Our Artillery Will Compete With Britain's Corps.

Steamer Aground Off Cumberland Coast--Papers in Druce Case to Go to Washington.

London, Jan. 3.—The papers relating to the charge of perjury, against Robert C. Caldwell, the witness in the Druce case, have been forwarded to Washington, through the foreign office. They include the depositions upon which the warrant was granted, and the warrant itself. It is also proposed to send a copy of the report of the exhumation of the Druce coffin made by Prof. Pepper.

The British steamer, Yucatan, from

New Orleans, for Liverpool, is aground near Egmont, off the coast of Cumberland. The Yucatan is a vessel of 1,793 tons.

It is understood that at the meeting in the spring the council of the National Artillery Association will give its sanction to the proposal to hold competitions between the British Volunteer Artillery, and the Canadian Artillery; every three years, the meetings to take place alternately in Britain and Canada.

TO PREVENT X-RAY BURNING.

Professor Has Hit Upon a Simple Method.

Vienna, Austria, Jan. 3.—Prof. Jeksch, of this city, has made a valuable discovery of a method for preventing the burning of the skin during the use of X-rays. He covers the part of the body to be examined with a silver plate two hundredths of a millimeter (one millimeter equals .0394 inch) thick, enclosed in a cellulose covering. Experiments have proved that the skin thus protected suffers no injury, while the influence of the rays is in no way hindered.

An unknown man committed suicide at Montreal by shooting himself on the street.

At Fort William, Ont., Mayor Murphy was re-elected mayor by acclamation.

BUCKET FELL ON MAN.

A Fatal Accident at the Trethewey Property.

Cobalt, Ont., Jan. 3.—George Kelly, an employee of the Trethewey mine, was killed, Wednesday night, in the No. 2 shaft. A bucket had been standing on the fifth-foot level, and in some way, which cannot yet be accounted for, slipped off and fell on Kelly, killing him.

Kelly was twenty-three years of age, and single. He came from Matava.

The Largest Vegetable.

"Did you ever hear the story about the largest vegetable in the world?" asked a Portsmouth resident of a Kingston policeman, to-day.

"No, I did not," was the reply. "Please explain."

"Well, it is about the two policemen sleeping on one (beat)."

QUIET A CURIOUS PLOT

To Murder Russia's Dowager Empress Unearthed.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 3.—The police have arrested nineteen persons, accused of conspiring to murder the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna. On her return from abroad, three weeks ago. According to them, the plot was of a most ingenious nature, and the conspirators were so certain of success that they inserted an announcement in the death column of the Novoye Vremya, of December 11th, concerning Marie Feodorovna Romania, inviting friends to a requiem mass at a fictitious church, Alexander Nevsky Monastery. The whole affair, however, is veiled in secrecy.

'CHEERFULNESS' IS SECRET

How to Be Young and a Dad at Eighty-Six.

New York, Jan. 3.—Bubbling over with cheerfulness, John Henry Thiry bids defiance to Father Time. He celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday this week. With his two-day-old daughter on his arm and a glass of home-made wine in his hand, he drank a health to his lovely young wife.

"Cheerfulness is the secret of long life," he said last night. "Years are no measure of man's span. I am younger today, than I was twenty years ago. My youth will be renewed the longer I live."

"They used to think it remarkable that at eighty-six I have been blessed with another child," he said. "Look at Francis there. What an ever-finer studion little chap."

He called to his son, aged three, a youngster glowing with perfect health. Henriette, aged six, clumped into the room with her little brother and climbed on Thiry's knee.

"Life can be made constantly beautiful if one fits it with variety," Thiry says. "Humdrum is what makes a man grow old. I was old once. That was thirty years ago when I had permitted business cares to weigh me down. I retired from business, came out to Long Island City, built a home and started to grow young again. I'm still growing."

SUING FOR DAMAGES.

A Libel Case Against the London Free Press.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Robert Reid, of this city, commissioner of the Transcontinental railway, has entered an action for libel against the London Free Press, and claims damages to the extent of $20,000. The case will come up in the high court at Ottawa next week. Last February an enquiry, made by the public accounts committee, showed that a large quantity of envelopes were purchased by the Transcontinental railway commission, Toronto, of which John O'Gorman was a part. The order was turned over to the Barber-Ellis company, Toronto, it was claimed, with considerable profit. It was brought out in the enquiry that Mr. Reid suggested that the purchasing agent should deal with the Munroe commission.

The result of the enquiry appeared in the London Free Press with an editorial, commenting on buying through the commission instead of direct with the Barber-Ellis company, and pointed out that Mr. O'Gorman and a brother of Commissioner Reid were joint defendants in the London election conspiracy case.

DEATH OF MRS. ROGERS.

It Came As a Great Shock to Many.

A very sad death was recorded this morning, when, at eight o'clock, Mrs. Rogers, widow of the late Francis Rogers, passed away suddenly at her home, Gore street. The deceased had been a patient sufferer from her trouble for some time, and had been in a critical state several times last month, yet death came as a great shock to her family and to hundreds of warm Kingston friends. Mrs. Rogers had lived in the city, when her husband was connected with the Bank of Montreal. They later moved to Peterborough, when Mr. Rogers was made manager of the branch there. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Rogers had lived in the city, when her and has resided here for over five years. The deceased was a deeply attached member of St. George's cathedral congregation, where she was always a willing worker as long as her health permitted. Five daughters and one young son mourn one of the sweetest sympathies of the whole community.

MAKES A COMPLAINT.

Charges Too Lavish Use of Stars and Stripes.

Miss Minnie Davis, principal of the Wellington street public school, has a complaint to make. She charges that too lavish use is made of the Stars and Stripes in Kingston. Miss Davis says that she respects the Stars and Stripes, but states that in Kingston, the Union Jack should be given the first place. She further points out that several of the firms giving innumerable favors of late, have placed the Stars and Stripes to the front, and that the Union Jack has had no place whatever.

At the schools, Miss Davis says, that the children are being taught to respect and honor the Union Jack, and it is not very proper to have the children created by the Union Jack on every hand. She says that more prominence should be given the Union Jack.

BOXING BOUTS.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 3.—Boxing in Windsor was inaugurated last night, at Sprackling's gymnasium, a series of bouts being pulled off. Johnnie Wilson and "Skin" Skelly, Los Angeles, met in one of the finals and George Stockley and George Leabam, the latter of Halifax, in the other. Next Thursday Johnnie Wilson and Rose Indianapolis, will box ten rounds in the same ring.

RELATIONSHIP MAY BE DISSOLVED.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Attorney-General Bonaparte, when questioned, to-day, as to the truth of the statement that suit would soon be brought to dissolve the relationship between the Union and Southern Pacific railroads now that the Harriman system, would only say that the matter was under consideration, but was not prepared to either affirm or deny the report.

TO SHUT OUT CHINESE.

Melbourne, Jan. 3.—It is alleged that a huge conspiracy exists between the Chinese in the colony and their agents, in China, to defeat anti-immigration legislation and that a large gang of white men are accomplices, and have already made enormous profits. Premier Deskin has already taken steps to strengthen preventive measures.

A COIN 300 YEARS OLD.

Joseph Brophy, proprietor of Long Island Park, in summer, and a respectable resident during the winter, is out with a coin that for old age is the daddy of them all. It is an English farthing, which has been in circulation for nearly 300 years. In one side can be seen quite clearly the words: "This farthing is owned." Within a circle in centre of the coin words: "In Tethbury, 1699." The reverse of the farthing is so worn as to be unreadable.

DEBENTURES SOLD AT PAR.

The city of Kingston holds an enviable place in the selling of its debentures.

While some towns in Canada cannot sell their debentures at all, Kingston has just concluded the sale of $80,000 worth at par. This amount includes the light plant extension debentures. Kingston's financial position is sound, although its roads are not in the best of order.

REVENGE.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The production of gold fell in the United States last year, according to the preliminary report of the director of the mint, by $4,752,401, whereas the amount of silver produced was increased, by over one million fine ounces. Alaska gold production fell off a little more than $3,000,000.
