TURN ON THE LIGHT.

Parliament is the place to air the differences that have occurred between the Grand Trunk Railway Commission and one of its engineers on the Western Superior division.

The first report was that Major Hodgins would not submit to crooked work and had to retire. The chairman of the commission is the authority for the statement that the difference was in reference to the manner in which the contracts were carried out.

Hon. Mr. Tarte undertook to run from Canada, but he found in time that his strength lay in his association with Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Hon. Mr. Mackenzie left the record that while premier he had to play the sentimental role in duty, to protect the treasury from invasion, and the conservative papers say that some of those who had to be watched and warned of went by the name of liberals.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not pleased Mr. Bourassa in all respects, and the member for Labelle spent the best part of two sessions in displaying his forensic ability at the expense of his political friends.

Eleven per cent. of the prison population, at this early age, cannot be hardened criminals. They cannot be wholly abandoned to vice, but the conditions are assuredly against them when they are herded with men whose future is dark and hopeless.

The circumstances make one feel, says the Toronto Star, as if society, in a measure, has not given the young offender a chance. For him a wholly different place of detention should be provided.

CLEMENCY WELL EXERCISED. The executive clemency has been seemingly exercised a right in the Capelli case. The convict, at Parry Sound, and hitherto regarded as a calloused degenerate, unaffected by any ordinary emotion, broke down completely when he heard of the governor's decision.

Capelli, last winter, during a carouse and in the house of a friend, was alleged to have attempted a criminal assault upon Mrs. McCormack. In the melee which followed one Dow, who undertook to restrain Capelli, was fatally stabbed.

There is in some quarters a mawkish feeling against capital punishment, but it has divine authority and without it, when emity is exhibited, no other is the proper penalty. Murder uncheckered would rob life of its sacredness.

Claude Macdonnell, M.P., in a burst of joy, declared Mr. Borden to be the greatest man in the federal parliament. That ought to put him in the line of succession for favours when Mr. Borden is handing them out.

Mr. Foster says Laurier's is a very wicked government. It has not any traitors. The premier, unlike Sir Mackenzie Bowell, is not pursued by men who want his political life.

CURBING HEADSTRONG MEN.

La Patrie has a kind and sympathetic word for Mr. Bourassa. One recalls the experience which its editor had when he differed from the premier, and undertook to show his strength by championing the cause of a conservative candidate or independent in Montreal.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell had his experience with the nest of traitors. They deemed him insufficient for the task of leadership, and they made it difficult by their enbala. He should have stood his ground and fought the enemy.

Hon. Mr. Tarte undertook to run from Canada, but he found in time that his strength lay in his association with Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Hon. Mr. Mackenzie left the record that while premier he had to play the sentimental role in duty, to protect the treasury from invasion, and the conservative papers say that some of those who had to be watched and warned of went by the name of liberals.

The boom in real estate in Toronto has spent itself. A tumble in rents is next expected.

Flour has dropped 20c. a barrel. May be as a result expect the 3-lb. loaf? Wouldn't that be a pleasant announcement for the bakers to make?

Our railway commission is looking into the question of railway rates. It will early pronounce upon the possibility of a two-cent fare. Good.

The speakers at the Tory ward meetings in Toronto appear to worry about Hon. A. G. McKay. What the leader of the liberals says has stirred several conservative "brain storms."

Commonsense has triumphed in England, and there will not be a railway strike. The differences between the employers and employees will be arbitrated. The agreement when reached will be binding for six years.

The New York World pictures the president as a changed man—sober and subdued—since he got a glimpse of Wall street in mourning. A glimpse of the stock exchange on a busy day would take the gaiety out of any one.

Cecil B. Smith will probably retire from the Winnipeg engagement as power expert. The mayor accuses him of dictating to the aldermen and forcing his will upon them.

Eastern Ontario wants cabinet representation in Toronto. A territory that sent to England cheese to the value of $20,000,000, when all Canada only sent $24,000,000 deserves recognition, says H. Ferguson, M.P.P. And he does not seem to be joking about the matter.

The American revenue cutter Dallas, which was in the harbor yesterday, cleared for down the river, late in the afternoon. She took on a cargo of supplies here. The Dallas runs between Oswego and Ogdensburg.

At Richardson's elevator: Steam-barge Navajo, arrived from Montreal, with freight, for Montreal, with grain; steamer D. D. Calvin cleared for Montreal, with grain; schooner Ford River, cleared for Charlotte, with feldspar; the schooner W. J. Sufel, is loading feldspar.

THE CAT OUT OF THE BAG.

The interest, outside of Quebec, in this contest is largely due to the hope that through Bourassa and his following, the solid Quebec for Laurier may be broken up.

With Quebec reasonably solid against them, the conservatives will look in vain for success at the next election. Outside of Ontario and Quebec, they will be but seventy members of the next House of Commons.

MANY ARE STARVING.

Tangier, Nov. 9.—A courier just in from the southern capital reports a deplorable condition of affairs in Marrakech, consequent upon the fighting in the north.

The crowded Jewish quarter of Marrakech, known as the Mellah, is terror-stricken, and the Jews dare not go about the city; their business with the Moors is at a standstill, and many of the very poor among them are starving.

Mulai Hafid's representatives and counsellors have been so concerned with preparations for the dispatch of two armed forces to the north that the lowest classes of the populace have been allowed to indulge their instincts unchecked, and there is some danger that the Mellah may be sacked.
