THE 5 P.M. EDITION REALLY THE DUKE

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY,

Newsy Paragraphs Picked Up By Reporters On Their Rounds.

James Hogan, Belleville, is dead aged sixty-nine years.

The young liberals have a fine leader in Alderman "Jock" Hart.

William Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at McAuley's, Phone 778.

Miss Ellie Elmer, Bagot street, left, to-day, to visit friends in Watertown, N.Y.

H. V. Hunter returned to the city, to-day, after visiting friends in New York.

James P. Gildersleeve is at present enjoying the pleasant weather at Los Angeles, California.

H. Cunningham, piano tuner from Chiefton's. Leave orders at McAuley's Book Store.

Capt. Moller, Ottawa, will be here this week to hold examinations for Masters and Mates.

Ald. Angrove left, to-day, to attend the automobile show at Toronto. He will go as far as Detroit on a business trip.

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, is sold in Kingston at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store.

The Cape Vincent stage brought a large number of passengers from Cape Vincent to-day and the drivers report the crossing to be in good condition.

Capt. Thomas Donnelly, who is still in Baltimore, is much improved, so a letter received to-day states. The captain expects to be able to attend to his business here in a month.

During the winter, after the heavy storms, a great amount of snow was carted to the cricket field. It has melted to quite an extent now and left some unsightly heaps of refuse on the field.

Hon. A. B. Morine and Edw. J. B. Pense addressed, on Monday evening, a laymen's assembly at good old Brantford at an Anglican banquet in which the five local churches were united. The engagement to speak was made two weeks previously and Mr. Pense found it imperative to attend, feeling to get a substitute, that he might remain at home and pay the least respect to two worthy old Kingstonsians.

HE MADE HIMSELF KNOWN TO QUEBECER.

He Took Train to Montreal and Went on to New York—His Identity is Pretty Well Established.

Quebec, Que., March 25.—A considerable amount of doubt seems to be felt in New York as to whether the person, who recently arrived on the steamer Victorian, and who gave the name of "Thompson," was in reality the "Prince De Sagan," but notwithstanding the rumors it has been ascertained, on the best and most reliable authority, that the party in question, who passed through Levis, on Saturday last, was truly the Prince De Sagan. This was confirmed yesterday morning by Mr. St. Pierre, European buyer of the wholesale food dry goods firm of Thibault, Frere & Co., who, in conversation with a reporter at Quebec, stated that the party was none other than Prince De Sagan. On the buyer's advice he took passage on board the I.C.R. at Halifax. "I made the I.C.R. at Halifax and immediately after the train left he sat down at a table in the buffet car, alongside of me. During the meal he drew a card from one of his pockets, which was a membership ticket to a Parsian club, made out in the name of Prince De Sagan. He was anxious to reach New York and hoped that he could remain there two or three weeks without his presence in the American metropolis being known." The Quebec friend has the prince's address in New York but refuses to divulge it, admitting, however, that he was residing not far from Fifth avenue.

A BITTER COMPLAINT

From An English Emigrant Near Kingston.

In an English paper called Answers, the following letter, written by an English emigrant who is living not more than twelve miles from Kingston, appears:

"Dear Editor: I would like to tell some of your readers in the old country, about Canada. I left England last year on the steamer Southwark, under the Salvation Army, to come to work for a farmer, and when we got there he did not want me till April, so I had to keep myself and wife and three children till I started work. He said he would tell me how much he would pay me after I had worked a month. Well, I got on all right with him, and when the month was up he said he would give me ten dollars a month, house, and wood for fire. The house would have been a bad one, if you could see the sky and the fields from the indoors. We were the first to live there for fourteen years, so some farmers told me. I had to stop up at night to keep the fire in, for the children were freezing. That is what the army are sending English men out to! There were thirteen of us came out, and that is what we came to. I have got some good friends at home, and they are sending for me to come home, so I am coming. I can tell you I don't mind work, as I was twelve years at my job that I left to come here, and am going right back to it, as the people out here are not much good. They are self first, and we can go to the dogs. They will tell you there are plenty of men coming out that will be glad to take anything. They don't tell you that in Queen Victoria street when you go there with your bit of gold to come here. You can use this as you like, as everything in this is true, and I would like to tell every one not to come here that don't want to be a white slave."

Pension For X-Ray Expert.

London, March 25.—Dr. Hall Edwards, of Birmingham, who lost an arm in the course of his researches into the X-rays, but who is the discoverer of a successful method of treatment for X-ray cancer, has had a civil service pension of $600 a year conferred upon him.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

The Auspicious Event For Pictou Couple.

Pictou, March 25.—On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Davison, two of the town's most prominent residents celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At the dinner there were some twenty-five guests, numbering among them every descendant of the couple, there having been no break in the family line in the three generations.

GORED BY A BULL

A. H. ATKINSON OF PERCY TOWNSHIP KILLED.

Found Lying at the Door of His Stable, With Injuries in His Breast—Leaves a Widow and Six Children.

Cobourg, Ont., March 25.—Word has been received here of a terrible fatality whereby A. H. Atkinson, a well-known farmer, residing near Barford in Percy township, lost his life on Saturday by being attacked by a vicious bull. Mr. Atkinson was found lying at the door of his stable, with injuries in the breast, which resulted in his death a few minutes after he was carried into the house. One arm was broken also. He was a son-in-law of Edwin Macklin, who resides near Cobourg, and is survived by his widow and six children. Full particulars of the fatality are not at present known here. The funeral took place at Percy yesterday. Mr. Atkinson was a highly-esteemed citizen of Percy and a prominent agriculturist.

A MERGER FORMED

Of Many of the Lake Navigation Companies.

Hamilton, Ont., March 25.—Application for a charter has been made for the amalgamation of several navigation companies to be known as the Inland Navigation company. The merger has been under consideration for some time. The new company will be capitalized at $1,000,000, with an issue of 500,000 in bonds. Shareholders in the merging company will receive the option of exchanging their holdings share for share for the new stock, or keeping their old scrips. The various companies interested are: The Hamilton and Fort William Navigation company, limited; New Ontario Steamship company, limited; Union Steamship company, limited; Winona Steamship company, limited; Rosedale, limited; R. O. and A. B. Mackay, New Ontario Lock and Fuel company, limited.

REMARriage OF DIVORCEES.

Introduces a Bill to Restrict It.

Ottawa, March 25.—Senator Cloran has introduced a bill "to restrict the evils of divorce."

It provides that the guilty and offending party to a marriage contract shall have no right to re-marry in the dominion after the obtaining of a bill of divorce from the parliament of Canada. If such party remains outside the jurisdiction of the parliament of Canada such re-marriage is to be considered for all purposes invalid and illegal and such party who re-marries is to be considered a bigamist in Canada.

CONFESSES THE MURDER.

Climbed Into Sleigh and Clubbed Him to Death.

Winnipeg, March 25.—Wasey Andrejczak is in jail here, charged with the murder of another Galician, A. Ozanac, near London, Saturday night. He has made voluntary confession to the crime. He killed his victim because Ozanac had informed on him for shooting moose out of season. Meeting the man on the trail, Andrejczak climbed on to his sled and clubbed him to death.

SENTENCE NEARLY ENDED.

Life Prisoner at Edmonton Penitentiary, is Dying.

Edmonton, Alta., March 25.—Josiah Gilbert, serving a term of life imprisonment in the penitentiary here, is dangerously ill, and there are but slight hopes for his recovery. Gilbert is a murderer, having been brought here from Regina early in 1907, when he commenced the life imprisonment sentence which was imposed upon him. He is over seventy years of age, and is the oldest life prisoner in Canada.

Rural Telephones.

Brockville, March 25.—Monday night a meeting was held at Portland to take the first steps towards forming a rural telephone system for that section of the country. The head office will probably be at Cross-street, and the lines will radiate to all points in that section. The popular sentiment is strongly favorable to the scheme. Leeds and Greenville will soon be covered with a network of rural telephone lines.

Colds Cause Headache.

Laxative Bromo Quinine removes the cause. Used the world over to cure a cold in one day. E. W. Grove's signature on box. 25c.

Penitentiary Binder Twine.

On the vote for penitentiaries several members of the opposition wanted to know why only about two-thirds of the binder twine manufactured at Kingston was sold. It was pointed out by the solicitor-general that the fact that cash had to be paid by the farmers before delivery, and freight charges, might be reasons why the supply exceeded the demand.

REALLY THE DUKE

HE MADE HIMSELF KNOWN TO QUEBECER.

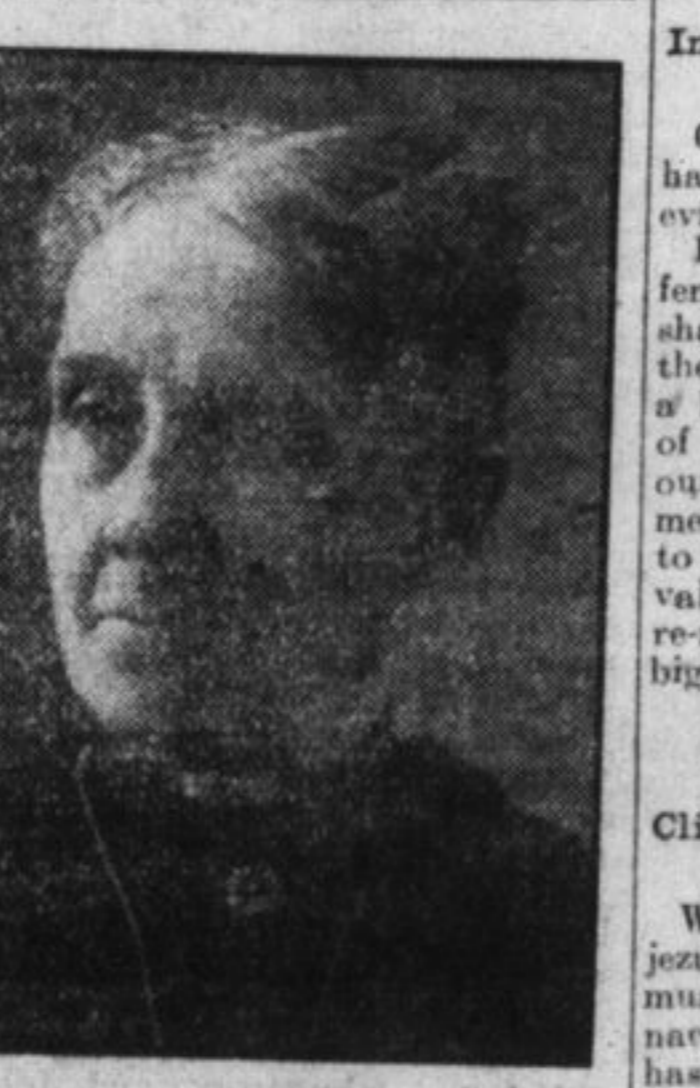

He Took Train to Montreal and Went on to New York—His Identity is Pretty Well Established.

ANDREW DAVISON.

He was born on the farm in South Marysburgh that his father purchased from the crown in 1834, seventy-two years ago. Mr. Davison was left an orphan at the age of sixteen years.

Mrs. Davison's maiden name was Phoebe Minkler, and she was born within a mile of where lived her husband-to-be. They had two children, Robert Davison of the firm of the A. Bristol & Son, and Mrs. J. H. Porter, both of whom reside in town. Mr. Davison retired from farming in 1888, coming to Pictou to live, and his long residence in town has made him one of the best known of citizens. He has never held a municipal office.

MRS. ANDREW DAVISON.

(though he was twice elected to a seat in the town council by acclamation. He declined, however, to act. He has, however, been a director of the agricultural society of the county for twelve years, and also on more than one occasion president. He has been treasurer of the Independent Order of Oddfellows for over twenty-five years.

FORMER KINGSTONIAN.

Robert Dunlop Leases the Hotel Malatesta.

Atlantic N.Y. Review
Robert T. Dunlop, one of the best known hotelmen, has arranged to lease the Hotel Malatesta at Atlantic and North Carolina avenues. David Holland, who is also interested in the transfer of the control of the hotel.

Mr. Dunlop will take entire charge in April for a five-year leasehold, and will make a number of improvements to the hotel.

The hotel was erected by the late Mark Malatesta, in 1878 and at that time it was one of the largest hotels in the city.

The Late Charles Hall.

Charles Hall, formerly dry clerk in the Randolph hotel, died, at Merrickville, early Wednesday morning. He left Kingston, last Friday, hoping that a rest at his old home would improve his health, but he became worse on Tuesday. His wife and child were at their home, on Brock street, when the intelligence of his death arrived. The deceased belonged to Merrickville, and was about thirty-four years of age. For some time he was clerk in a Lindsay hotel, and when John Wardrobe took over the Randolph, three years ago, he accompanied him here. Mr. Hall was a popular hotel clerk, and his many friends will sincerely regret to hear of his sudden death.
