THE JUDGE AT REST

He Passed Away at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Deceased Was a Son of the Late Hon. John Hamilton--Was a Judge at Port Arthur and Milton.

Announcement of the death of Judge Hamilton will be received with very sincere regret by those who, in many places, were his warm friends. He has, since retiring from active duties, been enjoying his summers in Kingston, either in the old home-stand or in a residence adjoining, formerly owned by his sister. His winters were spent in England. Just before leaving for Canada this spring, he was taken ill, and though he rallied promptly, an uncommonly stout constitution has gone down before an uncomparable complaint. Less than a month since, with Mrs. Hamilton, he sought special care at the sanitarium, Clifton Springs, New York. Relief was but temporary, and utter collapse preceded the calm ending of a life of public usefulness and personal honor.

John Macpherson Hamilton was eldest son of the late Hon. John Hamilton, senator of Canada, Kingston; his mother was a sister of the late Sir David Macpherson. He studied at Upper Canada and Queen's Colleges, then entered the office of Sir John Macdonald as a law student; upon Sir John's removal to the seat of government, he became a clerk under Sir Alexander Campbell, in Kingston also. He was called to the bar in 1853, and practised in partnership with Mr. Phillips, at Toronto, till in 1861 appointed district attorney and clerk of the peace in the newly-organized judicial district

It is intended that it shall be able to accompany battleships in any weather.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER

Steamer Cypress Sinks and Twenty-One Lives are Lost.

Survivor Floats Ashore on Life Raft--He Was Picked up in an Exhausted Condition--The Steamer Was a New Boat.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 14.—The steel steamer Cypress, owned by the Lackawanna Transportation company, and carrying a cargo of ore, sank on Friday night, in Lake Superior, off Deer Park, about thirty miles from Grand Marais, and all of the crew of twenty-two, excepting the second mate, were lost.
The latter was washed ashore near Deer Park, lashed to a life raft and barely alive. He is in a critical condition, and thus far has been able only to tell that the steamer was the Cypress and that he is the sole survivor.
He suffered terribly from cold, exposure and the battering of the waves. Two bodies have also washed ashore at Deer Park.
The disaster was due to a sudden leak, through which the waves rushed with such volume as to overcome all efforts to keep the vessel afloat. The steamer George Stephenson, of the Pittsburg Steamship company, on Saturday reported that she had passed the Cypress late yesterday. A red streak was distinguishable in the water behind her, indicating that her plates had been sprung and that her iron cargo was discharging the water. Capt. Harbottle, of the Stephenson, says that the hatches of the Cypress were not covered to keep out the water. A heavy sea was running and the Cypress' decks were continually awash. The water poured into the hold through the hatches so rapidly that the pumps were unable to keep the vessel afloat. Late at night the lights of the vessel, near Deer Park, were visible to the Stephenson's crew, and then suddenly disappeared.

Some of The Victims.
Cleveland, O., Oct. 14.—The last payroll of the steamer Cypress was aboard the boat and probably was lost. This alone can give the names of the members of the crew, according to the officials of the Lackawanna Transportation Co. The September payroll gives little information, as there are usually many changes on lake vessels between trips, and especially among the firemen and deckhands.
The captain was F. B. Huyck, of Sheridan, N.Y.; first mate, John Smith, Cleveland; second mate, C. J. Pitt, engineer, J. J. Norcross, of Tonawanda, N.Y.; coxswain, W. M. Dundon and wife.
The Cypress was loaded with iron ore, bound for Buffalo. She left Superior, Wis., at nine o'clock, Thursday morning.
The Cypress was a new boat, 440 feet long, with a capacity of 7,500 tons. She had made but one trip to the head of the lake, and was bound down her second trip. It is believed here that the machinery of the Cypress must have met with an accident.

SCIENCE FINDS A CURE.
Dr. Keating Hart's Cancer Discovery Shows Wonderful Results--Electrical Process.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Dr. Keating Hart of Marseilles, gave a practical demonstration, here, on Saturday, of the new electro-surgical cure for cancer. He applied sparks to the cancerous growth. These are softened by the electricity and their cutting out is made most easy. At the same time the electricity causes the wound to heal with magical rapidity, kills all pain and prevents a recurrence of the growths.

This electrical process, which has been named "fulguration," can be applied also to cancer in the head, where operations are impossible. Its application causes the growth to disappear gradually and puts a stop to the dreadful pains that accompany cancer.
Prof. Samuel Pozzi and a number of other eminent French surgeons, as well as several of the foreign delegates to the surgical congress now in session here, witnessed the demonstration, and declared it to be of the greatest value.
