HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion; One ounce Compound Salamine; Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla.

Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime, is stated by a prominent physician to give most excellent results in kidney rheumatism and related. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poisonous matter from the blood, and expels them in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues of joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism. The mixture is composed of harmless vegetable ingredients which can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home.

Anyone suffering from any of these ailments will not doubt be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended remedy.

The conviction was afterwards quashed by a high court judge on condition that Lowry would not take any action against the convicting magistrate. A brief summary is as follows: Ottawa—Several thousand laborers on railway construction in Canada will be laid off for winter, but hundreds will find work in lumber camps. A quieter period everywhere is possible, but hard times not expected. Montreal—700 men discharged. London—Probably 100 laid off, and working hours reduced. Stratford—300 men dropped. Sudbury—Everybody kept working. Halifax—Full staffs retained. Walkerville—Some firms running light. Windsor—All men working. St. John, N.B.—Factories busy. Guelph—Some curtailment. VERY CURIOUS WILL Left Money to Clothe Poor Children.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 14.—Application is being made, at Osgoode Hall, by the executors of the estate of William Battershall, of Ellice township, who left a rather remarkable will. Battershall bequeathed the interest on $1,000 to purchase clothes for children from six to seven years of age, whose parents were not paupers, but yet poor, in order that they might go to Sunday school. The interest on $500 was for the best developed children of the ages of one, six and ten years, to be competed for at the Perth fall fair, and the interest of $25 was to provide reading matter for jails and refuges. SEEKS DIVORCE. Girl Brings Action in Supreme Court, Watertown.

Watertown, N.Y., Nov. 14.—Judge Rogers' special term of supreme court in this city will be one long series of cases of incompatibility between husband and wife, in which either the one or the other is seeking divorce and separation.

Wednesday's session was occupied with a little story of how Cupid's darts had again gone wrong as they pierced the hearts of Edna and Chester Clark. Some months ago a morning picture was struck at Albany, Conn. Clark was one of the promoters. At that time the girl, whom he later married, was but a school girl. Along with her companions she paid many a visit to the moving show, and soon was on speaking terms with its manager. The acquaintance blossomed into something stronger, and before the show left the moving show, Edna had promised to marry Clark, who came to Brewster with his show.

One day Edna left the house as her parents thought she was going to school a few blocks away. Night came and the girl failed to return. On the day following a telegram from Rochester told the story of the girl's runaway marriage. Her parents, with Clark but a few days, returning to her parents, and soon the action for divorce was brought. Proof was shown that the girl was not of the age of consent when the marriage took place.
