NOMINATIONS MONDAY

ALDS. ROSS AND TOYE FOR THE MAYORALTY.

Some of the Aldermanic Candidates—There May Be Acclamations in Sydenham, Ontario and Victoria Wards.

On Monday, the nominations for Mayor, Aldermen and school trustees will be made. The mayoralty nominations will take place in the city hall, commencing at ten o'clock. Ald. Ross and Toye will be the candidates, and after being nominated, they will address the electors. Mayor Mowat will also speak, and give a summary of the city's financial standing.

The likelihood is that both Ald. Toye and Ross will resign their seats in the city council as ward representatives. They do not require to do this, but the city will be saved the expense of a further aldermanic election if they do. The mayor-elect would necessarily have to drop out as a ward alderman, and it will save trouble if both gentlemen resign at once. Both of them are satisfied to do so, and the city council will receive their resignations, and provide for the election of two aldermen in Sydenham and Frontenac wards.

The nominations for aldermen and school trustees will take place in the various wards from twelve o'clock noon till one o'clock. It is known that Mr. Chown will receive no opposition in Victoria ward, in view of the independent course he has taken in the council during the year. There is also a possibility that Ald. Craig will not be opposed in Sydenham ward, and Ald. Kent in Ontario ward. Who will be Ald. Elliott's opponents in St. Lawrence ward is not known, but Ald. Elliott will be elected alderman. In Ontario ward, Dr. J. Harty, F. Harrison and John Hughes may be the candidates. Bideau ward will have Ald. Douglas up for reelection. What opponents he will have is not yet known. In Frontenac ward, Ald. Robertson and Ex-Ald. Tait are in the field. The latter has been bowled out two years in succession, but is going to give the electors one more chance to say whether they want him to re-present them.

The school trustee candidates are an uncertainty, but it is said there may be contests in several wards.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The House of Industry. Kingston, Dec. 28.—(To the Editor) Permit me as one who was present to bear testimony to the very creditable manner in which the aged and infirm were catered to in the House of Industry on Christmas. The refuge has undergone many improvements, and for these the committee on domestic economy (a committee of ladies), is to be largely credited. The women, led by its chairman, have been most devoted in their attention to the care of the poor, and the committee on Christmas are to be commended for the typical of what are shown them all the while. The people, too, have been kind, and they have been generous in their contributions. Christmas only began a week of festivity, and New Year's will see another epoch introduced by these old people very happily.

There was a large representation of the directors present on Christmas, including Mr. Croft, the treasurer; Mr. Meek, the secretary; Mrs. Jordan, chairman of the domestic committee; Ald. Chown and his daughters; Mr. and Mrs. M. Strange, Mrs. Birch and Miss Archer. There were also several visitors. The proceedings were enlivened with greetings from the directors, carols and recitations from the inmates. In evidence of their popularity, the old people cheered the superintendent and the matron.—COM.

THE FIRE COMMITTEE

AWARDS A TENDER FOR MORE HOSE.

Ald. Ross Says the Changes Made in the Department This Year Have Been An Improvement.

The fire committee had a meeting yesterday afternoon to open tenders for 100 feet of hose, Alderman Ross (chairman), Henderson, Angrove and Robertson were present.

Four tenders were received, the lowest being ninety cents and one eighty-nine cents for Peerless hose. Rubber has gone up ten cents a foot in the past year. The chairman said he did not think the tender of eighty-nine cents was good, as the manufacturers did not seem anxious to furnish hose at less than a certain figure. The city had trouble twice before when it accepted certain tenders for hose, the figures of which were below the price quoted by manufacturers to their agents. However, the tender was a tender, and he doubted if the committee could do anything else than accept the lowest.

The eighty-nine cent tender was that of W. A. Mitchell, hardware merchant, and it was decided to accept it.

On motion of Ald. Angrove the committee extended to the chairman its appreciation of the able and courteous manner in which he had presided over the committee's deliberations. Ald. Ross replied that it was a pleasure to have worked with the committee this year. He thought that the changes in the fire department had been to the advantage to the city, as the last test run two weeks ago had proved.

The Property Committee. The city property committee was also to have met yesterday afternoon, but there was no particular business for it to transact and it did not convene. The committee's latest attention to the city buildings consists of storm windows for the various offices. Heretofore, only one or two offices have had these double windows, strange to say. The treasurer's department is one of the offices to be newly fitted with them. The windows will save fuel. The property committee has done good work this year and it is hoped that the committee which succeeds will follow in its footsteps in the way of making necessary improvements to the city buildings.

Grand Opera House. There was a very large audience at the Grand Opera House last evening. The Partello Stock company seem to have won favor from the theatre-going public in this city if the nightly large audiences is any criterion. The piece presented was "Faust," in which the various members of the company performed their allotted parts with credit. Alice Kennedy, as "Marguerite," gave a fine conception of her difficult part. Jesse Scott was clever in the role of Martha. The part of "Mephisto," was ably handled by F. M. Sibbey. G. Kast's "Faust" was a fine piece of work, both in his role of philosopher and in his betrayal of Marguerite. The other members of the company in their minor parts added greatly to the success of the piece. The costumes and scenery were appropriate to the play. The scene depicting the revels of the demons was grand.

To-night the company will give Gilda's popular play of "Under Two Flags," and on Monday night, "We Never Sleep" will be the bill.

"Dora Thorne." Lovers of the good and beautiful in fiction will no doubt be gratified to learn that an opportunity will be given them to follow the career of gentle "Dora Thorne," the story that made Bertha M. Clay famous, in a dramatization which has been put forth this season. The splendid production will be seen at the Grand on Tuesday, December 31st.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin." In this year's production of A. F. W. Martin's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," no expense has been spared in securing the very best people in the profession to fill the cast. The Martin show has the best people, the finest scenery, the most elaborate effects, the best and everything requisites to a first-class production of Uncle Tom's Cabin. At the Grand on New Year's Day, matinee and night.

All Passed. Frances Hayes, J. A. Dennis and Perry Aylesworth, students of the Kingston Business College, head of Queen street, were successful in passing the recent civil service examination. One of them has already been appointed to a good government position. On account of the high standing obtained by the students of the Kingston Business College, ten have been appointed, within a very short time, to excellent positions under the dominion government.

Stole Minister's Overcoat. A stole thief entered the home of Rev. C. A. Sykes, William street, and made off with the minister's fur-lined overcoat, and thus far, no trace of it has been found. The coat was left in a wardrobe with other wearing apparel, but the stole was alone missing. The case was reported to the police.

Sleighting Is Poor. The rain of Friday night made the sleighing very bad in the city. To-day the sleighing again made their appearance on the streets.
