DANDRUFF CAUSED BY A GERM.

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents Baldness.

Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp, and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair, and baldness, and that destroys the cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herculic. This germ eats its way into the scalp, it digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unless it is destroyed there is no permanent stopping of falling hair and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herculic kills the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herculic Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c. and $1. G. W. Mahood, special agent.

Tips For The Farmers
BY UNCLE JOSE

Milking of cows by machinery will soon be general. A girl of seven, in Glasgow, recently milked thirty-four cows in an hour and a quarter, with the assistance of a boy to carry the milk pails away.

In general, hens over two years old, Prof. W. R. Graham points out, are seldom good layers. Leghorns, Minorcas, etc., are sometimes good during their third and fourth years, but generally speaking, the Rocks and such fowl are of little or no use as layers after the second year, being much inclined to become excessively fat.

There is nothing like a good coat of whitewash for the interior of the poultry house, regardless of how the walls are made or finished. Whitewash is a good eradicator of things objectionable about the poultry house, and it makes the house look light and clean. It should be sprayed into every crack and corner, not forgetting the nest boxes. A little crude carbolic in the whitewash will improve it.

With good management a sow should bring two litters of pigs every year. Two or three sows should supply all the pigs that the average farm will care to fatten.

When pasturage cannot be provided for the growing pigs a sowing crop should be grown for them.

With hogs one of the plainest indications that they have been crowded is when they are contented. Feed the pigs so they will be contented. By giving them too much the feed is wasted. If fed too little they become restless, and try to break out.

You can not afford to let the cows run down in condition, for that will mean not only a present loss but a loss during the coming year.

If you feel that you can not afford to feed your cows so that they will keep up to a paying production, sell them and do something else.

It requires a certain amount of food to maintain an animal. Any additional nutriment produces a surplus product, be it flesh, milk, work or what. How many short-sighted men simply keep the engine warm? Use the Babcock test and weed out every cow that does not show a paying percentage of butter fat.

Dr. C. A. Publow, who recently accepted a position with the department of agriculture for the state of New York, has been so successful that his salary has been materially increased. He has been induced to remain with the department for a year at least. Dr. Publow is a son of the chief dairy instructor, G. G. Publow, of Kingston. He writes that the sums of money that are spent in the state of New York for dairy and agricultural work, would surprise the farmers of Canada.

When you sell butter fat you are selling sunshine. When you sell grain you are selling the fertility of your soil.

You harvest wheat and corn once a year. You harvest milk twice a day. The dairy farmer raises more grain and better grain and gets a higher price than anybody.

The dairyman leaves his family a better farm than he got. The grain raiser doesn't.

A ton of wheat takes $7 worth of fertility from the soil. A ton of butter takes 50c. The wheat is worth $20 and the butter $400. Which do you raise?

A carload of grain is worth $250. A carload of butter is worth $5,000. Convert your grain into butter and save the freight on nineteen cars.—Blue Valley Bulletin.

Boy going to agricultural college this year? Good. An agricultural education places a young man in an absolutely independent position for life. He may not have as much money as the neighbor's boy over the way, but his scientific knowledge of farming coupled with what he has already learned by hard knocks, will more than make him even. In fact, the boy with money, but no education, is the one who is handicapped.

So the daughter of our friend who lives across yonder is going to the city to try for a position. Thinks there is no dignity in farm labor? Too bad that any girl or boy should make the mistake of regarding this work as inferior. Work on the farm is not only equal, but it has a higher place than almost any other form of labor.

There is as much of dignity and nobleness in the work of a farmer or a farmer's wife if it is well done, as there is in the work of the most elegant preacher or the most successful teacher in the land. Dignity, in farm labor? Why it is the gift of God Himself.

It does not pay to work too hard or too many hours a day. Remember John F., who used to go to work before daylight and work till it was too dark to see. He boasted that he always did two men's work. He would often drive his mules on a gallop home from town. Today he is a confirmed invalid, bent, broken and unhappy and without fortune.

The young folks like to have a few dollars they can call their own. It makes them think the farm is all right. Not that the dollar is all there is of life on the farm, but ropes are made of strands, and this is one strand in the cable binding the boys and girls to the country. The boys and girls are the best stock on the farm, and do not let us forget it.

HERBERT KNOX SMITH.
President Roosevelt could not have selected a better man than Herbert Knox Smith—whose latest portrait is here presented to investigate the bucket shop evil and the whole subject of stock gambling, with a view to national legislation regulating this menace. Mr. Smith, an United States commissioner of corporations, has been the chief "trust hunter" of the administration and leaped into fame by his scorching reports on the Standard Oil company. Mr. Smith was born in Chester, Mass., and is the son of a Congregational minister. He graduated from the Yale Law School, in 1896. His first experience in public life was in Hartford, Conn., where he was made a member of the common council in 1900. Then he was elected a member of the Connecticut legislature, and, in 1903, he connected deputy commissioner of corporations, later being promoted to the head of his bureau when James R. Garfield left to enter the Roosevelt cabinet. He draws a salary of $5,000 per year.

An Irish Sailor's Wit.

An Irishman who served on board a man-of-war was selected by one of the officers to land in a towing of considerable length that was towing over the taffrail. After pulling in forty or fifty fathoms, which had put his patience severely to proof, as well as every muscle of his arms, he muttered to himself:

"Surely, it's as long as to-day and to-morrow. It's a good week's work for any five in the ship. Bad luck to the leg or the arm it'll leave at last. What, more of it yet? Oh, murder! The day's mighty deep, to be sure."

After continuing in a similar strain and conceiving there was little probability of the completion of his labor, he suddenly stopped short, and, addressing the officer of the watch, exclaimed: "Bad manners to me, sir, if I don't think somebody's cut off the other end of it!"

When you use Ramsay's Paints, you are astonished to find how fast they go, how beautiful they are, how long they last, and how reasonable they are. They work so easily, anybody can apply them. W. A. Mitchell will show a range of fine colors for your house inside or out.

"The vernal morning is a thrill with presages," sings an eastern poet. We would advise the vernal morning to keep her presages well wrapped, lest they suffer an early blight.

"A delightful story." The teapot tells it when you use "Salada" Tea: delicious, healthful and refreshing; in fact, "Salada" is tea perfection.

SHE IS PROTECTED
PRINCESS INVENTOR OF NEW CHAFING DISH.

Device of King Leopold's Daughter to Be Sold Under Her Own Name.

Vienna, April 11.—Princess Stephanie of Belgium, now Countess Lonyay, who has just patented a new chafing dish and spirit lamp combined, has already produced many inventions and contrivances for lightening the labor of her servants. Patents for her latest invention have already been taken out in England, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium.

The device, for which alcohol is used, is especially adapted for country mansions where gas and electricity are not available. At the same time it is probable that the great advantages presented by the invention will lead to its general adoption.

The construction completely obviates any danger of upsetting, while the tray under the hot water receptacle effectually prevents any accidents such as the spilling of alcohol.

The countess intends to put her invention on the market as soon as possible, and negotiations between her agent and several firms are already in progress.

Character in a man creates an impression. It is both an advertisement and a testimonial.

You will get cold feet if you stand about waiting for dead men's shoes.
