The element of style is quite a consideration with MCKAY FURS. Every garment is thoroughly up-to-date and distinctly high grade. We throw down the gauntlet of STYLE and VALUE to the entire Fur Trade. Make your own comparisons. Because we're showing so many original and decidedly new ideas in Furs, don't run away with the impression that we are high-priced. We challenge any store in Canada to show better values than we're giving.

AFTER A RAILWAY

FARMERS HOPE TO SEE PROJECT GO AHEAD.

Seeking to Have a Change of the Judicial Centre from Bryson to a Point on the Line of Railway.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—A step towards a railway through the southern part of the province is being taken, and another is to be held at Russell. A private company will ask for a charter and farmers hope to see the project go ahead. The line would run from Kempsville junction or mountain across to the Grand Trunk line at or near South Indian.

Almost all the mayors in the Pontiac district have signed a petition to the attorney-general of Quebec, asking that the judicial centre be changed from Bryson to a point on the line of railway. The Ottawa bar also forwarded a similar resolution. The attorney-general will, himself, look into the cause of complaint, which is the difficulty of access and ingress in bad weather.

The vacancy upon the directorate of the Bank of Ottawa, caused by the death of John Mather, has been filled by the election of Charles W. Wainwright, president of the St. Anthony Lumber company.

C. B. McDonald, of Cornwall, a mail clerk on the Ottawa and New York railway, had a thrilling experience a night ago. It appears that the train was pulling into Cryler, but stopped just outside to do some shunting. Mr. McDonald, thinking that the station had been reached, stepped off in the darkness to what he supposed was the platform. In place of that he was walking off the bridge over the Nation river, and McDonald immediately cried out for help, but he could save himself had fallen thirty feet to the water below. At the same time striking out for the shore. However, Peter, a big, stout fellow, dove heroically to the rescue, but he could not swim and soon became immersed himself. Train conductor George Sawyer, by this time, had gone to the assistance, and managed, with their own assistance, to get the others out. The water was chilly, and the three were exhausted when they were rescued. They were given dry clothes and not warmed up, and are none the worse for their thrilling experience.

CHARGE OF NEGLIGENCE.
HUSBAND WAS FOUND WITH ANOTHER WOMAN.

When She Came Back From a Visit at Winnipeg—Evidence Being Taken in the London Bribery Case—Jurisdiction Questioned.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—Frederick Sheppard, a butcher, will go before a jury on the charge of neglecting to provide the necessities of life for his wife and family. Mrs. Sheppard said she returned five or six months ago from a six month visit to her son-in-law at Winnipeg, to find her husband living with another woman. She has six children living, five under the age of fourteen.

A motion to quash the indictment was made, and other legal objections were introduced, this morning, at the opening of the trial of John O'Gorman, W. J. Mulloy, Daniel Wylie and George Reid, charged with bribery in the Hyman-Gray bye-election, in London, in 1905. Judge Winchester, himself, raised the question of jurisdiction while E. F. B. Johnston, the defence lawyer, took formal objections to the indictment of arguing that the charges were not sufficiently specific and claiming the prosecution was barred by lapse of time. It was decided by the court to take evidence this afternoon. A plea of "not guilty" was entered. E. J. Silton, one of the defendants mentioned, did not appear in the indictment. He may be used as a crown witness.

Hon. Dr. Beasme, minister of public works has left Grace Hospital, where he underwent an operation, last week, and is now at his home in Windsor, where he will rest for a week or two before resuming his official duties. The operation was not so successful as it had been hoped it would be.

Many reports received in the department of lands and forests and lumber, indicate that the lumber cut in Ontario this season will be below the average of the last few years. In some cases the operators have not been able to secure all the men they desire and in others they are limiting the cut with a view to keeping down expenses.

WORKING ON MYSTERY.
Says the Duke and Old Duke Were Identical.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 18.—"The Duke of Portland and Thomas C. Bruce were undoubtedly one and the same person. I know for a fact that Bruce did not die in 1864, and when the casket was placed in Higginette cemetery it contained nothing but lead. Bruce simply became tired playing a double role, and went back as the Duke of Portland, actually dying fourteen years later."

Such is the statement of William Huckle, detective, now living here, who worked for years on the now famous case. When first put on the case, Huckle tried to interview the manager of Baker St. Bazaar, but he could not be found. He was nearly killed once by thugs, hired to frustrate his attempt to get information about the false funeral. He asserts a woman who knows much inside information was shipped away, and is now living in Canada, not far from Toronto.

Huckle is leaving next week for England to give evidence in the case.

MARE IN SAD FLIGHT.
Whinnying of Colt Led to Its Rescue.

A mare owned by John Corbett, hardware merchant, was in a sad plight on Friday morning. While in a field near Kingston Mills, the animal got into a marsh, and was unable to free itself. The little colt following its mother commenced to whinny most piteously, and this led to the poor animal's rescue. Thomas Carson was out shooting in that vicinity, and when he heard the noise, he at once went to the scene. The animal could not move, and was only released with the assistance of a stout rope and a team of horses. The colt made all the noise it could, and when the mare was released danced around in great glee. The mare suffered to no extent, as the result of her experience.

Prisoners at Thorold Got a Bad Fright.

Macpherson and an unknown "hobo," charged with attempting to break into Joseph Battle's residence, were locked in the cells. Influence of Liquors.
Only fourteen per cent. of the convicts in Canadian prisons last year, according to the report of the minister of justice, were total abstainers, while forty-four per cent. were reported as moderate drinkers, and forty-two per cent. as intemperate. Boys under twenty years of age constituted eleven per cent. of the prison population, notwithstanding the acknowledged unsuitability of penitentiaries for immature criminals. The minister says: "Not more than one in a thousand of this class is benefited by a penitentiary experience." About seventeen per cent. of the inmates are absolutely illiterate; not more than ten per cent. have enjoyed the advantage of a good common school education.

Few Vacant Houses.
Vacant houses in Kingston are very scarce. So say some of the people who are at present endeavoring to secure a home. At this time of the year the best houses are all taken up for the winter, and house hunting is indeed no easy task.

Presented With Baton.
The British Columbia Saturday Sun set gives very high praise to J. Wyatt Trenchell, bandmaster of the 66 B.C.C.R. Vancouver, in telling of the presentation made to him by the members of the band. The band's secretary, Mr. Warren, said the members had only one regret, that he had not been their leader all summer, that under his leadership they were sure of rendering much better concerts than they had done in the past, and that the baton they presented him with was a small token of the esteem felt for him as leader, and as an expression of the comradeship existing.

The baton is of ebony, silver-mounted, and inscribed thus: "Presented to J. Wyatt Trenchell, by the bandmen of the 66 B.C.C.R. Vancouver, B.C. 1907." Much applause greeted the recipient after his gracious speech, and he thanked the handsome gift. Vancouverites regret that the Sunday concert season is at the close.

Mr. Trenchell is well known here, and is the father of Mrs. Angus Orr, Wellington street.
