VIRTUALLY CONFIRMED

The Great Camp to Be Concentrated at Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 3.—If the plans which are now being provisionally made for a large military demonstration in connection with the Quebec tercentenary celebration are brought to maturity, it will mean that the militia camps in Ontario and Quebec for the coming season will be cancelled, and that the permanent corps with from 15,000 to 20,000 militia men will be assembled in Quebec in August.

been appointed to take charge of the tercentenary celebration, nothing further can be done in the matter. There is every reason now to believe that the tercentenary will be celebrated in August on the lines already proposed, but all the arrangements have yet to be made, and if things are to go ahead a board of officers will shortly be assembled in Quebec to provide for the accommodation of the troops.

ARE TO GET MEDALS

CONGRESS TO REWARD FOWLER AND HARTZELL

For Rescues in Lady Elgin Disaster—Students When They Saved Shipwreck Victims Nearly Fifty Years Ago.

Washington, March 3.—A bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to award gold medals to two bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church who were former students of Northwestern University, and to Edward Spencer, of California, who was also a student at that college, has been introduced by Congressman Poes, of Chicago.

The two bishops are Charles H. Fowler, now officiating in New York city, and Joseph C. Hartzell, missionary bishop for Africa. It is proposed to reward Bishop Fowler for heroic conduct in saving life when the steamship Lady Elgin was wrecked off Exanston in 1860.

Bishop Hartzell, while a student of Northwestern University, displayed heroism at the wreck of the schooner Storm in 1861. Edward Spencer, who is now a citizen of California, is credited with having seventeen lives on the day the Lady Elgin went down. He labored six hours.

The loss of the Lady Elgin was one of the greatest disasters on the great lakes. The vessel had about 400 persons aboard. It was run down by the schooner Augusta at 2:30 in the morning, September 8th, 1860. Drifting as far south as far as Winnetka the vessel began to break up.

Among those who lined the shore, willing and anxious to save life, were the students from Northwestern University and Garrett Biblical Institute. At the point where many of the drowning people were washed ashore there was a steep bank with no foothold. Those who could not reach ropes which were lowered to them were beaten back by the waves and undertow to watery graves.

Fowler was an excellent swimmer, and this fact enabled him to go far out from shore. Among those who rescued were Herbert Ingraham, M.P., founder of the Illustrated London News. Young Fowler also made a thrilling rescue of a father and son at one time.

Young Hartzell aided in the rescue of the victims of the Lady Elgin, but he especially distinguished himself in rescuing four sailors from the wreck of the schooner Storm early in May, 1861. While the schooner was breaking up Hartzell swam out from shore with a line, by means of which the marooned sailors were eventually rescued.

There has never been any official recognition of the deeds of these young men. SHOT HIMSELF. Man Got Into Water in Pursuit of a Boy.

Dedham, Mass., March 3.—Chasing a boy named John Crossen, with whom he had quarrelled and at whom he had fired several shots from a revolver while both were on the ice of the Charles river late yesterday, Raffaele Calibrez, aged twenty-two years old, fell into the water of the river and immediately after fired a shot into his own head, dying almost instantly.

It is believed the man thought he was going to drown, although the water where he fell in was but two or three feet deep. Calibrez had a quarrel with Crossen over the sale of a bicycle. Crossen is said to have hit Calibrez over the head with a stick, whereupon the latter drew a revolver, and chasing Crossen, fired several shots ineffectively. In his pursuit the Italian failed to notice a hole in the ice, and fell in. Crossen is seventeen years old.
