McMANUS RELEASED.

French Government Did Not Press Its Case.

At Montreal, on Thursday morning, Judge Choquet discharged "Kid" McManus, the noted criminal, from custody. He had been under remand for seven weeks, waiting for the French government to establish that he is the man wanted for the Paris Rue Scribe robbery. The judge said the French authorities had failed absolutely to connect the man in court with the man wanted in France.

It is known that everything was done to get the French government to withdraw its demand for the custody of McManus. Strong influences were brought to bear from New York. McManus served in penitentiary at Kingston, under the name of Martin, for robbing Bryson's store in Ottawa.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

Jumping on the Train at the Station.

A citizen, in speaking, last night, in reference to the complaint made by G.T.R. Agent Nicholson, about young men and boys jumping on the trains at the outer depot, and stealing rides, stated that it was a wonder to him that there had not been several fatalities as a result of this practice.

It appears that for some time they have been jumping on the trains. Some get on the trains as far as Cataraqui, and others go farther, perhaps to Napanee. This has formed a very popular pastime for a great many on Sundays. The company, however, intends to stamp this nuisance out, and all guilty parties will be summoned to the police court. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

GAVE INTERESTING ADDRESS

On "Turkey and Missionary Work There."

"Turkey and Missionary Work There" was the subject of a very interesting address, delivered at Chalmers church, on Wednesday evening, by Rev. S. B. Manoukian, B.A. There was a good attendance, and the address was much appreciated by all. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, occupied the chair. The lecturer gave an account of the good work being carried on by the missionaries in this foreign land and told many stories concerning the work.

SAYS HE WAS ASSAULTED

GEO. ANDERSON, A DANE, PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Robert Berde, a Norwegian Charges Him With Using a Knife—The Case Will Be heard To-Morrow.

With blood streaming down his face from several wounds, inflicted upon his head, Robert Berde, a Norwegian, thirty years of age, hurried into the police station at midnight, last night, and asked for protection. He told a story of having been assaulted and beaten by another man, in "Redneck Jack's" restaurant, on Ontario street. He was given shelter for the night, and his wounds were dressed by a doctor.

Berde accused George Anderson, a Dane, aged twenty-nine, of having committed the assault upon him, and as a result of an investigation made by Constables James Craig and Patrick Driscoll, Anderson was lodged in the cells at noon, and in the police court to-morrow he will be arraigned on a charge of assault. Berde suffered severe cuts about the head, and one of these required the putting in of three stitches. He says that Anderson struck him with a knife, but this charge the accused denies.

Both men are sailors, and it appears they got into some trouble in the restaurant. Anderson, who, it is said, does not belong to the sailors' union, claims that Berde called him a "scab" and that this was the cause of the trouble. It appears that there was a second row at the corner of Princess and Ontario streets a little later, when Berde also came out second best.

Although of a very painful nature Berde's wounds are not believed to prove of a serious nature. He was able to walk around to-day, and will be able to attend court when the case is called in the police court to-morrow.

This is the second row of a serious kind to take place at the restaurant mentioned within a week.

"CANNING" HIS SPEECHES.

Bryan Preparing For Campaign—Speaking Into Phonograph.

W. J. BRYAN. New York, May 7.—A despatch from Lincoln, Neb., says: In the seclusion of his Fairview home William J. Bryan has been talking for several hours each day. His words have floated into a phonograph. His voice was in excellent condition and the results have been marvellous.

It is asserted that two million records will be manufactured. Should Mr. Bryan be nominated for the presidency he will utilize the phonograph plan and his speeches will be sent out to every hamlet.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.

Princess Street Methodist School's Good Work.

The annual Sunday school meeting of Princess street Methodist church was held last evening. About thirty teachers and officers sat down to a bountifully spread table, with Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Harrison as special guests. After enjoying the good things provided by the teachers Rev. Mr. Sproule called the officers for reports of their work, all of which showed very encouraging results. The average attendance was shown to be 120, with amount raised during the year $281.62 of which $25.50 was given to the poor. Mr. Harrison was then called upon for an address, which was brimful of bright suggestions and commendation of the work done by the school. Mrs. Harrison gave a short but practical talk on the Grade Book department, after which the election of officers took place with the following results: Superintendent, Miss Emma Wilder; assistant superintendent, J. E. Chown; secretary, N. Armstrong; assistant secretary, Mrs. L. M. Gammeter; treasurer, Mrs. L. M. Gammeter; librarians, Messrs. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds; home department, Misses Wyle and Gardner; cradle roll, Misses Woods and Adair. All the teachers were re-elected. Mr. Harrison then conducted a short conference on methods of work and answered many questions which confront the teacher to the satisfaction of all. A vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. Harrison for their presence and addresses and also for the handsome check presented by Mr. Harrison to the school.

Were Made Use Of.

Any young man who happened to be around the Grand Trunk station to-day, when the show company came in, were quickly taken in hand by the girls, who did not have any numberless and did not want to get their Merry Widows set. One young gentleman was greatly surprised when two fair creatures came up and taking his arm asked him to escort them to their hotel, as they did not want to get wet.

Deprived Of Votes.

Should Go To The Courts.

Charles Layzell writes to the Whig reiterating his charges that his child was shocked by electricity from a street car at the outer junction. The case is one that should go to the courts for adjudication.

14th Regiment Church Parade.

It is likely that the 14th Regiment church parade will be held on Sunday, May 24th. As major, the Rev. Canon Starr, chaplain of the regiment, will not be here, the service may not be held in St. George's cathedral. St. Andrew's church has been suggested in view of Rev. Dr. Mackie being chaplain of the Highland Cadets.

Wiping Up The Mud.

Two drunken men succeeded in wiping most of the mud and dirt off Ontario street, between Princess and Queen streets, between two and three o'clock this afternoon. Both were helplessly drunk and fell down nearly every step they took, or rather tried to take. They finally made one of the hotels in that section, where they were soon peacefully sleeping.

Funeral On Thursday.

The funeral of the late James Creighton, youngest son of the late Robert Creighton, Sydenham, took place on Thursday afternoon from the residence of Mrs. William Newlands, Bagot street. The late Mr. Creighton had been residing in the west for some years. He has been ill for some weeks, his brother and sister being with him at the time of his death.

Remains Came Over.

The remains of the late Charles F. Scott, aged twelve years, who died in Albany, N.Y., on Tuesday, were brought over on the Cape Vincent to today. The young lad's home is in Pictou, and the remains were taken there for burial. Deceased had only been ill a few weeks from scarlet fever. His father and mother accompanied the remains.

Thinking Of Hats.

When the two met on the G. T. R. station platform and undertook to greet one another with a kiss the "Merry Widows" interferred, because the woman from out of town had just as big a hat as her friend here. After the hats clashed the crowd laughed, and the conversation between the two women was something like this:

"I wondered what kind of a hat you got this spring." "Why, isn't that funny; I was thinking the same thing about you." "I declare, I believe mine is just as large as yours." "Really, I believe you are right, but I have got more trimmin' on mine." Then they moved for a street car.
