LEFT FOR MONTREAL

QUEEN'S AND M'GILL TEAMS CLASH TO-NIGHT.

The Frontenacs Will Pull Themselves Together Again—Hockey and Other Sporting Notes. Queen's I hockey team left, at noon, to-day, for Montreal, to meet McGill to-night, in the first game of the senior I.C.H.U. series. Very few supporters accompanied the team, as it will run an excursion on January 31st when it meets Laval. The following will be the line-up: Bennett, goal; Macdonnell, point; Penneck, rover; Crawford, centre; Campbell, rover; George and Dobson, wings.

Cadets And Queen's.

Queen's II and Cadets I will come out on the covered rink, to-night, in the first game of the intermediate I.C.H.U. series. Both teams have been working hard and a battle royal is expected. The cadets had their last practice at the covered rink, on Thursday morning, from eight to nine and showed up well. They have a husky bunch of boys, and will give Queen's quite a go. Queen's II had its last work-out on Thursday and showed up well. Donohue, Hazlett and Lockett make an excellent defence, and they should be able to handle with ease the charges of the cadets' forwards. The following will line up for Queen's Goal, Donohue; point, Hazlett; rover, Hazlett; centre, Meikle; rover, Trimble; wings, Roberts and George. Noble Steacy will referee the game.

City League Games.

The City Hockey League opened, on Thursday evening, at the Royal open air rink, before a large number of spectators. Games were played in both the senior and junior series and were both fine, the teams being evenly matched and showing fine form. The first game was between Thistles and St. Georges, in the junior schedule, and resulted in a victory for the former, the score being 7 to 2. At half-time the score stood 7 to 1 for the victors. The teams lined up: Thistles—Lotto, goal; Murray, point; Little, rover; Davy and Knapp, wings; St. Georges—Smith, goal; Taylor, point; Mitchell, rover; McCartney, centre; Meikle, rover; Higgins and Bate, wings.

Will Strengthen Team.

The defeat of the Frontenac juniors by the St. Georges, on Wednesday night, has taught them their weak point, and they are now buckling right in to remedy them. The next game is on January 31st, and by that time they will be in fine condition. They had a fine work-out on the Royal rink this afternoon from four to five.

Ready For Ice Yachting.

The owners of ice boats are beginning to smile now that they see the ice coming. The men have their boats ready to "launch," as soon as the weather permits and some good sport will be in store for the sailors. A new boat will make their appearance on the ice this year, and will be a welcome addition to the fleet. A schedule of races will be arranged for local boats, and also with other nearby towns, when races will be held over each course.

Local Hockey Notes.

The St. Georges men feel justly proud over their victory on Wednesday night, and feel confident that they can do it again. They are still keeping mum and working away to better any of the weak points on the line-up. They have a well-balanced team, and with proper handling should show up well. Practice will bring confidence to the players, and that is what they want. The Regiopolis and Kingston Collegiate played a tie game on Zion rink, Thursday afternoon, the score being two all. At half-time no score had been made by either side. The first game of the senior O.H.A. series between Parkdale and the 14th, on Monday night, is arousing unusual interest in hockey circles. The Toronto team, according to reports, is a good one, and it feels confident it can trim the soldiers. The locals are not saying much, but are digging in good and proper, and will do all they can to spring a surprise on the western team. Last year, the first year the team

CITY ENGINEER CALLED UPON TO MAKE REPORT.

Matter Came Before Light, Heat and Power Committee, at Its Inaugural Meeting on Thursday. The first meeting of the new light, heat and power committee was held on Thursday afternoon, the chairman, Ald. Givens, presiding, with Ald. McCartney and Ald. Elliott were out of the city, and unable to attend. The session was a very short one, there being very little business before the committee.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Newspapers Picked Up By Reporters On Their Rounds. Glorious moonlight last night, wasn't it? Dr. Isaac Wood was in Harrow-Smith, yesterday. Sale of flannelette night dresses, 50c. There are great quantities of snow north of Sharbot at Gibson's Red Cross drug store. Kenneth Grimshaw returned from Ottawa, to-day, after visiting friends. Alfred Martin, of Sarnia, a former Kingstonian, is reported dangerously ill. Good strong camphorated oil, sold at Gibson's Red Cross drug store. Phone 230. The fire and light committee was called to meet this afternoon, for its first meeting of the year. Twenty per cent off all our stock of trunks, suit cases and valises. The Lockett Shoe Store. Francis Hepburn returned to Brownville, N.Y., to-day, after visiting his brother, at Loughboro Lake. The greatest of tonics, Psychine, is sold in Kingston at Gibson's Red Cross drug store. Fresh there. If the board of education will cut its budget by $2,000—and it can be done—the tax rate will still be kept at $2.90. Annual clearing sale of fall and winter suitings, $16, $18 and 20. Fit and workmanship guaranteed, at Waggoner's.

Reporters Barred.

The board of works held their first meeting, yesterday afternoon, but representatives of the press were not allowed to be present. The meeting was not opened when a Whig reporter arrived at the committee room at four o'clock and shortly after his arrival he was informed by the chairman of the board, Ald. Gaskin, that the meeting would not be open for the reporters. The alderman further stated that if there was anything to give to the public, it would be given later. The reporter then withdrew, feeling rather surprised at Ald. Gaskin starting out the new year with a "star chamber."

Jack Fraser, the clever Arnprior singer, who has been playing with Ottawa Victorians in the Stanley cup series, has been signed by Montreal.

At Lindsay Johnny K. finished fourth in the first heat in 2:32, second in the next in 2:34. Then he ran the third in seven seconds better and won the race.

Frederick Houston, formerly a steelpiece jockey, employed at varying times by E. Corrigan, E. Trotter and W. Gerst, died in Chicago last week of diphtheria.

The late Edward Hanlan attributed his extraordinary success to the fact that he believed he had the strongest back of any man in the world, at the time he was making his great records in rowing.

Charles Absolon, of Middlesex, and Metropolitan fame, who for so many years has been known as the "Grandfather of English cricket," is rapidly sinking, and his death is expected at any moment.

According to S. Sutherland Stafford, secretary of the home of rest for horses in London, there is at that resort an equine named Clarence, who is years old. His name is Clarence, and he is the property of General Murray Miller. Another famous one is the charger, Miss Sylvester, the property of Colonel Flyver.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Edward Murphy went through Lady Glided By. Edward Murphy, clerk in Gibson's drug store, had an experience, last evening, that he is likely to remember for some time to come. In company with a lady friend, he was skating below the cotton mill, about nine o'clock, when, without warning, the ice gave way beneath him and he was thrown into the ice waters. The rate at which the couple were going was all that saved the young lady from following the unfortunate young fellow into the water; the moment Murphy released her hand she glided over upon solid ice. Some people skating in the vicinity heard the young lady's call for help and were quickly on the scene; and in a few moments had Murphy safe on the ice. He had only been in the water a very short time, but nevertheless was nearly exhausted by the cold water. He recovered in a few moments and was able to proceed to his home. It was a very narrow escape. People who skate about the mill, especially at night, should not venture too far from the shore or from their companions.

Lillian Russell in "Wildfire."

Pretty Lillian Russell! She is lovelier than ever, vastly improved in art, charming, gracious and successful in "Wildfire," a comedy by George Broughurst and George Y. Hobart, which the celebrated American beauty will present at the Grand on Wednesday, Jan. 22nd. "Wildfire" would have to be a winner if the play were even half as good as its name, which is an inspiration. With Lillie-Lang-try's little masquerade as Mr. Jersey on the turf as its chief item of interest "Wildfire" is written with obvious appeal to the racetrack devotees of fashion.

Freshmen Say They Will Not Pay the Bijou Theatre Demands—Interest in the Journal's Story Competition. "We have as nice a building as you fellows now," was the remark of a medical student to a number of arts and science students one day this week. The pomp and ceremony attending the formal opening of the new laboratories building are things of the past and the medical students state that they are prepared to refute the charge to the effect that the pleasures of anticipation are greater than those of realization. For several years the "Medics" have been compelled to see magnificent new buildings rising up in connection with the other faculties of the university, whilst they have had to content themselves with the ancient building which, from the aesthetic point of view, at least, is not comparable with the remaining college buildings. But those who have visited the new laboratories building would have no hesitation in corroborating the medical's boast, "We have as nice a building as you fellows now."

The threatened airing in the police court of the Bijou theatre affair is practically in statu quo.

The secretary of the Alma Mater Society is in receipt of no communication regarding the matter. The practical science freshmen state that they are no more blameworthy than many of the arts and science students and that whosoever waits for them to pay $30 damages will see a century plant bloom many times.

Much interest is being taken in the Journal's short story competition.

Already several short stories have been submitted and doubtless many more will appear before February 1st, on which date the competition closes. "From Captive to Captain" is the subject of the weekly address at the college Y.M.C.A. this afternoon. A. Laing, B.A., will be the speaker. Mrs. Daniel Gordon entertained the lady students of the university at a very enjoyable tea, on Wednesday afternoon, at her home on the college grounds. The warmth of Principal and Mrs. Gordon's hospitality was well-known to the young ladies, and those of the first year were enabled to appreciate it on Wednesday. A number of the girls assisted the ladies who dispensed the coffee and ices.

An unusually large number of students have joined the Kingston Curling Club as a result of the special membership fee of $1.

Several student rinks will be permitted to take part in the bonspiel, which will be held here during the winter. Dashed Down The Street. Quite a little excitement was caused about nine o'clock, when a team of horses, owned by a farmer, ran away on Johnson street, Thursday night. The man was on his way home, and late in the afternoon, in a condition which could not manage the animals. He ran from Alfred street to Bagot street, before they were stopped. The man lay helpless in the bottom of the sleigh, and can feel thankful that the sleigh did not collide with something or run over somebody in their dash down the street. The man was taken to a downtown hotel and put to bed. The team, unhitched, was looked after till this morning, when the outfit was sent on its way home.

Members of St. James' Young Men's Social Club, held a jolly skating party, last night, on the rink at the Frontenac Business College.

One hundred and twenty people were present, and the skating was most delightful. Music was furnished by members of the 14th regiment band. At ten o'clock, the members of the club journeyed to the school room at St. James' church, where a short programme was given. Those contributing were Messrs. Shea, Smith and Percy Marshall. At the close of the programme, refreshments were served.

Repairs To Boats.

The mild weather of this month has given marine men the opportunity of making necessary alterations on their vessels, and they have taken advantage of it. Capt. Simmons, of the schooner Acadia, and Capt. Patterson, of the schooner Mary Ann Lyden, have been busy, and others are now waiting for good strong ice, so they can get at their work on the vessels. The government tug Trudeau will undergo alterations.

Walks In Bad Shape.

The walks throughout the city are in a very slippery condition. A young lady had a severe fall, last night, when coming from the Kingston skating rink. She was cutting across between the curling rink and the new medical building when she slipped and was thrown heavily to the ground. Luckily, no bones were broken and she was able to proceed to her home. An elderly lady also received a bad fall near the court house about six o'clock, and had to be assisted to her home on Division street by a friend.

Called To Rest.

J. L. Whiting, K.C., has received a cablegram from Commander Stokes, Hong Kong, telling of the death at Bournemouth, England, of Mrs. Simpson, widow of the late Isaac Simpson and mother of Mrs. Stokes. The remains are being forwarded to Kingston for burial in Cataract cemetery and within sight of her childhood home, she having been a daughter of the late Dr. Beamish. Mrs. Simpson has been very low in health for several years, and only the very best of care has spared her life till now. Her gentleness and charm of manner endeared her to the many she knew in Kingston, in her long and pleasant residence here.
