TENDER WAS ACCEPTED

FOR PLACING FIRE ESCAPES ON SCHOOLS.

Tender of Shipway Company, of Toronto at $1,854 was the lowest—Other Tenders Received.

A special meeting of the board of education was held, last night, to deal with the question of placing fire escapes on the different schools. The property committee recommended:

"In accordance with authority given by the board, your committee received tenders for putting fire escapes on the different school buildings. Six were received and opened. The lowest figure was that of the Shipway company, of Toronto, viz., $1,854. The specifications provide that the escapes come down to within six feet of the ground. This point being reconsidered, it was deemed advisable to have all escapes reach the ground, and the contractor being asked what the extra cost would be, placed it at $265. This would make the total $1,584, which is much less than the next lowest tender as per the original specifications. Your committee, therefore, recommends that the tender of the Shipway Iron, Bolt and Wire Manufacturing company, viz., $1,854, be accepted. The Shipway company out in their tender at $1,589, but if the fire escapes were to the ground, this would mean $265 extra, a total of $1,854. This was the lowest figure, and the committee recommended that it be accepted, and the board decided in favor of the lowest tender.

The other tenders were as follows: Page Wire Fence Co., Toronto, $3,774; W. Meadows, Toronto, $2,649; Parkin Elevator Co., Hessey, $2,400; W. Coulburn, Kingston, $2,250; Selby & Youlden, $2,224.75.

Action Withheld. Last week the board of works decided to recommend to the city council that the petition of the cabmen to be permitted to use the south side of Clarence street as a stand be granted. Students In The West. The Winnipeg Free Press refers to a pleasant affair which took place at the station in that city, a few days ago. A dozen or more Queen's students arrived in the city, and were about to leave for various parts, to take up their work as teachers, and leave separating the old college yell for Queen's, and that of arts and science was given with a vim. Speeches followed, and the incident was one of great interest to all concerned.

Death At Barriefield. The death occurred at Barriefield, on Monday afternoon, of Mrs. Thomas Turner, wife of Thomas Turner. Five-Inch Nail In Abdomen. John Lyons, Newboro, lost a valuable horse recently under very peculiar circumstances. For some time the animal was noticed to be losing in flesh, but the owner was unable to account for the cause. On Wednesday, while harnessing the horse, the head of a nail was found imbedded in the back, and was considerably difficult to remove. The animal did not appear to be in a critical condition, but on Saturday, unexpected complications arose and death resulted. An autopsy was performed and it was found that the spike had penetrated the abdomen, just below the diaphragm between the stomach and heart, but none of the vital parts had been injured. How the beast came in contact with the spike is a mystery, but is supposed to have been in the bedding.

Thoroughly Patriotic. Approprios of the flag given by the father of George Comer for the use of St. George's Society, nearly sixty years ago, and used at the banquet in St. George's hall on the day of the patron saint of England, it is interesting to know that while the father made it, the son, who was then a printer boy, bought the silk for it. The flag will bear close inspection—no machine stitching, and, therefore, "cocking" of seams in it, but hand-work of the finest, such as delicate work of the skilled needleworker. Never was the red cross of St. George blazoned on the white field by more loyal hands than those of the father of the ardent Britisher who looks after things at his majesty's customs.

Me. Comer's home, on Division street, is always brave with bunting on a national holiday, and he is an authority on flags and the possession of many.

RAP ON THE KNUCKLES

FOR THOSE IN CHARGE OF AFFAIRS.

Tax Rate High When Everything Considered—The Building of Unnecessary Sewers Causes Friction.

Kingston, April 27.—(To the Editor: It has been stated by city officials and aldermen that Kingston enjoys a low tax rate. They base their conclusions on the fact that the tax rate is only 20 1/2 mills on the dollar. This, I am prepared to show, is a false basis to figure on. If the superintendent of our street railway were to point to his bills for power and say: "That's all it costs to run this road," thinking people would ask: "What about wages, rolling stock, depreciation, interest on investment, etc.?" Now, such a position on the part of the superintendent is analogous to that of the citizen who argues that taxation is low because the rate is only 20 1/2 mills.

Taxation in Kingston is not low—in fact, it is so arranged as to be a heavy burden on the small property owner. First, he has to pay the 20 1/2 mills; then 60 per cent. of the sewer tax; then 60 per cent. of the sidewalk tax; then the street watering tax. If these special taxes were added to the general rate, the latter would be found to be unusually high. Added to these the household must pay insurance, water rates, gas or electric light charges, etc. The sewer tax is especially onerous, and already two complaints have been sent in from Rideau street residents, one from Centre street and one from Queen's College. The high sewer rates are arousing vigorous protests from the property owners, while bad feeling is being engendered among the people effected. Down on Rideau street, that erstwhile peaceable thoroughfare, neighbor has fallen out with neighbor; one has even threatened to horsewhip another, and a case of perjury, to be heard at the fall assizes, has been lodged, it is alleged against another resident on that street. All this friction has developed because one or two men wanted certain street improvements, which the council granted but to which other residents objected. It has come to the point where any crank can complain to the board of health, and that body will authorize the building of a sewer if nothing more harmful than a dead mouse or a live rat can be found. No wonder the population doesn't increase or new industries arise. Unnecessary loss of taxes would discourage anybody. The misdirected expenditure of public funds is another act of which our city council is guilty. Take the quarry deal, for instance. The city buys the property on the advice, presumably of its officials. Then, after the plan for handling the output is put into shape, the city engineer advises against putting crushed stone on the streets, and recommends pavement. Why not look into the matter, and come to the decision before buying the quarry? This is only one of the foolish things the council seems to rush heedlessly into.

HOUSEHOLDERS. Regarding reference to the quarry. City Engineer Craig recommended that limestone macadam be not used in the business section. Much stone, however is needed for all the other streets, and also for the construction of concrete walks.—ED.

The Judgment Given. Justice Tuetzel has given judgment in the case of Francisco vs. G.T.R. company, for plaintiff, by consent, for $500. Defendants also to pay plaintiff's costs. J. McD. Mowat acted for Francisco.
