FIRE INSURANCE.

"For the better part of a decade, The Home Insurance Company of New York City, has ranked as the largest Fire Insurance Company of the United States. Now that the returns for 1906 of the British Fire Insurance Companies are available, it appears that on December 31st last, the HOME passed the only foreign company hitherto leading it, and therefore now undoubtedly leads all the FIRE Insurance Companies in the world in magnitude of assets."—American Underwriter, September, 1907.

GIVEN A SECOND TIME

'NEW ZEPHRA' SCORES BIG SUCCESS AT GRAND.

Entire Production Put on With Fine Effect, Before a Large Audience—Words of Praise For It.

When "New Zephra" was concluded at the Grand last night, words of praise were showered upon all taking part in it. The entire production was put on with fine effect, and the large audience was more than pleased. The speaking parts were all well taken, and the chorus work showed excellent training. The different characters are in capable hands. Mrs. Telgman, as Queen Zephra, and Ada Rosevear, as Neyera, were exceedingly good in their parts, and the same can be said of G. B. Cummings, as Prince Junia, D. Waring, as Sir Alexis, and William Manhard as Sir Solon. All the minor roles were well taken. The scenery is beautiful, and the grand transformation scene in the final act is a special feature. The drill of the Red Hussars and the Highland Cadets was warmly applauded. Mr. Booth announced that on Tuesday night was practically a stage rehearsal, that the judges in the drill competition between the Red Hussars and the cadets, had decided to do the judging last night, and that the decision would be announced on Friday night. The Hussars did their work well, which was commended in the praise given, and the cadets also came in for much praise, and from the standpoint of the spectator it would appear as if the judges would have a difficult time in the awarding of their decision.

All the classes in Zephra showed up remarkably well last night. The merry-go-round dance is very pretty, and was put on with fine effect. The tambourine dance, in which eight young ladies take part, is also a special feature. The canstent dance was good, and the young girls in the tennis dance carried it on with great success.

The Brownies and Blackbirds were again general favorites, and the newboys too, came in for a liberal amount of applause. The work of the male chorus was exceptionally good. In the scene Harris, was very cute in her dancing, and was commended to respond to an encore. Little Miss Norma Hughes sang "Louisiana Lou," in a manner that was most pleasing, and was warmly applauded. The song, "Miss Commodore," by Miss Jessie Reid and chorus, was well rendered, and the showers of confetti formed a most fitting finale to act three.

"New Zephra" should receive the patronage of all the citizens of Kingston. It is given entirely by local talent, and for a worthy cause, but apart from this, it is a production that no one should miss.

RECEIVED A BAD SCARE.

What Happened Two Young Ladies in the City Park.

Two young ladies received quite a fright on Wednesday night while coming through the City Park. They had been out making a run, and it being quite late they took a short cut across the park. When about half way through one of them saw a man behind standing by a tree, but did not think anything of it, and they kept right on going. As it happened the man was a harmless individual, but the other lady, who was also trying to pilot his weary way home.

Just as the women were about to pass by him the man lost his hold on the tree and fell full length on the ground directly in front of them. One was quick enough to jump to one side and miss stepping on the man, but the other tripped over him and fell full length on the path. A piercing scream was heard by some people on the park walk and on West street, and in a moment two very frightened looking females were seen running out at breakneck speed out of the park.

The young ladies paused under the electric light to adjust their hats, brush off some mud and incidentally to get their breath before proceeding on home.

Kingstonian's Good Work.

An entertainment held in Barrie on the evening of April 23rd, in the interests of the work of the Bradford Institute for the Blind, Herbert Trencor, of Kingston, aged seventeen, who has been blind from birth, took the most prominent part. He proved himself a most competent pianist and organist, playing a variety of selections, including some very difficult ones, with rare interpretation, rich expression and brilliant technique. His selections were very much appreciated. Mr. Trencor's skill is marvellous.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure in fact internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

"Canadians Who Are Doing Things and How" forms an important and highly edifying feature in the May number, which is generously illustrated.

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to sluggishness, and to sluggish circulation in general. The restorative lacks of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oft-times weakens the heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days' test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by all dealers.

QUEEN'S CONVOCATION

CONFERRING OF DEGREES ON WEDNESDAY.

The most interesting and Presentation of Bust of Andrew Carnegie—Some Fine Addresses Were Delivered.

Convocation is a notable event at Queen's University, and at the proceedings on Wednesday afternoon, which marked the sixty-seventh session of its kind, Grand Hall was filled to the doors. The graduates had many friends anxious to witness the ceremonies, and it was indeed a warm greeting that they received.

The proceedings opened at 2:30 o'clock, with scripture reading and prayer, by Rev. James Wallace of Lindsay. The presentation of scholarships, prizes and medals, took place first, and then followed the conferring of the degrees by the chancellor.

A most interesting part of the programme was the unveiling of a bust of Andrew Carnegie, a benefactor of Queen's, which was presented to the university by Sir Sandford Fleming. The address of the chancellor, appeared in the Whig yesterday. The bust was unveiled by Chief Justice Maclean, Ottawa, chairman of the board of trustees, who spoke briefly in appreciation of the gift.

The chancellor was then presented by Justice Maclean, for the honorary degree of LL.D., which he received at the hands of Principal Gordon.

Justice Maclean paid a warm tribute to the work of the chancellor, who, he said, had just completed twenty-eight years of noble service for the university. It was rather late to confer this degree, but he expressed the hope that the chancellor would appreciate the honor none the less on this account. He would say that the chancellor's own modesty had been to blame for his not having received the gift sooner. Everyone was delighted to know that Sir Sandford had been so long spared to occupy and merit such a useful position. He was sure that there was not one day of that long service of twenty-eight years, but had brought about a great deal of thought for the welfare of the university, on the part of the chancellor.

The speaker referred to the work accomplished by the chancellor on the great railways, earlier in his career, and of him as one of the builders of Canada. For the future of Canada we would be greatly indebted to him.

The chancellor replied in a most fitting manner, thanking the university for the honor which had been conferred upon him.

Professor Watson proposed the name of Hon. John Charlton, for the degree of LL.D., who on account of serious illness, was unable to be present. Prof. Watson sketched the career of Mr. Charlton, and remarked that he would be quite safe in saying, that no public man had done more to deserve and secure the confidence of his fellows.

Dean J. Connell presented the name of Dr. Barker, of Johns Hopkins University, and the recipient of this degree was unable to be present, owing to business in connection with his own university.

Dean Connell, in referring to Dr. Barker, said that he was born at Norwich, Ont., September 16th, 1867, and educated in the public schools of Ontario and Pickering College. In 1890, he graduated in medicine at Toronto University, and since that time, had a distinguished career, having been professor of medicine and physician in chief at Johns Hopkins University since 1905. He was the author of several medical papers and addresses. He was a Canadian who had won for himself a foremost place in the leading medical schools in the United States.

Milton H. Hersey, M.A., Montreal, also received the degree of LL.D., his name being proposed by Prof. Nicol. Prof. Nicol gave a sketch of Mr. Hersey. He was born in Montreal in 1869, and entered McGill and graduated in 1889, as a B.Sc. He received the degree of M.Sc., in 1899, and for three sessions acted as lecturer in the department of chemistry at McGill, assisting the late Dr. Harrington. Immediately after his graduation he commenced his career as a public analyst, and has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession publicly and privately since that time. In 1900, he was appointed provincial Primrose Minstrels.

The great Primrose and his mammoth minstrel, will be the attraction here at the Grand on Tuesday, May 5th. The singing this year has been made a special feature of a magnificent new first part, done in green and gold, and said to be the most beautiful picture of its kind ever seen on the minstrel stage. Eight big acts of genuine merit complete an excellent olio, and incidentally are said to form the best show Mr. Primrose ever produced.

A Different Liniment.

It is well worth while to learn the merits of a liniment that does more than all ordinary liniments can do. It cures where common liniment will not even relieve. Use it whenever pain, aches or soreness exists. In big bottles, 25c., at Wade's drug store.

The great Primrose and his mammoth minstrel, will be the attraction here at the Grand on Tuesday, May 5th. The singing this year has been made a special feature of a magnificent new first part, done in green and gold, and said to be the most beautiful picture of its kind ever seen on the minstrel stage. Eight big acts of genuine merit complete an excellent olio, and incidentally are said to form the best show Mr. Primrose ever produced.

A Different Liniment.

It is well worth while to learn the merits of a liniment that does more than all ordinary liniments can do. It cures where common liniment will not even relieve. Use it whenever pain, aches or soreness exists. In big bottles, 25c., at Wade's drug store.

The merry month of May brings joy and gladness, sunshine and flowers. The issue of the Busy Man's Magazine for the current month also brings pleasure and profit for its ever-widening circle of enthusiastic readers.

"Canadians Who Are Doing Things and How" forms an important and highly edifying feature in the May number, which is generously illustrated.

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to
