(To be Continued:) VISION OF GREATNESS.

The Progress of Canada During Forty Years.

Montreal Standard, Canada has her eyes fixed upon vision of future greatness, and 'no doubt finds therin all the inspiration she needs. But if she needed aught to convince her of her high destiny, and inspire her to continued effort, she would find it in the proud story of the last forty years. In the eternal march of history, forty cears is a short space-only the average working life of a man. But consider what Canada has accomplished in her short and busy life? How splendid a story of achievement is hers! How magnificent the tale of her progress and development! In forty years she has multiplied her area over six times, spreading herself out from a thin tract of 600,000 square miles till now she covers 3,-745,000 square miles of the earth's surface one-third of the whole Brit-

In forty years she has more than doubled her population, and increased her foreign trade five-fold. In forty years she had multiplied her railway mileage ten times, increasing it from less than 2,500 miles to over 25,000 miles-more, in proportion to population, than any country on the globe

In forty years she had increased her hank assets from $82,784,000 to $901, 500,000, or nearly eleven times, and her bank deposits from $36,000,000 to $538,000,000, or nearly fifteen times. In forty years she has increased her manufacturing capital from $75,000,-000 to over $900,000,000, or over twelve times; her mineral output from ducts many times.

She has, by deepening the St Montreal at confederation, to proceed right on to the head waters of Lake

In short, she has laid the foundations of a great empire-opened up a country big enough and rich enough to sustain half the population of the

And her achievements have not all been confined to the material order either. Vast as has been the development of her natural resources, great elements of material prosperitmay boast equal triumphs in nobler spheres of human endeavor. She has organized a public school system scarcely second, in point of efficiency, to any other country, and established a chain of universities, colleges and technical institutes from Sydney to Vancouver.
