"Its Only a Cold, A Trifling Cough."

Thousands have said this when they caught cold. Thousands have neglected to cure the cold. Thousands have filled a Consumptive's grave through neglect. Never neglect a cough or cold. It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the very foundation of all throat or lung complaints, relieving or curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Sore Throat, and preventing Pneumonia and Consumption.

It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. It contains all the long healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other powerful remedies. It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and soothes inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the phlegm and mucus, and aids nature to daily disengage the mucus accumulations. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pills from the trade mark, and price 25 cents.

Mrs. C. E. Blomsted, Lombardy, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with a hard dry cough for a long time, especially in the mornings, but after having used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, in a few weeks, I find my cough has left me. I can positively say that this remedy is well worth a trial."

THE CASE DISMISSED

PORTSMOUTH CONSTABLE'S CHARGE FAILED.

William Ewart Was Acquitted—Witnesses Swore That Constable Potter Was the Aggressor.

Judge Price presided at a special sitting of the county criminal court at the court house this morning. Only one case occupied the attention of the judge, that of William Ewart, who was committed for trial by G. H. Hunter, J.P., for assaulting George Potter, constable of Portsmouth. A. H. Cunningham appeared for the prisoner, and J. L. Whiting, K.C., for the crown. George Potter was the first witness called by Mr. Whiting. He stated that on Halloween night, October 31st, he was on duty at Portsmouth. He was standing on the corner talking to two other men, when these men, William Ewart, Thomas Campbell and Robert Campbell, came up to him, and William Ewart taking him by the throat, challenged him to fight. The constable was not anxious to scrap and walked away. The prisoner followed him, and his hand on the face, knocking him off the boardwalk. He was knocked down in the road, hit and kicked repeatedly. Witness said he recognized prisoner as one of those who hit and kicked him.

Cross-examined by Mr. Cunningham, witness acknowledged having a glassful of ale with George Holland, a special constable at seven o'clock. Witness denied positively having a drink with the above man at 4.30, that night, as stated at the previous trial, and also declared that he was not drunk.

Sterling Holland was the first witness called by Mr. Cunningham. Witness said that he was standing with Potter and Holland when Ewart and the two Campbells came up. Ewart touched him on the shoulder and said "Good evening, George." The constable then stepped up and hit him in the face, pushing him off the boardwalk. Witness swore that Ewart did not hit the constable, but that the latter hit Ewart numerous times. Witness also received a crack on the head from the club. Witness said Potter was drunk.

Robert Campbell was next called and told the same story as the previous witness. In reply to Mr. Whiting witness said he did not see Potter on the ground at any time.

William Ewart, the prisoner, was next called, and said he was walking down the street with his two friends. As he passed Potter he said good-evening to him and passed on. Potter followed him, pushing him off the boardwalk and hitting him in the face with his fist and club.

"Dismissed" was the only word used by the judge in disposing of the case.

Another Scrap.

Quite a spirited fistie encounter took place last evening in a downtown hotel, between an officer and a citizen. The visitor had been around the city all day in a half-intoxicated condition, and was looking for fight. The Kingstonian had met him two or three times and once had received a slap in the face from him, which he took as a joke. They met again in the evening, and one word brought on another until they went at it. The gentleman from outside the city will carry away many a bruise, but he remains here for quite a while, as he resists the trouncing he justly deserved.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Recommendations For Meeting To-Night.

Reports of the management, property and finance committees, will be presented at the Board of Education meeting, to-night.

The management committee's report will include the following recommendations:

On communication of Dean Lavell, asking that Mr. Ettinger be authorized to give students in pedagogy a course of about twenty lessons in music, that request be granted, provided lessons are given in room provided, heated and lighted by the university, and that the work does not interfere with Mr. Ettinger's regular duty.

Re letter of Miss G. Cottle, asking permission for representatives of the Humane Society, to address pupils of the schools, and to form bands of mercy, committee regrets that the curriculum will not permit of the request being granted.

Committee recommends that Miss English be transferred from Central-Louise school, and placed in charge of class taught by Miss Hewton, granted one year's leave of absence, and that Mr. Lee be placed in charge of Miss English's class until the close of the model school term.

That the grant made by Queen's University to the board for pedagogy, be approved; Collegiate Institute, $1,675; public schools, $775.

That tender of Uglow & Co., for pupils' supplies for 1908, $1,301.81, be accepted, only one tender being received.

That as the senior fourth domestic science class of Frontenac school is only twelve pupils, it be filled with girls of the senior third grade.

The property committee will recommend:

Acceptance of offer of a Brantford house to supply domestic science department with baking powder free for one year; that one acre of land, between Collegiate Institute and Victoria school, be ploughed this fall and prepared next spring for football campus for pupils.

The committee reports on the condition of the different schools. A fire escape was asked for Rideau school, but there are no funds for that purpose.

CHILDREN ARE HEALTHY.

Record Attendance at the Kingston Schools.

That Kingston school children are a healthy lot, is amply shown by the record of attendance, and the returns of last month go to show that there was an attendance of a little over 90 per cent. of the total number on the roll. Last month was a record month but ever since the schools re-opened after the summer months, the attendance was good.

"There has been comparatively little sickness among the children," remarked Inspector Kidd, to-day. "A rare case of scarlet fever and the like have been properly attended to, but there has been nothing whatever, to disturb the classes."

At the regular meeting of the board to be held to-night, Inspector Kidd will have a report to submit relative to attendance, and it is almost certain to be a most encouraging one.

HOW A LETTER WENT AS TRAY IN TORONTO.

Deputy Postmaster-General Cites a Case Where Letter Was Lost For a Quarter Century, Then Delivered.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Dr. Coulter, deputy postmaster-general, tells an interesting story in connection with a Toronto letter from New York which was delayed for twenty-five years in its delivery.

In 1880 a citizen of Toronto who had been absent some time in Europe wrote his wife on his arrival in New York that he would be home in two days. The letter was filled with affectionate language, and the happy wife looked forward with delight to the meeting again with his family. The letter on its arrival in Toronto fell behind a large letter rack, and remained there until the renovation of the post-office two years ago, when it was found and forwarded to the department at Ottawa. Dr. Coulter, deputy postmaster-general, read the letter and instituted proceedings. He learned that the daughter of the lady to whom the letter was addressed had removed to Port Hope, and the letter was sent on.

A few days afterwards Dr. Coulter received a letter from the daughter of the writer of the beloved missive, informing him that her mother, who should have received the letter, was dead, and that her father had been killed in a railway wreck, while on his way home from New York two days after writing the letter. The letter will be kept as a priceless treasure, as it was the last message of affection to his wife and family.

RODE ON A RAIL.

William Olmstead, Youngstown, Tarrad and Feathered.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Nov. 14.—William Olmstead, of Youngstown, was tarred and feathered by fifteen irate citizens and then ridden out of town on a rail, followed by a hoisting crowd. Olmstead was so humiliated at his treatment that he came to Niagara Falls to see a lawyer and discuss the advisability of instituting a lawsuit.

Olmstead is employed at the dryer in the village, and is boarding with a woman named Mrs. Wagner, whose husband left the house a few days ago owing to the alleged attention which Olmstead was showing to his wife. According to the men who participated in the assault, Olmstead was told to stop his attentions, but he heeded at his advisers.

While he was at work a party of fifteen men, wearing masks, broke into the dryer and dragged Olmstead from his work. They took him to a secluded spot in the town, doused him with tar and feathers, and then rode him out of the village on a rail.
