COUNT TOLSTOI

Sums Up His Views Concerning Death.

OUR LIFE A DREAM

AND DEATH IS THE TRUE AWAKENING.

He is Eighty and Awaits His Awakening With Happiness—He Calls Suicide a Nightmare.

Paris, April 23.—I know with certainty in dying that I shall be happy, and that I shall enter a world more real than this. Count Tolstoi sums up his anticipation of death in reply to a friend, who consulted him upon his approaching eightieth birthday. All earthly life, he says, is a dream, and death the true awakening. He awaits that awakening with happiness.

Elaborating on this idea he says: "Our earth life is one of dreams of another and more real life, and that other life is a dream of yet another, and so on ad infinitum, even to the last life, the life of God."

Of death at different ages and under different circumstances he says: "Death in youth is as when a man is awakened before he has slept full measure; in old age it is as when a man awakes of his own accord of a good sleep. Suicide is a nightmare, which a man banishes by remembering that he is asleep. He makes an effort and awakes."

RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Hears Application Regarding Rates to Muskoka.

Ottawa, April 23.—The railway commission, today, heard the application of the Canadian Northern to require the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific to provide through rates and facilities to Muskoka so that it may participate in tourist traffic there. The complaint of the Fredericton Board of Trade that the railways do not give the same rate to that place as it does to St. John and St. Stephen on freight originating from points west of Montreal was heard.

On May 5th the commission, at its regular sitting, will take up the case of liability of railways for damage on loss of freight put off at flag stations, and also the case of "hitchhikers" where it will be necessary to have a permanent agent.

THAW'S ARE FIGHTING

Against the Release of Crazy Harry From Asylum.

New York, April 23.—With Mrs. William Thaw prostrated by the news that her son, Harry, is moving to secure his release from Matteawan asylum, the whole family is preparing to fight to prevent his liberation. This despite the fact that it has become known that Thaw has in hand $120,000, which he secreted after his first trial, and which he will start to spend for freedom when he appears, as is expected, in Newburg court, Saturday, in response to the habeas corpus order obtained for him by James C. Graham, his newest attorney. Thaw's mental condition, according to the physicians at Matteawan, is just as it has been since his incarceration. It is expected his attempt to regain liberty will be futile.

NEW YORK TO HEAR GOSPEL

One of Twelve Tents Will Be Pitched in Wall Street.

New York, April 23.—The opening campaign for the saving of thousands of unchurched Protestants in the city was inaugurated last night at a mass meeting held at the Metropolitan Opera House under the auspices of the evangelistic committee, and attended by five thousand persons of all denominations. Twelve tents will be put up in various parts of the city, one in Wall street.

CRUISER EXPLODED

Crew Jumped Into the Sea and Were Saved.

Vancouver, B.C., April 23.—Eleven men saved from the gasoline cruiser Clara C. of Seattle, reached New Westminster on the halibut steamer Celestial Empire, the first boat to arrive from Hecla Strait fishing grounds. The Clara C. went up in an explosion and the crew jumped into the sea. They reached Scarlet Point lighthouse after a terrible struggle.

Pretty Girl Tried Suicide.

Cleveland, O., April 23.—A beautiful and richly dressed young woman attempted to commit suicide by throwing herself into the lake at Wade Park, yesterday, and William Davidson, who swam out from shore, was almost drowned in rescuing her. She was finally pulled out unconscious by boatmen, but had a chance to recover. She hired a rowboat, pulled out to the middle of the lake and leaped overboard. There is no clue to her identity.

Ralph Connor In Campaign.

New York, April 23.—Rev. Mr. Gordon (Ralph Connor), of Winnipeg, has lined himself in New York to Rev. Dr. Chapman and Charles Alexander in an evangelistic campaign in the city in which $40,000 will be expended. He addressed a gathering before the Hotel Astor last night, and said, respectable sinners were hardest to get at.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT AT THE TERCENTENARY OF QUEBEC.

The Affair Will Excel in Magnificence Anything of the Kind Ever Seen Before—The Programme Arranged.

Quebec, April 22.—The tercentenary committee has finally adopted the following order for the grand historical procession illustrating the progress of Canada from habitation to the termination of the French regime. The procession will accompany Champlain, when he arrives in port on his ship, through the streets of the city, and to the foot of the monument on the Terrasse, where the Prince of Wales will be in readiness to declare the fetes officially open.

The procession will be headed by men of the water and heralds at arms, costumed in the time of Champlain. Then will come Jacques Cartier, accompanied by his 110 sailors, preceded by a cross and the arms of France. Next will be Francis I, surrounded by his court, all correctly costumed. Then follow Demons, Champlain, Pontgrasse, the three chiefs of the expedition which founded Quebec, followed by the crew of Champlain's ship, the Don de Dieu.

Henry IV, Sully and the court of France are next in order, and then come Dollard and his sixteen French comrades at Long Sault. Next follow, in the order given, discoverers and founders of towns of Quebec, La Salle, Maisonneuve, etc., a cavalcade, representing De Tracy, with his suite, composed of twenty-four guards, and four companies of the Regiment of Carignan-Sallieres, Duluth and the coureurs de bois, Frontenac with the sovereign council, and his staff and guards, etc. Mlle. De Vercheres, accompanied by her brothers and followers, and groups of Indians. Montcalm and Levis heading the different French regiments, and Wolfe and Murray at the head of the English troops; Guy Carleton and the district officers of the regular troops, and Canadian militia; defenders of Quebec, in 1776, and De Salaberry and his 300 veterans of Chateauguay.

A few minor changes have been made in the official programme, providing that five distinct representations of the grand pageant will be given, the first being on Tuesday, July 21st, and the last on Friday, July 31st, so that visitors at any time during the fetes will have an opportunity to view it. Champlain day will be Thursday, 22nd, the day after the prince's arrival. The grand fireworks and illumination of the fete occur the same night, and the Royal Society of Canada meets on the evening of the 23rd, to read eulogies of Champlain in both languages.

Will Soon Be Arraigned.

Montreal, April 23.—It is expected that Dillon, alias Smith, will be arraigned before Judge Lafontaine not later than Friday or Saturday. The medical authorities at the general hospital report the man's condition as good enough to warrant his removal to the jail hospital, where he will be treated. His wound, as healed, with the exception of the one in his arm, and this causes no alarm to the surgeons. Three charges will be preferred against Dillon, one for murder and two for attempted murder.

A BAD TASTE

BY THE GRUMBLERS

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA—"DOLEFUL, UNHUMOROUS."

Are Some of the Names He Calls the Westerners Whose Problem is to Find People to Work.

London, April 23.—In his letter to the Morning Post this morning, Rudyard Kipling says: "Thinking things over, I suspected it was not intended to appreciate the merits of British Columbia too highly. Maybe I misjudged, maybe she purposely misrepresented, but I seemed to hear more about the problems and trials of the situation there than anywhere else. "So far as eye or ear could gather, the one urgent problem was to find enough men and women to do the work on hand. I forgot those doleful, unhumorous grumblers among the people who fervently believed in the place, but afterwards their memory left a bad taste in my mouth."

THE LATE BRITISH PREMIER

Completely Won Affection and Attachment.

London, April 23.—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman resigned the office of prime minister on April 5th, suggesting in his letter to King Edward, who was sojourning at Harrow, Herbert H. Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, and the then acting premier, as his successor. Mr. Asquith was summoned at once by the king, and received the appointment a few days later.

In the death chamber when the ex-premier breathed his last were his niece, Mrs. Campbell, who has acted as Sir Henry's hostess since the death of Lady Campbell-Bannerman a little more than a year ago; Dr. Burnet, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman's personal physician, and who had been in constant attendance during his long illness, and Sir Henry's butler.

The ex-premier had been unconscious most of the time during the last two or three days, and his sinking was gradual. A few hours before his death telegrams were despatched to King Edward, with Queen Alexandra, is visiting the Danish royal family at Copenhagen, the Prince of Wales, and the cabinet ministers. Immediately newspaper reporters were keeping vigil before the house of the dying statesman, but the only news handed to them was that of a bulletin more than an hour after his death.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's final illness dated from February 12th, when he last appeared in the House of Commons and moved the closure of the Scottish Land Bill, although he had been ailing since 19th Feb. 1907, when he participated in an entertainment in honor of Emperor William at the Guildhall. On November 14th, after addressing a political meeting at Bristol, he was seriously stricken with heart weakness, and later influenza was added to his troubles, bringing on his fatal sickness. The ex-premier fully appreciated his condition and realized that his recovery was improbable. He offered to give up office some time before he formally resigned, early this month.

Few invalids have been the object of so much solicitude as he. He was bestowed upon Sir Henry, there having been a constant stream of callers at his Downing street residence, including King Edward, who visited him on two occasions, Queen Alexandra, the Dowager Empress of Russia, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and many prominent men in public life.

Sir Henry's last published utterance was a warm letter of thanks to his Scottish friends who presented him with a portrait of himself.

It is known that the ex-premier was opposed to a public funeral and it is believed that he will be buried without ostentation, beside the body of his wife at Meigs, in Perthshire, Scotland.

David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, on receiving the news of Sir Henry's death, said: "I never met a great public figure since I have been in political life who won so completely the attachment and affection of men who came in contact with him."

The funeral services will be held in Westminster Abbey at noon on April 27th, and the body will be interred next day beside the body of Lady Campbell-Bannerman at Meigs, Perthshire, Scotland. The service at Westminster will be attended by representatives of King Edward and Queen Alexandra and by diplomats and members of parliament.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has called the Chronicle stating that the death of the former premier is a great loss to the British empire.

Missing Child Found.

Medicine Hat, Alta., April 23.—Mary Norquay, aged two and a half years, who wandered away from her home in the Gros Ventre district, on Saturday last, was found yesterday. Her mother, living six miles away, was working in a field when the child walked up. She had been without food for two and a half days, and had wandered on the open prairie during that time. Fifty years have been passing the country since Saturday. It was feared that she or eagle had carried the little one off.

For any case of nervousness, sleeplessness, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Relief is sure. The only new medicine for the price is market.

SURGEONS PUZZLED

Over the Way a Judge's Insides Were Mixed.

Baltimore, April 23.—Surgeons in Johns Hopkins hospital, during an autopsy on the body of Judge John E. McKeighan, of St. Louis, were astonished to discover that the organs in the body were scattered about in almost unbelievable ways. His heart was turned in a portion the reverse of normal, his kidneys were united by a ligament in the shape of a horseshoe, and the liver was upside down with the gall bladder on top. Many of the smaller organs were a chaos of entangling cords and fatty substances. How Judge McKeighan lived sixty-six years with such a strange transposition of the machinery of his body appears marvellous. He was considered one of the ablest lawyers of St. Louis.

UNITED STATES FLEET

Said to Be Next to That of Great Britain.

Boston, April 23.—In a lengthy interview published here, Sir William Henry White, who was for nearly twenty years up to 1902, the responsible designer of all British warships, comments on recent criticisms of the American navy. He declares that the criticisms are unfounded and says: "In my opinion, you have a fleet that, ship for ship, comparing the ships designed at a given date, and that is the only fair comparison, is equal to anything the world contains, and next to the British navy, I think your navy is the best in the world."

Sent Wife to Church; Took Life.

Ithaca, N.Y., April 23.—Seated in a crouching position on a cracker box with a pool of blood at his feet, Henry Lumbard, a well-known carriage trimmer of Peruville, a few miles east of this city, was found dead by his wife Sunday afternoon. Lumbard sent his wife to church service in the village church and went to the attic where he cut the arteries in his left arm with a razor. He had brooded over business failures.

MEXICO'S REPRESENTATIVE

In the United States is a Distinguished Statesman.

Jose Francisco Godoy, who is acting as the official representative of Mexico in the United States during the absence from his post of Ambassador Reed, is one of the most distinguished non-partisan type of men who were born in 1851, and much of his early education was received in San Francisco, where his father was consul. As a young man, he practised law in California and in Mexico, and then took up journalistic work. He was the representative of Mexico at numerous international exhibitions and congresses, including the second Pan-American conference. His first diplomatic work was done in the Central American republic, and then, from 1896 to 1903, he was secretary of the Mexican embassy at Washington.

THE PERSIAN FRONTIER

Is the Scene of a Serious Situation.

St. Petersburg, April 23.—The situation on the Persian frontier is considered here to be steadily becoming more serious, despite the check to the Persian brigades, on April 20th, when the Russian forces drove the bandits back with heavy losses. The rising is gradually spreading, the other mountaineers now locking to the assistance of Sheekstan and Beghin tribes against whom the operations are being conducted. Col. Konovoslov, the Russian chief of staff of the frontier guard, who, for years has been stationed on the Persian frontier, believes that the struggle will not be terminated until the Persians have received a lesson like that of fifteen years ago, when a Russian punitive expedition led over 200 tribesmen, and compelled two tribes to sue for peace.

IT IS QUITE POSSIBLE

For White Star Steamship Baltic to Go to Montreal.

Montreal, April 23.—Harper Fraser-Crowe states that it would be possible for the White Star steamship Baltic to come to Montreal if she is placed on the St. Lawrence route next season along with other vessels of that line. It is reported that such a step will be taken, but it was asserted that it was impossible for the Baltic to come up owing to her size and the depth of water she draws. The engineer's statement disposes of that statement.

The Allan line steamer Corsican, from Liverpool for Quebec and Montreal, via Montreal, was reported 185 miles south-east of Cape May at 7.30 a.m., on the 23rd of April.

Still Skating at Brockville.

Brockville, April 23.—Patrons of the local skating rink were out in large numbers last night. The ice was in splendid condition.

MISS EXCURSION RATES.

High Tides Sweep Barns From Foundations.

Yarker, April 21.—Both churches here were well decorated with flowers, Easter Sunday. Monday the scholars gave an Easter song service in the Methodist church. The long continued cold weather is telling on the farmers' spare cash, and many a dollar placed in the bank has had to be withdrawn to purchase fodder for horses and cattle, so you merchants in the city can expect no extension of trade until the buying of fodder ceases. Maple syrup is very plentiful, while the price here is $1 per gallon. In Athens and Brockville it is 60c. per gallon. Too great a difference.

Rev. Mr. Foster, Smithfield, and Rev. Mr. Farnsworth exchanged pulpits. George McDonald, of Trenton, spent Sunday with his family. Mr. Piper, Albert College, Belleville, preached here Sunday night. Rev. Mr. Spencer, of Roslin, has been appointed to Camden parish.

There seemed to be more than ordinary Easter travel in this section, this year. The cause may be the cutting off of the weekly excursion rates and when the railway gave the low rate for Easter it was taken advantage of. The B. of Q. has no intention of restoring the regular excursion rates, the earnings have not been up to the average, but they lay it to the slowness in trade and it will be made up, with the advent of better times.

The water has been very high, but is receding quickly now. J. C. Connolly's storage shed for wagons was moved off its foundation, necessitating the removal of the rigs therein. J. S. Winter, visiting his parents here for the past few weeks, left for Winnipeg. E. W. Benjamin will erect a new barn here this summer. Mr. Cole, Harrowsmith, is building a brick house for John Galbraith.

Those spending Easter at Yarker: At R. Allen's, May Baxter, Annie Adams, Bessie Laughlin, Harold Baxter, Mr. Laughlin, of Marlbank; at Hermoine Connolly's, Mrs. Charles Doyes, of Kingston; at J. C. Connolly's, W. Murphy, of Ottawa; at Mrs. A. H. Montomery's, Miss E. Martin, of Sydenham; Mrs. Smidley, of Pennsylvania; Amos Smith, wife and son, of Napawan, at W. H. Woodhouse's.

A. W. Buell has secured 300 muskrats, P. Sharbot, 400; James Meeks, 400; the drowned birds, and they still had ten days to play on. The most of those were purchased by James Warner, Yarker. Eggs have likely reached their level for the summer, sixteen cents. Ross Dear, F. Irish, and William Marquette leave here for the west. "Billy" goes to Edmonton, Pennsylvania. Freeman is fitting up his residence here with new hardwood floors and glass front door. Miss Asseline, public school teacher here, is in Kingston. Mrs. John Watt arrived home from the Soo. Mrs. J. A. Vandewater is home again. Overton Dear is on relief work on the B. of Q. An extra twenty-five cents per quarter has been levied by the grand lodge of the A.O.U.W. on each member for organization work. The gripe has many in its grasp in the country.

SEARCHING FOR MOIR

LONDON SOLDIER WANTED ON MURDER CHARGE.

Chief of Police Baillie Whom Police Are Chasing—Must Be Taken Dead Or Alive.

Chief of Police Baillie has received a communication from the police at London, giving a full description of Private Moir, who shot and killed Color-Sergt. Lloyd, of Stratford, in Wolsley barracks, at London, on Friday night, last, and for whom the police of that city are now hunting.

Moir is Scotch, about twenty-five years of age, about five feet eight and a half inches in height, muscular build. The color of the hair and eyes is black, right ear slightly disfigured with small scar on right side of the face. His first finger on his hand is minus about one inch. His facial expression is that of a man of cunning, and showed an excitable temperament, and a pointed remark would always fetch a display of anger.

It is stated that just a few weeks ago, Moir pointed a gun at a comrade who crossed his temper when he was intoxicated. The comrade at whom he pointed the gun made a dash for refuge, and hid behind a large chimney at the barracks.

The officers on advance on mission for the terrible deed of Moir, except that he was drunk, and his ungovernable temper gave way, with the tragic result.

The police all over the country have been notified of the case, and a sharp lookout is being kept up for the murderer. The Lincoln officers have now worked up a clue around Stratford, and are tritling forth every effort possible to run Moir down. The officers have now been instructed to take him dead or alive.
