NO MORE RHEUMATISM "FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Christopher D. Graham is a well known citizen of Ottawa—formerly in the City Hall and largely instrumental in forming the Ottawa Hunt Club. Mr. Graham's voluntary testimonial as to the great benefit he received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" will carry conviction.

Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 26th, 1907.

Dear Sirs:— I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for a long time—pains in my shoulder and joints practically all the time. I tried various treatments without benefit and then I was recommended by a friend to try "Fruit-a-tives." I took several boxes of the tablets and now, for a long time, I have been entirely free from all rheumatism and rheumatic pains.

I wish to state, also, that I suffered from haemorrhoids, or piles, for years, I used all kinds of ointments and treatment and nothing did me any good, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives" for my rheumatism I am entirely cured of these dreadful piles. (Sgd) C. D. GRAHAM.

"Fruit-a-tives"—or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by dealers at 50c a box—6 for $2.50—or will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

OUTRAGE IN CHINA

ATTACK BY THROAT-CUTTING THIEVES.

All the Victims Mended Up at "Martyrs Memorial" Hospital Cause of Missions Has Been Benefitted.

Chang-Li, Hsien, North China, Feb. 3.—About the eighth day of the twelfth moon (January 11th, 1908), some vicious robbers boarded the train at Shan-Hai-Kwan, and about a half hour after began a throat-cutting performance, the like of which has never before been heard of.

This train bears Shan-Hai-Kwan at 4.50 a.m., and had probably 100 or more passengers, and no light. The robbers had evidently picked out their men beforehand, and located them in the train. That is, well-dressed men, carrying considerable baggage, and returning from Manchuria with months' or a year's wages.

It was evidently the intention of the thieves to cut the throats of their victims so effectively that they could not make a noise, that is by cutting deeply through the windpipe, and at the same time cutting the large arteries, so that they would probably die in a few minutes. But it was not to be. Thief No. 1, though cutting deeply in the neck of his victim, failed to cut either the large artery or the windpipe. He at once raised the cry of "Thieves! I am cut! Some quick, light up, on your guard!" By this time the whole train was in an uproar, and the thieves seeing they were in danger, either hid among the passengers (which is the most probable), or dropped off the train while it was climbing a stiff grade, and made their escape in the darkness, leaving seven men all bleeding, but nothing stolen. Five of the men were badly slashed, three of them in the throat, two of them from ear to ear, one receiving also a fracture of the cartilage of the windpipe. Two others were badly cut about the head and face. All five landed at our hospital just as we were making ready for a country trip, which, of course, had to be abandoned. Two of the men were in a state of collapse from loss of blood, and still bleeding, and in hours of stimulation revived. This was one of the busiest days that "Martyrs Memorial" ever enjoyed, my head assistant and student helpers working till three o'clock in the afternoon, without food or rest, when the arteries of eight gaping wounds were ligatured, thoroughly disinfected, and over 100 sutures inserted.

Three of the men made a rapid and uninterrupted recovery, the other two hung in the balance between life and death for days, but are at time of writing out of danger and will be well soon. This is the best advertisement our hospital has ever received, as deputations from all the departments of law and order, not less than forty, have been here to see the men and inquire into the nature of the affair. Two of the men would have certainly died had it not been for our timely assistance. We regret to say that at the time of writing the thieves have not been arrested. The grateful men themselves and their many friends who came long distances to see them, were in itself a sufficient reward; though we fully believe that the railroad will remunerate these poor fellows for their misfortune since the whole affair would have been averted if the cars had been lighted as the law required they should be. Were it not for the very severe punishment inflicted upon all kinds of thieves, the country would be overrun with bad characters, owing to the overpopulation and starving condition of thousands of China's poor. But a man would rather die of starvation than lose his head for theft. Not that he is afraid to die if he could in the next world; to marry and have sons and daughters-in-law; but what woman would marry a man without a head? —J. L. KEELER.

SHOT THE BLACK HAND. Daring Attempt to Rob New York Bank in Daylight. New York, March 9.—Repulsing a daylight attempt of the Black Hand to rob his bank, Saturday, at the point of a pistol, Pasquale Patti, who conducts a large banking and exchange business in the Italian quarter of Elizabeth street, in a duel, in which his son-in-law, Louis Cartier, joined, shot Francesco Ballalio, alias Giuseppe Sapio, who is dying in a hospital with five bullet wounds in his body, as a result of his attempt to hold up the bank. A second man, Michele Dogostino, whom the police believe is an accomplice of Patti, was arrested, while running from the bank after the shooting.

For fourteen years Patti told the police, he has constantly defied Black Hand robbers, and only a month ago the front of his bank was blown out by a bomb and $40,000 scattered in the street, which was saved by prompt work on the part of the banker.

GIRL'S SAD DEATH

From Blood Poisoning Due to Laceration.

Toronto, March 9.—A pathetic death is that of Miss Nellie Wallace, aged twenty-two, student at the normal school, where she came from Blind River, near Sault Ste. Marie. Some time ago, while trying to remove an ingrowing toenail, Miss Wallace slightly lacerated the flesh. She paid no attention to the small wound, which finally developed blood-poisoning. Everything possible was done for her, but the girl died a few hours before the arrival of her parents from Blind River.

DIED ON THE OCEAN.

Sad Death of Mrs. Kerwin, on Way to Kingston.

The sad news was conveyed to the city, this morning, of the death on the ocean, of Mrs. Kerwin, wife of the late Mr. Kerwin, of the R.C.M.A., who with her three children, was coming out from Liverpool, to meet her husband. A telegram from the C.P.R. office, Montreal, told the sad story to Mr. Kerwin. Mrs. Kerwin was taken ill after leaving Liverpool, died on March 1st, and was buried at sea. A messagegram sent from the vessel notified the C.P.R., and then word was sent on to Kingston. The steamer will arrive at St. John's, tomorrow, and Mr. Kerwin left, at noon, to-day, to meet his children. Mr. Kerwin will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends, in his bereavement.

CARRIED LOADED REVOLVERS.

Boys Taken in Custody and Weapons Confiscated.

Ogdensburg, March 9.—The police were busy Saturday night seeing that boys under sixteen were not allowed to play pool and billiards, and while making a tour detected one lad of immature age about to take a long-reach shot. What interested the policeman most was to see the handle of a revolver protruding from the lad's hip pocket. He and his chum were taken to headquarters, and there it was found that both were carrying seven-shooters, loaded. They said they had been doing this since last August.

EXCITING SCENES

In New York Over the Suspension of a Bank.

New York, March 9.—Scenes of wild excitement followed to-day, the announcement of the suspension of the banking establishment of Mirell, Speigman & Sternberg, in the heart of the Williamsburg Ghetto. The institution did a flourishing business with the peddlers, and small tradesmen and working girls of Williamsburg, and in almost every case the money they had on deposit there constituted their life savings.

THE LATE MR. TEMPLETON.

Napanee Has Lost One of Its Best Citizens.

It is with feelings of regret and a deep sense of loss that I am called upon to chronicle the death of William Templeton, late editor and proprietor of this paper, which occurred on Tuesday morning, March 3rd, after a brief illness. Three weeks ago Friday, deceased, who was not feeling as well as usual, left the office and went home. The first week of his illness he seemed to improve at times, and no alarming symptoms developed until the following week, when he sank rapidly and passed peacefully away in his reward, after having spent a very successful and useful life. The best of medical skill was obtained, doctors from Montreal and Kingston being in attendance with the local profession, but all that loving hands and hearts could do was of no avail.

Mr. Templeton was born in Napanee on the 27th November, 1845, and, with the exception of a few years, had spent his whole life in our midst. When about seventeen years of age he became an apprentice to the printing art, shortly after entering The Napanee Express, as journeyman. Afterward he spent a term in office in Montreal, Toronto and New York, where he completed his course at the business and was satisfied to return to his boyhood home. In partnership with Edward Stevenson, he purchased The Beaver. At a later date, George M. Bowman and W. C. Scott were associated with him in the office. In 1892 Mr. Templeton purchased the plant and conducted it ever since. So successful has his business career been that The Beaver is a welcome weekly visitor into almost every home in the town and county, and is recognized as one of the foremost journals of its class, all due to his progressive spirit and business ability.

Deceased was closely identified with the general social interests of the community. He was a member of the Royal Arch Masons, A.O.U.W., I.O.O.F., as well as chief of the Sons of Scotland, and for about twenty years has been United States consul at Napanee. For a number of years he was also a valued member of the board of education. His death spells a distinct loss for the whole community, especially for the Presbyterian church, of which he had long been a devoted member. He was an elder of the church, and clerk of the session. Twenty-nine years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Addie Perry, who, together with five children, are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father. The children are: William A. and Janet, at home; Mrs. J. P. VanEvery, Owen Sound; Dr. Charles P. Templeton, and Mrs. J. M. McIntosh, Brandon, Man., who were all with him at the last. Mrs. D. H. Preston, a sister, also survives him.

A shadow of gloom was cast over the whole town. His brother curiers closed the rink all week, and on Thursday afternoon the schools were all closed. Floral wreaths, bouquets and flowers in profusion covered the casket and room.

The funeral at the home on Thursday afternoon was attended by a large concourse of friends and acquaintances from near and far, showing the respect and esteem in which he was held by all. The service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. R. Coon, assisted by Rev. W. H. Emsley, after which the beautiful burial service of the Masons, who had charge of the funeral, was read at the vault. His smiling greeting will be greatly missed, not only in the home, but at the office and on the street. His friends were legion, and expressions of sorrow and regret are heard on every hand.

Six days of good temper in every box of Cascarets. Six days when you feel at your best; no headache, no dullness. Are they worth ten cents?

It is folly to talk of the "laxative habit." The habit lies in eating the wrong sort of food, and too much of it. And in getting too little exercise. While you do that, you must give the necessary help to the bowels in some other way. Else there is always a penalty.

Here is the way to avoid it: Eat coarse food in moderation. Eat plenty of fruit, many green vegetables. Drink no alcohol. Walk ten miles per day. Those are Nature's ways for keeping the bowels active. The next best way is Cascarets.

Cascarets, better than anything else, supply the place of laxative foods and of exercise. They do what right living would do. And they do it just as gently, just as naturally. They are vegetable. You'll need them just as long as you live in-doors, and eat rich foods; and no longer. Take them as you take food—when you need it. Carry a box in your pocket, and take one Cascaret at a time. That's better than to suffer and wait.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and Ten Cents per Box.
