"THE BARS MUST GO" MUST BE PUT IN FORE-FRONT OF PLATFORM.

Dean Farthing Gives an Outline of a Temperance Policy—The Beginning of a Great Struggle.

Kingston, Jan. 7.—(To the Editor): There has recently been formed in the city of Toronto "The Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada," which will deal with all moral and social questions. So far it includes representatives of the Presbyterians, Methodists, Anglicans and the Lord's Day Alliance.

It seems to me that we must put in the fore-front of the platform this plank. "The bars must go."

No man who has studied the question can doubt that the bars are a curse to the country. They are a source of great temptation to our youth and are the cause of the most serious evils in connection with them that foster the treating system.

Local option is a grand thing and has been proved to work admirably in rural districts and in villages of under one thousand in population. In larger places, however, experience shows, that under existing circumstances, it cannot be enforced.

Prohibition absolutely will be even harder to enforce. The majority of men do not regard the taking of a glass of alcoholic liquor as a sin, and therefore resent the curtailing of their liberty in this respect.

It seems to me that a way must be found for men to obtain alcoholic liquors, and to obtain them legally, not by stealth. To force men to get by stealth what they feel they have a moral right to have, is to train them in deceit, and to foster a contempt for law.

What I would propose is the dispensary system, modified to meet our conditions in Canada. I would have all alcoholic liquors sold only in larger centres of population.

1. It would give thorough control over the sale of liquor, and would enable the regulation of hours, etc.

2. It would do away with the evils of the bar as a place of temptation.

3. It would destroy the treating system.

4. It would preserve the liberty of those who desire to obtain liquor, by giving them a legal way of getting it. It would not lessen the revenue from the trade which the country now obtains, as all the profits could be given to whatever the government might direct.

Much might be said about it, but I have treasured too much upon your space already. Most earnestly would I ask the fair minded men, who are not what would be called "temperance men"—though I hope they are temperate—to give their serious thought to this question.

Moderate drinkers will readily admit the evils of the bar, and especially of the treating system; and I feel sure will gladly support a scheme which would remove those evils and yet preserve the liberty of the citizen to legally obtain it, if he so desire. I am yours truly, J. C. FARTHING.

Ohlshinsky was tried at the last sitting of the sessions on the charge of defrauding Salway and Cohen, and pleaded he was misled by Ellenson.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

WHAT ALDERMEN WILL BE CHOSEN?

Ald. Gaskin For Board of Works and Ald. Givens For Light and Power—Some Other Possible and Impossible Appointments.

Who will be the chairman of this year's civic committees? Much depends upon them whoever they may be. There is no doubt but what Ald. Gaskin will again be chairman of the board of works. He is a gentleman of leisure, and devoted a great deal of his time last year to street work. No doubt he is anxious to continue on in his present position until the road rebuilding scheme is well advanced.

For chairman of the light, heat and power committee, Ald. Givens is mentioned. It is well known that he was scheduled for the chairmanship last year, but at the last moment a change was made, and Ald. Toye placed at the head of that committee on account of his intimate knowledge of the light-plant extension workings, the extensions being then about midway in progress.

Those are the two most important committees. For the others there is lots of available material. Ald. Kent should be retained as chairman of parks, as he did good work last year. Ald. Craig will, no doubt, be again placed at the head of the industries committee. Ald. Rigney might get fire and light. As yet he has never been chairman of a committee, having no particular desire to get in the way of those who really aspire and thirst for that honor. Ald. Elliott is mentioned as chairman of the water rates committee. There are other capable men in the council, but not enough chairmanships to go around. Aids. Chown and Nickle, for instance, have been proposed for the chairmanship of light, heat and power, and Ald. Carson as head of the board of works. It is not likely, however, that Ald. Gaskin will suffer his rival to supplant him in such an important position, even though both of them do belong to the same church.

Great Clearing Sale. Prevost, Brock street, has made a great reduction in price in the order and ready-made clothing department, also in the gent's furnishings. The stock is well assorted with new goods, and is well worth a visit.

Cures ordinary colds over night. Try this remedy, learn its value, and then depend upon it. In boxes, 25c. Sold only at Wade's drug store. Money back if not satisfactory.

Longshoremen Meet. The meeting of longshoremen, held on Wednesday night, was attended by a very large number, there being over two hundred members in attendance. There were no changes made in the schedule of wages, and a member informed the Whig, that the wages would be the same as they had been for the past five years. Everything is most satisfactory to the men.

Taking of Religious Census. At the meeting in Queen street Methodist church last night Rev. J. Charles Villiers referred to the taking of the religious census in the city, and announced that another meeting would be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening next when further arrangements would be completed for this undertaking. It is desired that there should be a large attendance at this meeting.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to induce or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to healaching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by all druggists.

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S.

Again Resound With the Tramp of Feet.

College re-opened for the winter term on Tuesday morning, and the fact that the spring "exams" are already in view was attested by the excellent attendance at the opening lectures. Many of the residents who have gone to take no thought for the morning, and are merry during the autumn term, are now applying themselves to their work with an earnestness which if maintained, will be rewarded on a nice Spring morning next April.

Physical Director Palmer has edited and published a booklet on the subject of physical training. In the little publication there have been left blanks for the filling in of special exercises for the individual members of the gymnasium classes, based upon the physical and medical examination which all have undergone. This system of specially adapted home training, to supplement the general exercises in the gymnasium, has already proved its excellent worth.

The Indian which stood in state in the physics building during the holiday season was returned to W. J. Baker's sign shop on Tuesday. The proprietor's patience was tried in the balance and was not found wanting.

A practice basket-ball match, between the senior teams of Queen's and the city Y.M.C.A., will be played in the latter's gymnasium to-day. The fact that Queen's will be the victor, and land the intercollegiate championship this season renders this game an interesting one.

An important meeting of the Queen's missionary association will be that of Saturday morning, when Prof. J. L. Morrison will speak on the subject, "The Place of Christianity in the Future of Africa."

The next monthly meeting of the year '07 arts will be of a social nature and the visitors already being named for its success.

From several points of view the college, Y.M.C.A. is the most significant of all student societies at Queen's. At all events the work in connection with the association has increased so rapidly that it is no longer deemed just to ask the officials to undertake the full responsibility of the many duties which now devolve upon them. Accordingly, the executive is now considering the advisability of appointing a general secretary who will receive a salary and will devote his entire time to the work. He will have charge of the book exchange which it is proposed to open next autumn, and will also be responsible for the publication of the Y.M.C.A. handbook, and for the management of the association's affairs in general.

Announcement of the week of prayer was made on the bulletin boards of the various buildings this week, and an active interest in the meetings is being manifested by many of the students.

A rumor has been current about the college to the effect that the cost of students' season rink tickets had been increased from $2 to $3. Many will be pleased to learn that this report is without foundation.

The debate committee is meeting frequently in anticipation of the final intercollegiate debate with Ottawa College, here on January 21st. Queen's will defend the negative of the subject, "Resolved, that the Canadian Government should establish a system of Old Age Pensions."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

CARLOTTA NILSSON IN "THE THREE OF US."

One of the Best Plays Presented Here This Season—A Strong Company Supported the Star—Large Audience Present.

Local theatre-goers were given a great treat last evening, when Carlotta Nilsson presented "The Three of Us," to a large audience. "The Three of Us" is a play in four acts, from the pen of Rachael Crothers, and deals with the life in a Nevada mining camp. The play is all laid in the west. In Nevada, but is perfectly clear of any gun play, cow boys, or any of the hair-raising climaxes that are generally found in productions that are laid in the west. The play deals with the sale of a mining property to an eastern syndicate, and the position one girl is placed in by being the confidante of both parties.

In the title role of Rhy Macchesney, Miss Nilsson clearly proved herself an actress of rare abilities, and fits into the above part as if it was built around her. From the first appearance of Miss Nilsson, the hold the audience, from roof to pit, held them and seemed to control them, in a manner that is possible to a very few; she had them, every one, going through her part with her—they laughed with her and cried with her. Miss Nilsson has a beautiful voice, excellent carriage and a manner on the stage entirely her own. She was ably supported by a good company, every part being well filled.

In the role of Stephen Townley, Frederick Tjessdale was all that could be desired, his work, especially in the third and fourth acts, being fine. Louis Bessford, the man who mixed things up a little, was ably portrayed by Clinton Lloyd, who handled his difficult part in a creditable manner. Rhy's two brothers, "Fleg" and "Sonnie," were taken by Forrest Winant, and Master Thomas Kelly. The former was a good character, one which in itself would teach a lesson, of the boy who fell, and would have plunged headlong, only for the restraining hand of his sister, the sister who a few hours afterwards has a fight for, to protect her good name. Mr. Winant had one of the best parts, one that gave him every chance to show his ability. The part of "Maggie," servant to the Macchesneys, was in the hands of Eva Vincent, and many a hearty laugh she caused. Mrs. Tweed Box, the wife of an Englishman, who owned a mine and wanted to sell, was handled by Miss Edna West, who proved herself capable of the trust.

Taken as a whole, it was one of the best plays that has been presented here in some time, a play in which all seemed to be utterly wrapped up in their parts, a company of which every member was picked.

"The Walls of Jericho." Laura Bart and Henry Stanford, who were with Sir H. Irving, on his last two American tours, and who were members of the great actor's company at the time of his death, are making their second American tour in "The Walls of Jericho," under the direction of Ernest Shigman. The play will appear at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, January 15th. Miss Bart made a fine record with Sir Henry Irving's company.

SPORTING NOTES. K.C.I. Should Do Well in Intercollegiate League.

The K.C.I. hockey team had a good practice at the Kingston skating rink last evening. Fourteen men were on the ice and all showed up well. This team should make a good showing in the junior intercollegiate.

Every team desiring to enter should have two representatives present, as matters of importance will be discussed. W. W. Gibson, donor of the junior cup, will likely address the meeting.
