Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.
 The heart has supplied to us two sets of nerves, one set which excites, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve degeneration, any kind of strain is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.
 Knowing the intricate structure of the heart, and being aware how disease of the nerves affect the heart, we have combined in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a treatment that will cure all forms of nerve disorders as well as act on the heart itself, and in this is the secret of their success in curing so many cases of heart trouble which have defied all other treatment.
 Mrs. John Riley, Duane, Ont., writes:
 "I have been a great sufferer from heart and nerve troubles for the last ten years. After trying many remedies and doctoring for two years, without the least benefit, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial. I am so full to say that, after using nine boxes, I am entirely cured, and would recommend them to all sufferers."
 Price 50c. per box or three for $1.50, all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

 Eight, April 28.—The death occurred at her home here on Wednesday, April 28th, of Mrs. Elizabeth Churchill, at the age of eighty-three years. She was predeceased by her husband some ten years ago. They were among the early settlers of this vicinity, residing in the village at first. The past number of years was spent on a snug farm one mile out of the Newboro road. The deceased was a lady of estimable character. She was a friend of all and converted in the McKinley school house in Leeds at the age of sixteen, and since then has been a strong believer in the Methodist doctrine. Up to within three days of her death, she was always found with knitting in her hands, or a needle and thread in a quilt block. She had just completed a quilt of many thousand pieces when she died.

BATTERSEA BUDGET.
 Pike Run Short—Muskrat Catch Was Large.
 Battersea, April 28.—The sap season is over and a long and good one it has been. Karl Vanlunen manufactured about three hundred gallons of syrup, besides a quantity of sugar. W. Oran also manufactured a large quantity. The pike run in the creek and swamps was unusually short this spring. The ice held on too long. The catch of muskrats was the largest in years, notwithstanding the high prices paid for the skins. C. Lake heads the list with three hundred to his credit.
 Dr. S. J. Laidlaw spent a week at Port Rowan recently, where he is engaged in a professional duty. S. Angelo, who spent the winter at home, has returned to the west and located at Cypress Hill, where he will engage in the musical profession. D. Lake and George and Adam Sletta have also returned west. Harold Martman, ill with pneumonia, is somewhat better. Mrs. Robert Dixon is also recovering from a severe illness.
 Many farmers have had sick cattle this spring and some have been unfortunate enough to lose one or two. Dr. Spinkie's recent inspection of the village school, and subsequent address on "The New School Laws," were much enjoyed by those who attended. Miss Lena Todd, of Brewer's Mills, and Miss Betty of Wolfe Island, have returned to their respective schools, after spending Easter holidays at home. Otto Vanlunen has returned to Sydneyham high school.
 Easter visitors were: Mrs. Haslam, Ogdensburg, at L. Vanlunen's; Dr. E. Lake and wife and child, of Kingston, at Dr. S. K. Lake's; C. F. Ireland and wife, Portland, at J. Hughes'; Ethel Lee, Kingston, at W. Ormsbee's.

PRAYED FOR DYING.
 Regarders of Creep As He Heard Screams.
 Buckingham, Que., April 29.—The presence of mind and devotion of Curate Belanger, assistant priest at the ill-fated village, is the subject of much comment, now that the first awful thrill has passed and the survivors are commencing to realize the extent of the disaster and to recall the dreadful moments of its duration. One incident is particularly striking. When those who were out of the danger area were aroused by the trumpet, true to their faith in the clergy, he rushed to his home to be directed. The cure was absent at Buckingham, but the curate, Father Belanger, was aroused. He at once, with presence of mind and a self-control which is to be admired, went to the balcony of his home overlooking the death valley, and though he could see nothing through the darkness, he could hear the soul-piercing wails and dying shrieks of his unfortunate parishioners. Realizing the solemnity of the tragedy and awakening to the fact that many had received their last call without any warning, the curate raised his arms, and with an impressive gesture that cannot be described, pronounced the prayer for those in "articulo mortis," a common administration for all, regardless of identity, sex, or religion.
 Several more bodies were seen today in the eddy below MacLure's dam; but none could be recovered, and all were swept under the jam of logs. Business here is practically at a standstill, the La Salette catastrophe absorbing all other interests. The majority of the unemployed now are spending their time on the river banks looking for the bodies of the victims. The eddies of the river are full of the debris.
