OPEN SATURDAY EVENING

THE ST. JAMES' CLUB

GAVE A BANQUET TO THEIR CHAMPIONS.

In Hockey and Basketball—Event Held in Frontenac Business College Building—The Toasts and the Speeches.

Never has the Frontenac Business College building held such a happy crowd as was gathered there last evening, under the banner of garnet and blue, the colors of the St. James' Young Men's Club. The occasion was a banquet tendered by the club to the hockey and basketball teams which had each landed the City League championship in its respective sport.

The tables were laid in the large room on the east side of the building, about forty guests sitting down. The room was handsomely decorated, the table decorations were red and white, and flowers and plants. Along the end of the table, which were set in the form of a T, were as handsome silver trophies as were ever put up for competition in any province. The handsome silver trophy donated by Dr. J. J. Hartley for City League competition was won by the Frontenac Business College. The silver trophy presented by W. W. Gibson, for the Junior City League, was won from Regopolis by St. James, and the handsome basketball trophy presented by William McFadden, was won by St. James' from Waldron. The ladies looked after the wants of the guests in fine style, and ample justice was done to the good things provided, and they were many.

William Dalby, the first president of the St. James' Club, was chairman. The first toast was "The King," followed by "Our Club," proposed by President Frank Newman and responded to by Frank Partridge, and the chairman, Mr. Newman spoke of why the club was organized, its ambition, and what it had accomplished. He stated that the club was originally organized as a social club, but that when the boys went in to sports every one was at their backs to see them through, and they had conquered. Frank Partridge in reply, told of the club's advancement in every way, also speaking in glowing terms of the different teams. William Dalby stated that the first time the club did any thing of its own was when they landed the Junior City League rugby championship in 1904, and again in 1905. He spoke in glowing terms of the boys who composed the team, stating that they were always with any undertaking the club wished to take up.

The next toast was "Our Champions," and was responded to by Messrs. H. Milne and Frank Partridge for basketball, and Messrs. Stockdale, F. D. Quinn, and members of the St. James' team. In his speech, Mr. Milne stated that the City Basketball League was formed a year ago, and the executive had found considerable trouble in arranging matters, but did finally succeed in doing so. He spoke well for St. James' team, saying that they had champions for time to come if they received the proper support.

He spoke kindly of William McFadden, who donated the handsome cup. Frank Partridge, captain of the basketball team, accepted the cup on behalf of St. James' team.

Mr. Stockdale reviewed the City League work, and stated that since his coming to Kingston and having anything to do with sport, he had been associated with St. James' club and could not speak too highly of it. F. T. Quinn, president of the City League, made a very strong plea to those present to do all in their power towards clean hockey next year and make men stick to their contracts all through the season.

"Our Guests" was proposed by Rev. Mr. Bilkie and responded to by Messrs. Burton, Coyne, and "Jack" Mercer. The toast to "The Ladies" caused much amusement. It was proposed by George Sargent, and responded to by Richard Atkinson and Alfred Partridge. The last toast was "The Press," proposed by Harvey Milne, and responded to by A. E. Shannon and F. F. Folger.

The St. James' Club has always had the name of being good entertainers, and this time was no exception. The best of good-fellowship prevailed throughout.

THE LATE R. R. FINKLE.

An Aged and Respected Resident of Bath.

The death of R. R. Finkle removes an old and respected citizen of Bath. For years, the deceased, had been a great sufferer. All that his medical skill and loving care could do was done to alleviate his pain, and stay the progress of the disease, but without avail. He daily grew worse and on the first morning of this holy season he quietly sank to rest.

Mr. Finkle was of United Empire Loyalist parentage, his grandparents being one of the first families to land in this locality, settling on the farm on which the deceased was born on 29th May, 1830. Mr. Finkle was fond of telling tales of the early experiences of the United Empire Loyalists, heard from his grandparents and told in indicate places, now marked only by a ruined foundation, where many a humble shelter had been erected by his grandfather for the accommodation of the newly-arrived U. E. L. friend and family. The place long known as Finkle's Point, and named by him at the time of his death.

Deceased was a cousin of the Gildersleeve family, and was well and favorably known by the steamboat companies and officers, having been for over thirty years the owner of the wharf and warehouses at Bath. He took an active interest in public affairs, and in the welfare of his own village and its school, serving on the council, and the board of education for many years. He acted as agent for various loan companies, and was bailiff of the division court of this district. He was of charitable disposition, no appeal from the needy was left unanswered, help was cheerfully given.

Mr. Finkle was married in Trinity church, Watertown, N.Y., on October 26th, 1856, to Miss Elizabeth, daughter of the late Rev. John Moore, of Bradenstoke, near Salisbury, Eng., who survives him, and during his long illness ministered to his comfort night and day. Their only daughter died in infancy.

The funeral was held in St. John's church of which the deceased had been a life-long member, and although the morning was one of the stormiest seen this winter, friends attended from Kingston, Newburgh, Napanee, Stells and Emerald, besides many from the vicinity, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Staved at Police Station.

Last night the police station gave shelter to nine knights of the road. All of them came here from the west, and were working their way east, in an endeavor to seek employment. The warm weather has not yet set in early enough for these travellers, and as a result, each night now, there are several applicants for protection at the police station. No person is refused protection here, and the poor wayfarer is glad indeed to get a chance to stay, even though the best that can be given him is a hard bench. A few nights ago, eight were given shelter in the station.

"THE VANDERBILT CUP."

Attraction at the Grand on Thursday Night.

"The Vanderbilt Cup," the musical comedy which made such a big hit in New York, was the attraction at the Grand last night, and the production was very good. The attendance was only fair. The story centers around the auto race for the Vanderbilt trophy, and is most very interesting. Upon the winning of that race depends the happiness of the hero and heroine. There is plenty of good comedy, and the musical selections are of the best, the singing being a special feature. Genevieve Victoria appears as Dorothy Willets, the simple country maiden, and who succeeds in spoiling a plot to defeat the car owned by her millionaire uncle. In this role she did exceedingly well, and was given many a curtain call. The comedy work fell to the lot of Dave Andrada, as Theodore Bunting, a lawyer, and he carried out his part well. Edgar Nelson, as Newt Opat, was also very funny. The pictures of the race thrown on canvas, were very interesting and the grand finish, showing the auto on the stage, was most thrilling. The orchestra and some clever imitations, and the Penelope sisters appeared in some fine dancing specialties. The musical hit of the evening was the song, "Some where in the World," rendered by Dexter and make quartette. Another fine number was "The Light That Lies in Girl's Eyes," by Claim. The "Crusty Jams," staying at the hotel strictly for women, were very amusing. The entire production was well put on and much enjoyed.

Saturday Matinee And Night.

In "Ma's New Husband," which comes to the Grand on Saturday, April 4th, matinee and night, players are promised a farcical musical treat of the merriest kind. It has scored heavily in other cities in which it has been played, from all accounts, and has proved an all-around enjoyable and snappy and lively type. Its comicities are said to be irresistible, and the music and special numbers have been received with popular acclaim.

Nellie Kennedy Company.

The Nellie Kennedy Company, which opens at the Grand, on Monday evening, for one week's engagement, is one of the strongest repertoire companies on the road. The opening bill, "The Cowboy's Sweetheart," is a beautiful western drama and has proved an all-around enjoyable and snappy and lively type. Its comicities are said to be irresistible, and the music and special numbers have been received with popular acclaim.

ARE GETTING READY FOR A GREAT SELF-DENIAL PERIOD.

District Officers Met in the Salvation Army Barracks Last Evening—Addresses Given Upon Self-Denial.

A very interesting meeting was held at the Salvation Army Barracks, last evening, in connection with the self-denial convention in this district. There were present: Brigadier and Mrs. Hargraves, Montreal; Ensign and Mrs. Coy, Kingston; Captain Oldford, Napanee; Captain Birchell, Deseronto; Captain Simmons and Lieutenant Case, Odessa; Captain Lawrence, Newburgh; Captain Gartland, Gananoque. Brigadier Hargraves presided. The hymn, "I Feel Like Singing All the Time," was rendered by Mrs. Hargraves, in which her beautiful voice showed to advantage.

The brigadier said a meeting of the officers in the several districts in the province was being held to make arrangements for the coming self-denial convention and he thought the convention would be a success. They were just finishing their self-denial in the old country, but he had not yet heard the results. As matter with the financial stringency as in other parts of the world, there was a time in Canada when things were at a very low ebb, but that has passed and things now present a different aspect. Self-denial efforts had been made one of the works of the Salvation Army. Others have copied it and they wished them every success. The women suffragettes of England have just had a week of self-denial, but whether they could do it or not, he did not say. He had a theory that when people were all right, spiritually, there was no difficulty about their finances. God would recompense the cheerful giver. The brigadier quoted passages from Matthew, 23:27, in proof of works of self-denial. Jesus said if any man would have the first place in life, he must take the second. Jesus said that the true disciple must take the second place, and that was the true disciple of the world, what His mission was and what He wanted them to do. Jesus asked His disciples who men thought He was and they all replied in various terms, but Peter replied, "Thou art Christ, the Son of the living God." He acknowledged that Jesus Christ was the son of the living God, and he gave them what the true discipleship meant. No man can get to heaven who does not deny himself and take up his cross. Self-denial meant giving up every thing that was contrary to the work of God. They must come up to the standard and not draw it down. The Christian life was that we must walk in His footsteps and do His work. Paul's words were words of fire. No man suffered more for God than he did, and Paul said they must take up their cross and follow Jesus. Jesus pleads for men and women who will fight to the end and stand for Him. What will it gain a man if he wins the whole world and loses his own soul. What would they give in exchange for their souls? He urged them to help to carry out the work of God.

Captain Birchell, Deseronto, made a very interesting address, touching on his life in Kent, England, and his conversion to the Lord. Mrs. Hargraves sang sweetly "My Sins Went Rolling Away."

Captain Simmonds, Odessa, and Captain Lawrence, Sunbury, also spoke briefly. Captain Gartland, Gananoque, who has been stationed in this city last year, was glad to meet his old comrades and urged them to have courage in the cross of Christ.

Mrs. Hargraves said their lives would be likened to many things. It might be likened to a bird in a cage. She would write it themselves. Some peo-

Seeking A Transfer.

The judge of the exchequer court in Ottawa heard a motion, by way of appeal, from the judgment of the local judge of the Toronto admiralty district, in the case of the Montreal Transportation company vs. the Ship Norfolk, refusing to transfer the case to the Quebec admiralty district for trial at Montreal. Motion enlarged to permit further affidavits being filed. In this case one of the appellants' barges was run into on Lake St. Louis and sunk by the steamer "Norwalk" of Detroit. The steamer did not stand by after the accident, but continued on her course. She was arrested the following day in the Welland canal under a warrant issued by Judge Hodgins, of the Toronto admiralty district.

A rather peculiar accident happened to a drunken man on Princess street, on Thursday afternoon. He was wandering his way up Princess street, when he fell heavily to the sidewalk, and in a moment his coat was on fire. He had a box of safety matches in his pocket and when he fell they flared up igniting his coat. The man was quite frightened and did not lose much time in running out Bagot street. He was stopped at the corner of Queen street by two young men, who put out the fire before it reached the man's body.

INTERVIEWING OWNERS

IN CONNECTION WITH THE SEAMEN'S DISPUTE.

Prof. Shortt and James Stewart had a talk with local ship-owners—Have Gone to Toronto and Hamilton.

Prof. Shortt, chairman of the Board of Arbitration appointed to try and effect a settlement of the dispute between the Seamen's Union and the Dominion Marine Association, and James Stewart, representing the latter, yesterday afternoon interviewed the local manager of the Montreal Transportation company and H. W. Richardson, in regard to the question in dispute, being desirous of gaining as much information as possible from the vessel owners, and finding out what they were in favor of doing in the way of concessions to the sailors. This morning the same two arbitrators had an interview with H. A. Calvin, of the Calvin company, and also with James G. Macleod, general manager of the "M.T." company. At noon they left for Toronto, to see other vessel owners. Thence they proceeded to Hamilton for further consultation with the members of the Dominion Marine Association, if they deem it necessary, they will go as far west as Owen Sound, but they will likely be unnecessary. Prof. Shortt and Mr. Stewart expect to be able to open the arbitration proceedings in the Board of Trade rooms next Tuesday afternoon. The proceedings will be public.
