

THE 5 P.M. EDITION MEETING OF UNION MEN

TYO WAS FINED. He Was Assessed $20 By the County Judge.

John Tyo appeared before Judge Price, in chambers, on Friday morning, charged with shooting Arthur Reilly, in Catarqui marsh, on March 17th. D. M. McIntyre appeared for the defendant and John L. Whiting for the crown.

Mr. McIntyre, for the prisoner, elected to be tried by the judge, pleading "not guilty." The depositions taken at the preliminary trial were renewed. This evidence has before appeared in the paper. The evidence of William Dixon, John Goughgan, Michael Black, Garnet Aylesworth and Albert Funnell was read by Mr. Whiting.

Mr. McIntyre pointed out that the charge was laid under certain sections in the criminal code, which dealt with anyone who pointed any gun or air rifle, whether loaded or unloaded, or that did negligently cause grievous bodily harm to another, was guilty of indictable offense. There was no doubt that the gun was pointed in Reilly's direction or it would not have hit him.

Mr. Whiting also pointed out that the parents should not allow children to have guns. His honor agreed with Mr. Whiting, saying that the parents should be prosecuted.

Mr. McIntyre pointed out that although the occurrence took place, he did not think it was intentional. He stated that there were no criminal tendencies in the prisoner. The occurrence was not the beginning of a life of crime. Mr. McIntyre spoke of the lad's youth, and former good character. He reviewed the facts of the case.

He brought out the fact that only one boy said that the word "duel" was used by the prisoner, and also dwell on the several meanings that could be taken out of the words, "I will give you shot for shot." Counsel submitted that if the prisoner was convicted, he did not see that either side could be reached, one, his being a danger to society, and the other, the reformation of the prisoner. "I do not think that society is in any danger from this boy," said Mr. McIntyre.

In addressing the prisoner, his honor said, "I can only come to the conclusion from the evidence, and that is that you did a very improper thing, and this sort of thing must be stopped. Boys who are not accustomed to the use of firearms should not have them."

"You did," continued his honor, "do to that boy what the law says you must do—you pointed a gun at him. I have to say that you are guilty and the penalty must be considered. I do not want to be severe with you. I sympathize with you, and realize that you feel as bad as any of the others concerned. I fine you $20 in default of which you will have to spend thirty days in jail."

The parents were given a week to pay the fine.

Resolution Passed Approving Stand Taken By Longshoremen's Union, Local, No. 229—Some Addresses Were Given.

A largely attended meeting of union men was called to order at 8:30 o'clock last night, in Labor Hall, William Driscoll presided. The chairman stated that the meeting was to be addressed by John A. Platt, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, but owing to Mr. Platt being unavoidably detained in the west, he would ask some of the local labor leaders to address the meeting.

James Lev was then called upon, and gave a lengthy address on the general trade union movement, and was followed by Thomas H. Fleming, who spoke on the industrial disputes investigation act, and the general workings of a board of conciliation and investigation.

James O'Neill was then called upon and spoke on the good work accomplished by the Longshoremen's Union, Local No. 229, also on the few men who were trying to disrupt Local 229. After Mr. O'Neill concluded his address the following resolution was introduced and carried by a unanimous vote.

"Resolved, that this mass meeting of union men, consider the stand taken by the Longshoremen's Union, Local No. 229, to be right, and the only stand that could be taken, owing to the actions taken by those who are endeavoring to disrupt the union, and that we pledge ourselves to stand by the longshoremen and purchase our supplies of coal only from those merchants who have their coal handled by the members of the Longshoremen's Union, and we also pledge ourselves to use our best endeavors to get all union men to do the same."

William Kelly was then called upon and spoke on the trade union movement in Kingston. He was followed by William Godwin, Jr., who gave a very interesting address on the immigrant policy of both governments, and recommended that both the federal and provincial premiers, protesting against the present immigration system.

There were some further remarks by some of the gentlemen present, and after a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers, the meeting adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

BOARD OF EDUCATION Refuses Request of Sisters of Charity.

Last evening, the Board of Education held its last meeting in its quarters at the corner of Princess and Montreal street, which it has occupied since the year 1881. By moving to the building it leased at the corner above for a domestic science school, it will save rent.

A matter which evoked a warm discussion was an application from the Sisters of Charity, House of Providence, asking for permission for two of their number to attend one of the public school kindergarten classes, either as teachers-in-training or visitors, for the remainder of this term.

It seems that the sisters are going to establish a kindergarten department at Belleville, and wish for immediate training. A motion to grant the request was lost by a vote of 12 to 3 in favor of an amendment to refer the matter to the management committee for report.

Edward Bennett made a lengthy address, and declared that it was impossible to grant such a request. The Roman Catholics, he said, had chosen separate schools, and should not expect to receive special benefits from the public schools. He objected to aiding the nuns in their teaching profession, because their entrance into kindergarten work would take away from many a young lady the chance of making a livelihood.

Mr. Bennett instanced the province of Quebec as one example. The motion to give two sisters the privilege of attending the public school kindergarten class, was moved by James D. Thompson and seconded by W. H. Godwin.

A recommendation was received from Dean Lavell, of the Faculty of Education, recommending that A. A. Jordan be appointed principal and J. R. Stuart supervising principal of Victoria school, Mr. Ettinger to be transferred as principal of Central school. Referred to management committee.

Mr. Ettinger is quite agreeable to make the change. J. A. Ramsay, commercial teacher in the collegiate, applying for increase of salary; G. A. Palmer, physical director of Queen's, asking permission to enter the college and pupils of the schools in his physical culture classes to be held during June and July, and Miss Susie Bowden, domestic science principal, applying for the $50 bonus given to other teachers in connection with School of Pedagogy ferra to the management committee.

The management committee was instructed to take into consideration the question of observing Empire day. The providing of basketball equipment for the Central school girls' yard was referred to the property committee.

The management committee was instructed to consider the question of asking the provincial government to establish one of the proposed model schools in Kingston. These recommendations of the management committee were adopted: In order to relieve overcrowding in the Part I classes in Catarqui school that the following temporary arrangements be made until the end of the present school term; that Miss Davidson and her class (Junior IV) be transferred to the Central school and occupy the room now used for pedagogical purposes as soon as it is available; that Miss Fraser and her class (Junior III) occupy the room vacated by Miss Davidson and her class. Catarqui school, that the Part I furniture now stored in the basement of Sydenham school be placed in Miss Fraser's room, Catarqui school, and a half-time Part I class established under Miss Lulu Lee, at a salary equal to half that paid to occasional teachers. The above arrangement will afford the Senior Part I pupils a whole day's tuition and the Junior Part I pupils a half day's.

LAKE CHANGES TO CRATER. Sheet of Water Two Miles Long Disappears. Salem, Ore., April 10.—Pamalia Lake, a large and seemingly bottomless body of water high in the mountains of the Cascade Range, has suddenly disappeared. Now where the lake was is a deep crater with a wide crevice at the bottom, through which the water escaped. The mountain stream which fed the lake now runs into the crevice, and streams about the solid rock bottom of the lake are tons of decaying trout, the with which the lake abounded. The lake was about two miles long by half a mile wide. It is supposed that its subterranean outlet was suddenly enlarged by an earthquake.

A VERITABLE CANAAN. Why Chatham Was Given So Many Immigrants. Chatham, Ont., April 10.—Mayor Scullard has received a letter from the immigration branch department for the interior which explains why Chatham received so many immigrants last summer and fall. The letter included a letter from the former Immigration Inspector Waught to the unemployed body in London, England, which misadvised asked for 350 married men at once. Chatham was pictured as a veritable Canaan for immigrants. The London Association did not send half the number asked for, consequently will not reimburse Chatham for money expended in supplying food.
