RUSHED HIS POLICY.
In the legislature last session, M. E. Morrison, M.P.P., of West Hastings, proclaimed in his one short speech that there was no virtue in fighting elections if the party didn't get the offices!

A REASON FOR HUSH.
There may be some reason for a desire to get the local election over as soon as possible. It is feared that scandals are brewing, and that sooner or later there will be an explosion and the good name and record in which some men have been trading will be gone forever.

It will be remembered that when Mr. McDougall resigned the auditor-generalship of Canada, the impression prevailed that he was in some manner restricted in the performance of his duty. He had colluded with the treasury board and took the position that he should be more powerful, that the audit act should be amended to the end that some of the transactions to which he objected should not go through.

CANADA'S CHECK REIN.
The conservative machine has begun operations in Toronto. All the independent candidates are to be retired. Of course, they will show their independence, their disregard of the machine, by doing just what they are told!

DISCONTENT OF THE PEOPLE.
There is much talk of secession of New Ontario. It is useless and to no purpose. The defects in the mining laws, the unshakable favouritism of the government's policy, and the wealth that has been extracted from the new country and spent in the old, has given more or less cause for discontent.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS
Pretty Hard Lines.
The Doukhobors are not wanted anywhere in Canada. They have even been refused admission to the Central prison.

One Kind Of Notoriety.
Toronto Globe.
Just as a vile play or a book of questionable morals gains currency through being banned, so Mr. Bennett gets noticed for his extravagant, but to say brains, methods of conducting himself in parliament. That is undoubtedly true, but calling attention to the matter is one way at least of abating a nuisance.

A Great Delusion.
Toronto News.
The Toronto News, which is undertaking to gild a halo for Hon. Mr. Pyne, tells its readers that "when the boys of the public and high schools took positions as junior clerks, they could neither spell nor write. But his, of course, was before Whitney's magic touch came. According to the News, immediately on Dr. Pyne casting his eagle eye over Young Canada at the desks, every pupil developed a hand like copperplate and could spell words of sixteen letters in Russian and Choctaw with his eyes shut."

At Brockville, Ont., on April 10th, the death occurred following an illness of one day with pneumonia, of Sarah Leslie, widow of the late Amos Abbott, aged eighty-eight years. Mrs. Abbott arrived in Brockville last Sunday from Montreal, on a visit to her nephew, James Perry, and was taken sick on Wednesday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.
Another Comment on the Low Price of Lots.
Glennvale, April 18.—(To the Editor): You headed my letter, "A Reference to the Cheap Price of Outer Lots." I meant lots all over the city. In one instance I sold a lot on York street in a residential part twelve years ago for three hundred and fifty dollars to the late Mrs. Veale. I was offered it a year ago for one hundred and twenty-five dollars. Mr. Chadwick offered me a price that I would not consider at all. I will sell it to him at two-thirds the offer he made me twelve years ago.

A Wedding At Hoards, Ont.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Hoards, Ont., was the scene of a very happy event on Thursday, the 16th inst., when their eldest daughter, Alpha Madge, was united in marriage to Charles Herbert David, son of Ira David, Northport. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herbert Clark, of Stirling, in the presence of about sixty-five guests. Promptly at twelve o'clock the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the drawing-room to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Carrie Dohse, Hastings. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk tulle, with full veil surmounted by white ornaments, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by her cousin, who looked charming in point of dress, and holding in her hand a posy of pink roses, while the bride's sister, little Miss Nora, acted as flower girl and wore a dress of the same material. The groom was assisted by Charles Peck, of Big Island. At the conclusion of the ceremony all repaired to the dining-room where a sumptuous repast was served. The presents were numerous and costly, the groom's gift to the bride being a gold watch and fob, to the bridesmaid, a gold ring set with rubies, and to the flower girl a dainty gold bracelet. The happy couple left amid hearty congratulations and good wishes on the afternoon train for a short trip to Toronto, Guelph and other Western Ontario points. The bride's going-away attire consisted of a gray suit, with blouse of embroidered net, and hat of Copenhagen blue. On their return Mr. and Mrs. David will take up their residence at Northport. Mrs. David will be greatly missed in her home community, as she was a general favorite among her large circle of friends.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
The "cat" is prescribed by some of the judges in England in correction of serious offences on the streets. It is a common sentence for the foot-pads.

The educational system of Ontario is lauded by some prints. But the farmers will not forget the attempt to force class legislation upon them, to make them amenable to features of the law not enforced in the cities.

The Globe reported an agreement between the government and the Electric Development company on the power question. The World pronounces this a fabrication. The World is out for war. What is the matter with Mr. Maclean anyway?

The conservative machine has begun operations in Toronto. All the independent candidates are to be retired. Of course, they will show their independence, their disregard of the machine, by doing just what they are told!

A Last Tribute.
On Sunday, April 5th, Mrs. Mary Judge closed a long and well-spent life at her home in Beaverton, Bastard township. She was the daughter of Patrick McCann, of Kitley, where she was born over seventy-five years ago, within a few miles of the home of her married life. She was with her husband one of the pioneers of Bastard, also a faithful member of Philip Neri's church at Beaverton, Ont. Her new church is sorely missed. The new church in Toledo loses one of its ardent workers and devoted adherents. The many friends, who received a cheery welcome in her bright home, will miss her sadly. Her aged husband survives. Of her children, Patrick and Miss Ella are at home. Mrs. Hagarty, at Beaverton; Mrs. M. Freeman, at Elgin; Mrs. McDonald, at Saginaw, Michigan; Mrs. O'Connor, in Michigan; Mrs. P. J. McNamara at Beaverton.

YOUR STOMACH IS ALL RIGHT.
Few cases of dyspepsia or indigestion are due to any natural disease of the stomach, but to lack of tone and to imperfect secretion of digestive fluids. Day's Dyspepsia Cure restores tone and an increased flow of gastric fluids.
