LOCAL NOTES AND THINGS IN GENERAL

Occurrences In The City And Vicinity—Other Brief Items of Interest Easily Read And Remembered.

Pictures framed neatly at Wess's. New Waterman fountain pens for Christmas, at Best's.

Arthur F. Freeman, of Peterboro, is a visitor in the city for a few days. "Mental plasters." The strong kind are sold at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store.

Messrs. William Phillips, William Mullin, "Gus" McDonald and Robert Bajus will leave in a few days on a two weeks' trip to New York.

"Beef extracts." Buy them at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Phone 290.

The steamer Island Wanderer brought quite a number of passengers from Cape Vincent to-day. Five horses were taken over at two o'clock for Cape Vincent people.

One week from to-day, "Wednesday, December 11th, McConkey's and Huyler's Christmas ready will arrive at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store.

One of the classes at Sydenham school was dismissed on Tuesday, to allow the room to be furnished to prevent the spread of scarlet fever, so prevalent in the city at the present time. The members of the class will resume their studies to-morrow.

Sleep lively to Wess's for photos.

Gold eye glasses, new styles, at Best's. Eyes tested after Christmas.

There was a thin coating of ice along the harbor front, this morning, and some of the lower ships are frozen solid. Every day boys are skating at Anglin's slip and on Dead Man's Bay and report the ice very solid, as long as one keeps near the shore.

Picture frames cheap at Wess's.

The most beautiful display of high-class candy for Christmas will be on sale at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store next week. McConkey's and Huyler's are sold there.

T. J. Lockhart, real estate agent, has this week sold a brick residence on Frontenac street, belonging to John Oford, general merchant of Sydenham, formerly business manager of the Whig. The purchaser is Charles George, a prosperous farmer living near the city on the Bath road.

GIRL'S BRANCH SUCCESSFUL

At Tea and Sale on Tuesday Afternoon.

The tea and sale of the G. B. of the W.A. of St. George's Cathedral, held at the home of Miss Macaulay, King street, on Tuesday, was well attended. The treasurer, Miss Annie Greggman, was at the head of the table. Miss Gladys Burton, selling sweets in the hallway. Within the drawing-room, Miss Macaulay and Miss Helen Rogers, the very popular superintending of the society, received the guests, who bought largely of the pretty wares disposed of by Miss Jane Stafford, Miss E. Badley, Miss L. Tandy, and Miss Kathleen Daly. Miss Murray and Miss White looked after the tea and coffee. Miss E. Rogers, Miss D. Lee, and Miss L. Riley dispensing the same. The polished table, with its white carnations and stasia in the centre, with a broad scarlet satin ribbon winding round among the lace and silver and crystal, looked very pretty. The society is very grateful to Miss Macaulay for giving her house for the affair, and to all those who came in during the afternoon. About $80 was the result of the day's labours.

Tea At Mrs. L. L. Henderson's.

Mrs. Laurence Henderson's pretty house on Bagot street was thrown open to the Aid Society, on Tuesday Congregational church, on Tuesday and a tea and sale was held there. Mrs. J. Charles Villiers received with Mrs. Henderson, after Mrs. R. J. McKelvey and Miss Hattie Berry had collected ten cents from the visitors, at the door. The work table, containing many pretty things, was in charge of Mrs. James Massie, Mrs. James Heid, Mrs. Thomas Barlow, Mrs. Cleaham, and Mrs. P. Milo. The homemade things had Mrs. James Henderson, Mrs. William Smith, and Miss Effie Robertson in charge, while candies were sold by Miss Edith Macaulay, Miss Laura Neish and Miss Isabel Hewitt. The tea-table, very prettily adorned with white carnations, had Mrs. George Robertson and Mrs. James Hendry presiding at it, with Miss Hazel Massie, Miss Edith Driver, Miss Marjory McMahon, and Miss Ina Miller assisting. The proceeds came nearly to $80.

AT THE BIJOU.

Caruso and Scotti Sing—Fine Picture Drama.

One of the songs denounced as a de-aceration of the Sabbath by the Evangelical Union, will be sung by Emilio de Gogorza, at the Bijou, to-day and to-morrow, as an accompaniment to the fine melodrama "A Workman's Tragedy," or "The Story of a Lost Child." It is Dubois' great work, "God My Father, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me." At each performance during this week, in the afternoon and after 10 p.m., Caruso and Scotti will sing their splendid duet "The Power of Destiny."

Hand Was Crushed.

William McIlwain, a young man, living on Ontario street, and employed on the steamer Saginaw, met with a painful accident on Wednesday morning. The Saginaw is at the government dry-dock, undergoing repairs, and it was while the work was proceeding that the accident occurred. One of the large blocks, used in the hoisting of the vessel, fell from its place, falling on the young man's left hand, crushing the member severely. He was removed to his home, and attended by Dr. Robert Hanley, but will be confined to his home for some time. It was at first feared that he would have to lose one of the fingers, but happily, this was not the case.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

Coat Thief Sentenced in Police Court.

"Your worship, I have been drinking, and when I am drinking I do not know what I am doing."

This was the statement made in the Police court, by William Brownley, when arraigned on the charge of stealing an overcoat, the property of F. G. Armstrong, photographer. Brownley was arrested on Princess street, on Tuesday afternoon, by Acting Detective James Bates and Constable Timmerman. Mr. Armstrong had complained to the police earlier in the day, about the loss of his overcoat, and the officers had been on the lookout for a coat, with the result that they saw Brownley wearing it.

At the time of his arrest the prisoner gave the name of Shantouhouse, but this was only a "fake," as he admitted afterwards, that his right name was Brownley. Under this name the police knew him, as he had been before the court before, charged with theft. When locked up on a charge of drunkenness on Monday, the prisoner gave the name of Shantouhouse, and under this name, he was tried.

Brownley admitted stealing the coat, but blamed liquor for his trouble.

"It was my first offence, and I was never in the police court before," said Brownley.

"That's not so," remarked the court, "you were convicted of theft in this court before."

His worship then sentenced the prisoner to six months in jail.

A. Chisholm, managing-director of the Perfect Brick and Tile company, of Washburn, was charged by Alfred Tanner, a young Englishman, with the non-payment of wages, to the amount of $8.60. Tanner stated that he had been hired by Mr. Chisholm, of Kingston, and from the evidence produced, the court decided that Tanner was entitled to the amount mentioned, and ordered the defendant to pay up, also the costs of the court, $1.85.

The magistrate said that no reason had been set forth by the defence to show why the money had been withheld. The young man was out of work, was compelled to pay his board and had been unjustly kept waiting for his money.

Angus Grillon, a drunk, who was discharged in Police court yesterday, was fined $3 and costs.

BETHEL YOUNG LADIES

Held a Mission Tea Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

The Bethel church held their annual sale and concert in the Sunday school hall last evening. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and in the afternoon the pretty ranged booths, where dainty homemade articles were offered for sale, were well patronized. From five till seven o'clock supper was served and so large was the number of guests that the ladies in charge were kept busy over the allotted time.

An excellent programme was given in the evening. Two recitations by Miss S. Moxley were greatly enjoyed, and the singing of Little Miss Gravelly was a feature. The Bethel church quartette, composed of Messrs. Wilson, Thompson, F. Haffner and Allan Haffner, contributed two fine numbers.

Quite a most sum was made by the ladies, who deserve great credit for their work. Rev. Mr. McKenzie presided at the concert in the evening.

Latest Militia Orders.

The following militia orders are of interest to Kingston:

14th P. W. O. Rifles—Lieut. H. L. Bodwell is transferred to reserve of officers, Engineers.

Queen's Own Rifles—Capt. R. K. Barker is granted brevet rank of major.

Canadian Army Service Corps, No. 3 company—To be major, Capt. F. Wagner, of the 1st W. B. White, transferred October 1st, 1907. To be captain, Lieut. G. H. Gillespie, vice Capt. Waugh, promoted October 1st, 1907.

Corps of Guides—Capt. A. W. Richardson, promoted to rank of major.

Local Victorian Nursing.

At the meeting of the executive of the local branch of Victorian Order of Nurses, yesterday afternoon, Miss Oford reported that during November she had attended eleven cases and made 144 visits. The patients consisted of two Methodists, three Anglicans, one Baptist, one Presbyterian, one Congregationalist, one Salvationist and one Roman Catholic. Fees collected amounted to $13.25.

What Will Be Done.

A circular has been issued by the education department giving notice that students who have been admitted to the model school, this year, pending the result of their examination appeals, and whose appeals have been sustained, may complete their professional course and will receive certificates provided that they pass the departmental examination next year.

State Of The Taxes.

Of the city's taxes, which in all amount to a list of $164,000 this year, only $3,300 now remains unpaid. By the end of the week, Collector Bartels expects that this amount will be reduced almost to $2,000. There will be a very small amount unpaid by the end of the year. The delinquents are being pressed for payment.

Excavations Will Cease.

When the Montreal street sewer is completed there will be no more drain excavations dug till next spring. Last winter excavations continued for both water and sewers, but the cost was found to be too large. It's expensive to excavate in the winter.

Christmas Cards.

The Whig has a fine assortment of elegant Christmas cards, for large or small orders, with printed message.

All Christmas goods engraved free of charge, at Best's.

It's hard to fatten a purse on a slender income.

Nature Works The Cure.

If you try to doctor an overworked stomach and a clogged liver you often add to your troubles. The stomach that has been living on rich foods needs a rest, not drugs. Diet yourself and leave drugs alone. To get the stomach and liver back into shape you must eat moderately, skip a meal occasionally, eat your food slowly, take lots of exercise, and be wary of strong cathartic pills. The bowels may be gotten into working order by the use of the following prescription: One ounce sweet spirits of nitre, four ounces syrup of rhubarb and one ounce compound vinosa. Take a dessertspoonful in water after meals and at bedtime.
