THE MAGISTRATE.

Iouse Was Not Proven-Two

Vagrants Were Remanded.

"Your worship, we tramped around looking for work until our feet were blistered," said Thomas Aiken in the police court, Saturday morning. Aiken and William Lawrie were charged with vagrancy, and both of them claimed that they had been unable to secure employment. They had walked all the way from Peterboro to Kingston, arriving here on Thursday. Thursday night they were given shelter at the police station, and Friday night, were locked up as vagrants.

off this season.

Two lads, charged with playing truant, appeared before Magistrate Farrell, to-day, and were discharged, after being given a severe lecture. The parents and school teneher were called to give evidence.

Some of the young men on Wolfe Island held a dance in the town hall there, on Friday night. Seventy-five couple were present, and spent a most emjoyable time. Dancing was indulged in until 3.30 a.m. McAuley's orchestra went over for the occasion.
