Oshawa Reformer. During the war of 1812-14 with the United States, it was frequently the case that the pay for the soldiers stationed at the fort at York, as Toronto was then named, had to be conveyed from Kingston in sailing vessels. In the late summer of 1813, a mileage was increased by 581,682 schooner conveying the gold specie for this purpose was proceeding along the The whole of the funds required un-
