

Told in Twilight

There was a jolly little luncheon at the Country Club, yesterday, given by five of the well-established members for the new ones just admitted to the 'charmed circle'. The hostesses were: Miss Grace Hemming, Miss Dorothy Brownfield, Miss Lillian Kent, Miss Marie Carruthers, and Miss Phyllis Short, and the very youthful guests were: Miss Blanche Kent, Miss Marjory Brownfield, Miss Charlie Short, Miss Dorothy Carruthers, and Mrs. Iva Martin's young guest, Miss Frances Hazen. After lunch there was golf and baseball and fun in general.

The final year dance at Queen's, last night, was a most delightful event. The Brockville Opera House orchestra provided a choice programme of music, and all the arrangements for the affair were perfect. The programme included twenty numbers, and each one was encored again and again. The moon dances were special features, and more than pleased everyone. A delicious supper and a dainty menu was provided, the service being an excellent one.

Mrs. Iva Martin's dance, at "Underwood," on Wednesday, was "awfully, awfully nice," say the guests, and they add, "it was just like all Mrs. Martin's dances," so when that is said, nothing more remains. It was chiefly for Miss Charlie Short's friends with some of Miss Phyllis' era, and some of a senior generation again asked to give it variety.

Mrs. Daniel Gordon's reception after the nurses' graduation, on Thursday was most informal. Those who were taking part in the programme and any of the governors and their wives who were present were asked to come for a cup of coffee and meet Miss Shively.

Mrs. Alexander Laird, Johnston street, asked a few girls to luncheon, on Wednesday, to meet Mrs. D. D. Galvin. It was a most pleasant little affair for a popular guest of honor.

On Monday Mrs. Daniel Gordon's reception for the final year students, in all the faculties, will be the chief social event.

Miss Alison Rogers has come down with her aunt, from Lachine, for a rest, and will not be home till next week.

Miss Mabel Richards, Alfred street, and a Queen's girl, has come down to Gannoque for a stay of some months.

So glad are all her friends to get her back, that they crowded to call upon Miss Beattie Smyth, yesterday, and her West street drawing-room was filled, all afternoon, their chief theme being, "It is so nice to see you again."

Wedding At Long Lake.

Long Lake, April 24.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. W. H. Storms, on April 22nd, when her eldest daughter, Luella, was married to Frank J. Scott, Rev. Mr. Halpenny, of Sharbot Lake, officiated. The bride was attired in cream brillantines, with trimming of lace and ribbons and carried a shower bouquet of ferns and crysanthemums. She was assisted by her cousin, Miss Amy Cronk, who wore a dress of cream and sequins. The bride was assisted by Williard Cronk, brother of the bride. The wedding march was played by Miss Jennie Cronk, as the bridal party entered the parlor. The couple stood under a beautiful arch of evergreens, decorated with bells and Easter lilies. After the ceremony a dainty supper was served. The table was decorated with ferns and flowers. The bride received many handsome and useful presents. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain. Mr. and Mrs. Scott will reside at Long Lake.

TO PROTECT SCHOOLS

CHANGING OF FIRE ALARM SYSTEM DISCUSSED.

Committee Favors the Placing of the Boxes in Front of the Schools—Will Look Over Present System.

The regular meeting of the fire and light committee was held at the city hall yesterday afternoon. The chairman, Ald. Rigney, presided, and also present were Alds. Nickle, Henderson, Robertson, Hoag and City Clerk Sands.

A question taken up was that of the changing of the fire alarm system so that the boxes might be placed in front of the schools, in order that they might be better protected.

A letter was received from Chief Elmer in regard to the matter, in which he said that it was well that every precaution possible should be taken for the safety of the children.

The chief stated that he had made an offer to the school board to place his patent fire valve at cost into the different schools. For the placing of the boxes in front of the schools the chief estimated the cost at $339.

The re-arranging of the boxes so that they afforded the schools better protection met with the approval of all the members of the committee, but it was desired to have the committee go around the city with the chief to view the present sites before further action was taken, and this will be done.

The chief reported that the firemen were in need of new caps. The old caps had done service since June 7th, 1904, and at that rate they do not owe the firemen anything.

Hoag moved that the caps be purchased, and he and Ald. Robertson were appointed a committee to act in the matter.

This concluded the business before the committee and an early adjournment was reached after the passing of the usual number of accounts.

TWO FIRES AT NAPANEE.

One Building Owned By Sir Richard Cartwright.

Napanee, April 25.—Yesterday morning, about eleven o'clock, fire was discovered in Herring's old foundry, situated on the Napanee river, just south of the Gibbard Furniture company's factory, and close to M. S. Madole's sash factory. The building was in use only as a store house, and it is a mystery how the fire originated. The fire brigade did excellent work and confined the fire to the building although the roofs of the near by buildings caught fire several times. A very high wind was blowing at the time and the sparks were carried a long distance.

About one o'clock another alarm was turned in when a fire was discovered on the roof of H. W. Kelly's residence, just south of P. L. Hooper's drug store. The fire was observed in the early stages and very little damage was done. The Herring foundry was owned by Sir Richard Cartwright.

The roof of the foundry was of iron and this, coupled with the exertions of the fire brigade, saved Napanee from a serious conflagration, as the wind was very strong and would have carried the sparks all about but for this circumstance.

Hartington Happenings.

Hartington, April 24.—The friends of John Bottling were very much surprised to see him home, after but three weeks in the general hospital, Kingston, where he had gone to have his leg amputated. His speedy recovery speaks well for the skillful treatment he had while there.

The cheese factory opened on April 13th. Harry Campbell left for North Bay last week. Mrs. Roy Leonard has recovered from her recent illness. The new store-keeper, Thomas Rogers, has moved his family here from Fermoy, and has opened his store with a complete stock of general merchandise.

Hay is in great demand and is hard to secure. H. Jamieson is loading a car with potatoes to-day. The E.L.C.E. will hold a box social at Charles Purdy's, on Friday evening. Mrs. E. Revell and Miss L. Revell spent the Easter holidays in Kingston; Miss Ruby Sigsworth at Camden East, and Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Lake at Bannockburn. Easter visitors: Mrs. John McQuade and Mildred Clow, Kingston, with friends; Miss S. Vanvolkenburg at L. Clow's; Misses Jewel Sigsworth, M. and G. Hill, and T. J. Goodfellow with Mrs. H. Campbell; Mildred Guess at C. Purdy's, and E. Huffman, wife and daughter at John Dowker's.
