the Telegraph and Telephone Corporations.

Robert C. Clowry, capitalist and president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, was born in Will county, Ill. on September 8th, 1838. He received an ordinary public school education. Mr.

Robert C. Clowry

Clowry married Miss Caroline A. Estabrook, on August 29th, 1865, at Omaha, she died in April, 1896. His home is in New York city and his wealth is calculated as amounting to millions. He is one of the powers in the telegraph and telephone corporations not only in the United States, but abroad. Mr. Clowry served in the Union army and made a gallant record during his service.

$100,000 FOR OPERA BOX.

Frick's Record Price For Metropolitan Seats.

New York, Oct. 3.—For the first time in nearly five years a box in the famous "diamond horseshoe" in the Metropolitan Opera House has changed owners.

For a price in excess of $100,000, Henry Clay Frick, millionaire iron master and long-time friend and associate of Andrew Carnegie, has purchased a coveted place, in the parterre row, box No. 19, which, since the opera house was built, had been owned by the late Henry I. Barbey, who died last year.

Mr. Frick, who has long desired a box in the Metropolitan, had the first call on the box.

This is the first outright sale of a parterre box in the Metropolitan since January, 1903, when the late Heber R. Bishop's box was bought by James B. Haggin for $80,000.

SIXTEEN HOURS THE LIMIT.

Will Compel Trainmen to Take a Rest.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—In a circular issued to all trainmen, the Grand Trunk railway insists that all train crews shall take their eight hours' rest after sixteen hours on the road. No man can be posted again until he has had a rest, and the penalty for neglecting these instructions is dismissal. The circular admits of no misinterpretation, it being stated in one paragraph that rather than allow trainmen to leave a station without sufficient rest the train should be taken off.

HALVES WOULD NOT FLOAT.

Vessel, When Cut in Two, Not Buoyant.

Quebec, Oct. 3.—It was discovered, that the new C.P.R. Assiniboia, cut in two at the graving dock here for the purpose of taking her through the canals to do service on the lakes, would not float. Her ballast will have to be shifted.

As soon as this vessel leaves port her sister ship, the Keewatin, will undergo the same operation of being severed in two, and also leave to do service on the lakes.

A Train Held Up.

Odessa, Oct. 3.—A train having on board more than two hundred passengers, was held up, Tuesday night, by a band of robbers who opened the mail car by exploding dynamite. The explosion set the car on fire and a number of women and children were badly burned. The robbers were attacked by gendarmes, but the former escaped. The secret police discovered two hundred pounds of dynamite at a railroad station, in this city. The explosive was labelled "hardware" and was being shipped to the interior.

Hamilton's Assessment.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 3.—The result of the work of the assessors has been handed out for publication and shows that during the year Hamilton gained an increase in population of 2,313, making the population 63,756. There was an increase in assessment of $3,653,121.

A MEETING OF WIVES

A Tragic Scene at the Morgue In Cleveland.

Where the Body of Captain Nicholson Was Lying--One of the Women Swooned When Facts Revealed.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—After hearing from the lips of Mrs. Roxanna Stewart Nicholson, of this city, that though they had separated, she and Captain James W. Nicholson, killed Saturday by falling into the hold of the steamer Caledonia, in Escanaba, never had been divorced, Mrs. Nicholson, No. 2, of Buffalo, toppled over in a swoon.

The women met beside the body of Captain Nicholson in Saxton's morgue. The elder, who had not lived with the captain for nine years, was calm. The younger, her eyes red with weeping on her journey from Buffalo, collapsed when the coffin opened.

"My husband," she cried, then fell to the floor.

"Poor child," the other said to her, "He was my husband. He couldn't be yours. We never were divorced."

Then the younger woman swooned. Before the elder Mrs. Nicholson joined her the younger woman, fair and comely, said that she and Captain Nicholson had been married four years ago. She was a widow then and a child by a former marriage accompanied her here and cared for her when she swooned.

"I know he had been married, but I thought him a widower," sobbed Mrs. Nicholson No. 2. "I never dreamed there was another woman."

The elder Mrs. Nicholson said she married the captain in 1871, and never had been divorced. She lived with one of two children born of the union. Mrs. Alice Coffinberry, Franklin avenue and Hicks street. "I shall have the body of my husband buried," announced Mrs. Nicholson No. 1, while the other widow prepared to return to her home in Buffalo.

AUSTRALIA'S NEW TARIFF.

Duties on Some of the Principal Imports.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—A copy of the new Australian tariff, recently introduced in the Commonwealth parliament, has been received by the department of trade and commerce. The tariff has not been passed, and it is admitted that some changes are likely to be made. For the information of business men the full tariff will be published in the next monthly report of the department.

The tariff on some of the principal items which Canada exports to Australia will be: Smoked or dried fish, 1½d per lb.; stripped harvesters, 16 each; agricultural and horticultural implements in general, from 20 to 25 per cent. ad valorem; furniture, except of metal, wicker, bamboo and cane, in parts, unfinished, 40 per cent. ad valorem; rubber boots and shoes, 25 per cent. ad valorem; printing paper to be used exclusively for newspapers, 10 per cent.; writing paper, 15 per cent.; brown paper, 6s 6d per cwt.; waggons and buggies, 9 and 18 shillings each.

The preference to the mother country apparently ranges from 5 to 10 per cent.

All Ill-Fated Name.

New York, Oct. 3.—The owners of the hull of the excursion steamboat General Slocum, which was burned in the harbor, here, in June, 1904, causing the death of more than 1,000 persons, have received permission to change the name of the craft to the Maryland. The hull has been converted into a barge and will be used in transporting coal and lumber between Atlantic coast ports.

MAY HAVE THEATRICALS.

Special Arrangements on the Cunard Steamship.

Liverpool, Oct. 3.—It is announced that the Cunard Steamship company has accepted the offer of Charles Frohman to give theatrical performances on the big Cunard liners by regular players who, for the time being, may be travelling to and from from the United States to England. The company is now planning specially designed halls for plays and concerts on board of three of the ships of the line. Other trans-Atlantic companies are considering Frohman's proposition.

French Ship Wrecked.

London, Oct. 3.—The French ship, Leon XIII, went shore, yesterday, on the coast of Ireland. Huge seas are pounding her. The crew of twenty-five men have been in the fore-rigging for many hours. The coast guards are vainly trying to reach the ship, which it is feared will break up.

UP FOR AIDING ESCAPE

Judge Found Insufficient Evidence That He Helped Son.

Whitby, Oct. 3.—Wallace McKeown was put on trial, here, charged with aiding escaped prisoners from Whitby jail to evade re-capture. McKeown's son, Albert, was one of the men who got away from custody, on July 9th last. They went to Uxbridge, where McKeown lived, and on the night of July 12th visited the McKeown home in the absence of the father. Albert went to his own room, secured a change of clothes, and Ryan, his companion, secured a coat in the yard. They also procured something to eat. While the men were making themselves comfortable Wallace McKeown returned, and after a time told the men to leave. In a short time he was arrested, charged as above. On promising to try to indure his son to surrender he was allowed out on bail. He failed to get the boy to come back, and so faced Judge McIntyre, yesterday. The evidence brought out, his honor held, was insufficient to convict.

ROSS STILL LOST.

Mystery of His Disappearance Deepens.

London, Oct. 3.—The disappearance of Dugald Ross, Streetsville, proves to be more mysterious than at first reported. On Tuesday of last week, Mr. Ross motored from the Berkely Hotel with a friend to the Bank of England in Threadneedle street, stating that he had to call about a cheque for £20,000. He did not return although his friend waited for him in front of the bank for five and a half hours, when he was moved on by the police.

It has been elicited that Ross visited Folkestone, on the day following his disappearance from London, staying twenty-four hours at a hotel there, and leaving suddenly with only a small bag. He had stayed at this hotel before departing in the same eccentric manner, leaving his baggage behind. Absolutely no trace of Mr. Ross is discoverable, and the press is disseminating description and photograph.

WERE CONSPIRATORS.

They Have Been Indicted—Cannot Get Bail.

Havana, Oct. 3.—Several indictments have been found by the special judge in the conspiracy cases and the men indicted are being held in default of $10,000 bail each. The indictments accuse the conspirators of "having agreed upon a plan to overthrow the provisional government of the United States as quickly as possible by dynamiting bridges, burning the properties of all foreigners excepting the Spaniards, killing Americans and doing everything possible to prevent the realization of the coming sugar crop."

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE

Shipments From Montreal Nearly 50 Per Cent Over Last Season.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—Exports from the port of Montreal for the present season have more than held their own as compared with the same dates last year. As Montreal exports upwards of one-third of the entire produce of the country, the trade of the port is interesting as a reflection of the entire country's business.

From the opening of navigation to September 15th, the export of wheat showed a very large increase as compared with a year ago, the figures being 12,600,000 bushels, as compared with 8,600,000 bushels for the same period a year ago. Corn also shows a large increase, the export being 3,782,000 bushels, as compared with 2,421,000 bushels for a corresponding period a year ago. Oats also show a corresponding increase.

Canada's butter trade fell off very largely during the present season, as compared with a year ago, while there is also a decrease in the shipments of cheese.

TELEGRAPH RATES RAISED.

Puts Up Tariff—Press Urges Commission to Act.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—In retaliation, it is said, for the efforts of the newspaper publishers to organize a news distributing association known as the Western Associated Press, the C.P.R. has increased the rates from Ontario points westward by 1¼ per cent. for day, and 100 per cent. night rate; from Alberta by 100 per cent., and from all other points in the west 100 per cent. This was done on twelve hours' notice. The month previous the C.P.R. withdrew a rate which had been in existence from Ontario westward for twelve years, making it retroactive for six days. The Free Press cites these facts as a basis for immediate action by the railway commission.

SOLOMON'S SONGS.

Declares They Were Not Written By Solomon.

Baltimore, Oct. 3.—John Haupt, professor of Semitic languages in the Johns Hopkins University, who has finished a translation of the Songs of Solomon, is credited with saying that Solomon never wrote the songs. "The songs," the professor said, "were written fully 600 years after his reign, which was 950 B.C. The book is a collection of love songs, dealing particularly with love of Christ, who was to come, for man. It was written in the neighborhood of Damascus."

LAW OVER THE CHILDREN

Action For Sending Children to A Separate School.

London, Oct. 3.—The home of William T. Trudell, 17 Alexander street, London West, has been broken up. Trudell, a man aged forty, is a Protestant and his wife, aged thirty-five, a Roman Catholic. They have lived together for sixteen years and eight children is the result of the union. Trouble arose over the sending of the children to the separate school. The public schools were not considered sufficiently good and the oldest girl was allowed to remain at home until the truant officer compelled her to go to school. Pressure was brought to bear on the mother and she consented to allow the girl and three others to go to the separate school, the trustees of the latter agreeing to this although the husband was rated as a supporter of the public school. The children were sent for two weeks to the separate school, before Trudell was aware of the fact. As a result U. A. Buchier has issued a writ for an injunction restraining Mrs. Trudell from sending the children to the separate school. T. J. Murphy defended Mrs. Trudell. Justice Magee heard the application and took Murphy's view of the case and refused to make an order for the injunction. The case will come up in the assize court on Monday next.

WAS A GHASTLY MURDER

A Woman and Boy Were Despatched Near Albany.

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 3.—Believing that murder, committed at Loudonville, on the outskirts of Albany, the police of he can throw some light on a double various places in this vicinity, are searching for Jacob Besche; a farm hand. The search began yesterday, directly after the discovery of the bodies of Katherine Dargatz, wife of John A. Dargatz, a farmer, with their nine-year-old adopted son. The woman was bound about the neck and arms with ropes, her body suspended from a rafter in the barn in the rear of her home. Nearby was the body of the boy, lying in a pool of blood, with his skull crushed with an axe. John A. Dargatz, husband of the woman, is in custody.
