GOINGS ON IN QUEEN'S

ENGINEER SOCIETY'S OFFICERS AND RULERS.

The Sunday Afternoon Speakers—Lectures on Music by Rev. S. H. Gray, M.A.—Junior and Senior Year Debate.

The results of the Engineering Society's annual election of officers are as follows: Hon. Pres., Prof. R. W. Brook; president, H. O. Sweeney; first vice-president, W. M. Harding; second vice-president, M. Y. Williams; secretary, C. W. Drury; assistant-secretary, D. E. Kooley; treasurer, K. S. Clark; committee, J. Stott, '06; G. L. Gray, '09; P. E. Bonesteel, '10; G. M. Thompson, '11; vigilance committee, senior judge, F. L. Sine, M.A.; junior judge, E. L. Bruce; senior prosecuting attorney, J. S. McInnis; junior prosecuting attorney, J. S. McIntosh; sheriff, K. S. Twitshell; clerk, T. D. Campbell; crier, W. H. Tuckett; chief of police, B. R. McKay.

Speakers for the autumn series of Sunday afternoon services in Convocation Hall have been chosen as follows: Nov. 3rd, Principal Gordon; Nov. 10th, Chancellor McKay; McLennan University, Nov. 17th, Rev. Dr. Symonds; Montreal, Nov. 24th, Rev. Alfred Gandier, B.D., Toronto; Dec. 1st, Rev. Ernest Thomas, Lachute; Dec. 8th, Prof. Alexander Gordon, Montreal.

M. Matheson has resigned the second vice-presidency of the Alma Mater Society as he does not propose returning to college this session.

The first regular meeting of the Arts Society is being held this afternoon. The annual nomination of officers is taking place and the honorary president, Prof. Cullander, will address the society.

In the tennis semi-finals Lockett defeated Macdonald and it now remains for Lockett to make his bid to battle for the championship.

A series of lectures pertaining to music is being opened in Convocation Hall to-night. The first lecturer is Gray, M.A., a Queen's graduate, and his discourses promise to be exceedingly interesting.

"Dwellers of the Western Plains" was the topic of this afternoon's address before the Naturalists' Club by F. L. Sine, M.A. The speaker was admirably qualified to deal with his subject, as he has himself been a denizen of the western plains for a considerable time.

The junior and senior years have chosen as the subject of their debate, "Resolved, that the treaty presented existing between Great Britain and Japan should be abrogated." The affirmative will be argued by Messrs. Curvery and Kennedy, representing the final year, while Messrs. Hill and Menzies, of the junior year, will be their opponents. The issue is indeed a live one, in view of the recent anti-Japanese riots in Vancouver, and the debate will be one of widespread interest.

Prof. Morrison delivered the first of a series of illustrated lectures before the Historical Society, in the Biology room, old arts building, last evening. The universal verdict of those who attended was that the address was most interesting and instructive, especially to the students of history. The lecture was illustrated by a lantern display of Prof. Morrison's collection of eighteenth century cartoons, reputed to be second in merit only to the collection in the British museum.

The final year in arts reorganized, yesterday afternoon, when the following officers were elected: Honorary president, Prof. Morrison (in recognition); president, D. I. McLeod; vice-president, Miss A. Stewart; secretary, A. Malloch; assistant secretary, Miss A. Fargy; marshal, G. H. Wilson; prophet, M. Colquhoun; the historical, Miss Shaw; poetess, Miss Pierce; committee, R. Stevens, J. M. Simpson, Miss E. Code, Miss A. Reive.

Division Of The Money.

There was a meeting of the management committee of the Board of Education last evening to decide how the $2,450, given to the board for teachers' salaries in the past year, should be divided. It was decided to give the heads of the Collegiate departments $200 each; the public school principals $100 each, and several other public school teachers who were general in command. Principal Ellis, of the Collegiate, will receive an additional hundred dollars for extra duties. The Board of Education secretary will get $75; Messenger A. Langdon, $25; and the caretakers of schools which are to be used $25 each for extra work.

An Exciting Scene.

Large crowds attended the Bijou Theatre, last night, to witness the evolution of the Roumanian army, with the manual of arms and drum and trumpet effect by a squad from Tete du Pont barracks. The artillery evolutions were especially magnificent, the guns clanking across the stage in the most realistic style. The cavalry charged furiously, the infantry prepared to receive them, and the whole effect was most martial. Guns, drums, and the Roumanian band, shouting the orders which the Roumanian soldiery obeyed. The same bill to-night.

JAMES ALLAN A SOCIALIST.

Steamship Man a Candidate in Election.

London, Oct. 29.—James Allan, of the Allan steamship line, who is a millionaire and public affairs, is a socialist candidate in the municipal election at Glasgow. He said he was willing to hand over his possessions to the nation as soon as the state was organized in order to receive them. He added that he could not practice socialism alone, but must await the necessary fundamental change in the social system.

Reduced Price Of Meat.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 29.—Omaha packing houses have reduced the prices of all kinds of meat ten per cent, and expect a still further reduction. Edward A. Oudaly, of the Oudaly Packing company, expressed the belief that the prices of all commodities would be materially reduced, and that the present financial flurry would result in a general reduction of values.

Likely He Was Drowned.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 29.—No trace has yet been found of Charles Leuz, proprietor of the Hamilton whip factory, missing since yesterday noon. There does not seem to be any doubt that he was drowned at the beach, where he had his summer residence. The case is a very mysterious one, and suicide has been hinted at.

Suing Beattie Nesbitt.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, registrar and former member of the legislature, was, to-day, sued by George Verral, liverman, for $175. Part of the amount is on a promissory note and a balance of $137 is for cab hire.

REPULSIVE TO POLICE

TO ACT AS INFORMERS FOR INSPECTOR WRIGHT.

No Good Results Will Emerge Till the Prosecutions Are Placed Completely in the Hands of the Chief and His Men.

More than one occasion, Liquor License Inspector Wright has been informed that he can get what aid he wished from the police in enforcing the law, but not once has he requested the police to give him aid. The police will not act as informers and spies for the benefit of Mr. Wright, who, as inspector, is liable to a penalty for "neglect or default" in failing to attend to his duty. If the inspector looks to the police to act the part of the informer or spy and report to him, he will not receive many reports, if any at all. They consider the role of informer a little too low for their liking.

The trouble is that the laying of the information is at present not in the hands of the police. They are required to report to the chief who in turn refers the matter to the inspector. The latter then lays the information, and looks to his informers for evidence.

Until the present system of laying information (whether it be a local one or not) is changed, and the enforcement of the liquor law put directly in the hands of the chief of police, as is the enforcement of other laws, the present state of affairs will continue to exist, particularly so long as there is an inspector who will not keep his eyes open. The ex-inspector, Mr. Glidden, worked without police aid, and was ever alert. It might be mentioned, however, that during Mr. Glidden's illness at one time, the late Police Magistrate Huff instructed the police to proceed against hotels on their own. This the police did, and they were very successful in securing a number of convictions. They were then carrying out the liquor law as they did other laws, and were not acting as common informers. This is the system which should be adopted.

Since Inspector Wright has been in office, a period of over two years, he has not to my knowledge only two convictions. The first was against the Beauvilliers House which was watched, because the proprietor was such a vigorous grit. The second was against the Ironopolis Hotel, and the inspector had to lay information against the hotel on the spot at the time, and his movements were viewed by others. All the other convictions for violations have resulted indirectly from the work of the police and from complaints of relatives of those who are on the list in the past two years. It is the police, indirectly, have done more to wards the enforcement of the liquor law, than has the inspector, who has more time to devote to the work.

It is understood that the license commissioners are not a happy family. It seems that Ex-Alderman F. J. Wright will not be a spy, who does his official organ, the News, defend him and attack the police because they are following in the inspector's footsteps in objecting to being spies for the inspector or anyone else. Ex-Alderman Hoag, it seems, has the charge at the commissioners' meetings to talk plainly to the inspector and point out his duty.
