E. P. JENKINS CLOTHING CO., 114 PRINCESS STREET.

Told in Twilight

Little Miss Caroline Mitchell reached the mature age of five yesterday and to celebrate this event, her mother, Mrs. W. A. Mitchell, Clergy street, asked fifteen small people to her home. There were five of the sterner sex to ten of the weaker, and they were very popular. Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, Miss Ida Kidd and Mrs. May Ford assisted the hostess in making the birthday a success. There was first a peanut hunt, in which Master Jack Richardson and Miss Gwenie Sykes won prizes, a mechanical toy for the former, and a doll for the latter, and then tea round a long dining table on which was the cake of cakes with two pink, two blue, and one green candle, and these were religiously blown at and at last blown out by the wee merry-makers. The cause of all the party is a very popular small person, with the big people as well as the small, and the present she got were "too numerous to mention." That she will have many such happy returns is a widespread wish.

Of interest to many Kingstonians will be some few particulars of the recent graduation exercises at St. Luke's hospital, New York, whereby a former Kingston girl, Miss Ethel Robinson, was awarded her diploma and black band, representing her successful completion of a three years' course of instruction at that institution. The ceremony took place in St. Luke's chapel, Cathedral Heights, and was followed by a reception and dance in the nurses' pavilion. The graduating class consisted of twenty-three nurses, four of whom were Canadian young ladies. Miss Robinson will practice her profession in New York until the summer months, which she will spend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Robinson, of this city, when many friends will be glad to have this charming girl with them again.

A driving party with the R.M.C. cadets, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blair the chaperons, met at Mrs. Frederick Brownfield's, on Wednesday, shortly after six o'clock, and from there took the ice for Wolfe Island. Here a delicious high tea had been arranged for, and the hungry party said it was very good. The girls invited were Miss Nora Gordon, Miss Katie Craig, Miss Lillian Kent, Miss Letta Carson, Miss Dorothy Brownfield, Miss Mildred Cooke, Miss Kate Snellie, Miss Irene Swift, Miss Phyllis Short, and Miss Marie Caruthers. The cadets included B.S.M. Carson, and Cadets Gibson, Taylor, Spain, Bristol, Hilliard, Walker, Tremaine, Bell-Irving and Swift. The evening was spent in a very jolly way, and everybody was at home before midnight.

Mrs. Charles H. McDonough, formerly Miss Edith Wilkinson, of Kingston, received, yesterday, for the first time since her marriage, at her residence, 68 Chestfield avenue, Westmount, she wore a gown of white chiffon, and lace over satin, and was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Wilkinson, of Kingston. Mrs. A. P. Christmas presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Cooper. Pale pink tulips were arranged in the reception and tea rooms. Mrs. McDonough will receive each Wednesday until the close of the season.—Montreal Witness.

The marriage of Miss Helen Marianne Wallbridge, daughter of the late Mr. Samuel Wallbridge, of Belleville, to Mr. Howard Frederick John Lambart, only son of the Hon. O. H. Lambart, and Mrs. Lambart, and grandson of the eighth Earl of Cayton, took place quietly at Vive Limne, near Edinburgh. The Hon. O. H. Lambart married a Canadian lady several years ago, and has lived in Canada since.

Mr. William Webster, Mrs. W. F. Webster and Mr. and Mrs. E. Webster have been down in Portland celebrating the silver wedding of their daughter and sister, Mrs. J. A. Myers. Mr. and Mrs. Myers entertained over seventy-five guests, music from the Newbury orchestra and dancing being enjoyed. Many handsome gifts were received.

The Badminton tournament, on Wednesday, at the Amoursies, drew out a large number of both amateurs and watchers of the game. Miss Macy Hora and Captain Russell Brown won out against Mrs. F. D. Laferty and Mr. Cobbett. The lady's prize was a cut glass powder box, with silver top. A number of people were for tea.

Mrs. M. L. Duhamel, Earl street, gave a jolly little party, last night, when her guests were chiefly Queen's students. The merriest feature of the affair, and a novelty, was a sugaring-off, being pronounced the funniest thing in sweet the guests had ever tasted. There was also an impromptu dance and games.

Mrs. T. Y. Greet, who has been spending the last year and a half in Canada visiting her sister and many old friends, has started this week on her way back to England, sailing from New York by the Atlantic Transport line.

Mrs. Arthur L. Clarke, William street, asked half a dozen people to dinner, on Thursday. The affair was a very happy little one with some delightful music, to which the sweet-voiced hostess herself contributed not a little, after dinner.

The engagement is announced of Miss Veronica Rodden, of Montreal, who has recently visited the capital as Miss Edith Lambart's guest, to Mr. J. Folsom Johnson, formerly of Boston.

Miss Lois Sammers, Stuart street, asked a few people, last night, to meet Miss Townsend of Halifax, and play a game of bridge.

There have been a slinger and several little bridges this week, but all

THE PARAGRAPH PULPIT

Unitarian. REV. C. W. CASSON.

Enterprise and Religion.

If the common thought is to be accepted as true, the right attitude in religion is that of bended knee and bowed head. The greatest task is to accept and obey, without question, but surely there is a better attitude than this. God does not want to breed a race of slaves, servile and submissive. Is it not more likely, and more to his honor, that he wishes to develop a race of free spirits, boldly inquiring concerning truth, engaging in high and independent enterprises, holding themselves and their own judgment in highest esteem, and standing erect in their own strength and uprightness?

Address, Rev. C. W. Casson, at 25 Beaton street, Boston, Mass., for the literature.
