LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Crackerjack Postman.

Kingston, May 9.—(To the Editor): I think you will agree with me that we don't want to hear any one say that our postmen are slow after you read the following: A lady visiting Kingston from the west received a letter to-day, bearing her name, and Kingston, Ont., only, on the envelope. How the postman found her out is a mystery to her. She only had arrived. No wonder the postmaster is trying to make things easier for them, when he has such a staff of live men.—Yours truly, FROM THE WEST.

The Army Service Corps.

The local company of the Canadian Army Service Corps is being recruited every evening at the armouries. Major Waugh, who has charge of the company, is on hand regularly to receive recruits and those reporting. This company has to go to Quebec for the forty-seventh century earlier than the other troops, and Major Waugh is endeavoring to have it well organized and drilled before the beginning of July.

LIKELY TO BE ERECTED IN MACDONALD PARK.

Alderman Kent Intends Erecting a Drinking Fountain in Clarence Street Park—Will Ask Citizens For Subscriptions.

The parks committee will likely meet on Wednesday next to decide what it will do in regard to replacing the big flag pole in Macdonald park. The likelihood is that the base of the pole will also be removed, as the city engineer does not think it will last a great while. It has likely rotted down the centre. Prices have been asked for the erection of steel, concrete and wooden poles, and the figures will be submitted to the parks committee when it meets next week. A St. Catharines firm erects concrete poles, and some information about them is wanted. A steel pole seems to be the one favored. The parks committee will require an extra appropriation to cover the cost, and Mayor Ross has promised to see that the finance committee of the city council makes provision without the upper portion of the big pole. On Victoria day, Superintendent Phillips will float his flag from the pavilion pole.

Ald. Kent, chairman of the parks committee, is going to have Clarence street park a place of beauty this year. Besides its five flower beds, vines are to be planted along the fences. Eventually, a row of red cedar may be put in the background.

Ald. Kent is also going to start out and get subscriptions for the erection of a drinking fountain in the centre of this park, about four or five feet in all the Clarence street sidewalk. Such a fountain much needed, and it would be greatly appreciated by the people. The cost would be about $250 and this amount can be raised by private subscription. A couple of citizens have promised twenty-five dollars each.

Superintendent Phillips says that the board of works doesn't concern itself about the King street breakwater. In view of its long negligence in not clearing up the esplanade after it had rebuilt the breakwater, he put men to work and the place is all right now. However, the cost of the cleaning can be charged to the "horse and rig" committee.

GROSSLY LIBELLOUS.

A Charge Denied By B. W. Folger and Others.

The official campaign pamphlet of the provincial conservative party will probably be withdrawn from circulation in the course of a few days. It contains a grossly libellous statement regarding a number of well-known gentlemen, who in 1903 were acting as commissioners for the construction of the Temiskaming railway, and who had been appointed to that office in part because of their knowledge of railway construction and finance.

The libellous statements refer to the incidents attending the discovery of the Cobalt silver mining field in 1903. During that year the commissioners were Messrs. A. E. Leonard, M. J. O'Brien (Retired), and B. W. Folger (Kingston). For a merely nominal indemnity these gentlemen devoted a large part of their time to superintending the construction of the government railway connecting Cobalt and against them is contained in the following extract from the party campaign pamphlet:

"It is only fair to contrast the action of the board of commissioners and officers of the T. & N. O. railway of that date with that of the present board, whose business methods in disposing of the odds and ends of mining rights remaining in the crown have resulted in such large bonuses and royalties. The old board and officials regarded the mining discoveries as a sort of public property, and instead of helping to reap the profit which might have meant much to the provincial exchequer, they hurried out, a number of them, and staked out mining locations themselves. And not a word of criticism of this action of the board of public officials has appeared in the liberal press!"

"What would be thought if, to-day, the present government threw open the Gillies limit to prospecting and staking, and the officials and the members of the present railway committee went up and staked out a portion of the most desirable locations?"

When asked about the above charge this afternoon, B. W. Folger declared that it was a gross falsehood. He never had any mining location or claim, federal or provincial, in the Cobalt or any other district, and he was positive that the other commissioners hadn't either. All the other commissioners made the same strong denial as Mr. Folger of this deliberate calumny.

WAS GIVEN A WEEK

For Using Abusive Language Towards His Wife.

For using abusive and threatening language towards his wife, Thomas Cook, living on Upper Johnson street, was, this morning, sentenced to jail for a week.

"I said a little to my wife," Cook stated to the magistrate, "but she said as much to me. I had taken two or three drinks. I was in my own house."

"One week in jail," said the court.

"I did not know my wife would take such action," said Cook.

"Well, you will understand that it is likely to happen every time in the future," was the court's reply.

Cook then wanted to know whether the court could impose a fine instead of the week in jail.

"I will impose a fine of $5 too, if you like," said the magistrate, but Cook had no answer.

Are Quite Frequent.

Two men, who work on the rafts, at Garden Island, got into a mix-up in a downtown hotel, early on Saturday morning. The scrap lasted for some time, and both men were badly used up.

Funeral On Tuesday.

The funeral of the late James Alexander will take place on Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Alexander Arthurs, 272 Princess street. The Masonic order will have charge of the service.

My! Such Weather.

Farmers on the market from all sections of the country had a complaint to make this morning, "about too much rain. Some say they have not been able to do any seeding, and others state that the heavy rain has washed the seed away that has been put in."

In A Bad State.

Lying in the mud helplessly drunk, a man was found on a Place d'Armes street this morning, at ten o'clock. He had to be placed in a coalwagon and taken to the police station. He could not give his name, and he was placed in a cell to sober up. The case was one in which a patrol wagon would have done good service.

Want The Lovers Chased.

There is a certain section of the city known as Lovers' Lane, and in the spring time it becomes quite popular with the young folks. Every evening quite a few couples can be seen in the lane, just to see everything was peace and quietness, when he was stopped by one of the lady residents of the street, who asked him if he would be kind enough to tell the "lovers" to move off that street, as they were becoming a nuisance with their spooning round there every night. The constable who was once young himself, smiled discreetly and continued his walk.

MISS MARIE CLIFTON.

(Miss Bree, of Hamilton, Ont.) Leading Lady in "We Are Kings" at The Grand, on Friday, May 14th.

A Minister Appreciated.

Rev. Reuben Calvert, E.D., superintendent of the Pittsburgh circuit, having intimated that he would be unable to return as their pastor for the fourth year, the quarterly board resolved by unanimous vote to put on record their appreciation of his services. Most of the members present spoke feelingly of the value of his services for the three years he had been their pastor. Mr. Calvert underwent a slight operation last fall and his physicians advise him to cease as much possible from driving for two or three years. His health in every other particular is good, and with the exception of a few Sabbaths he has been able to attend to his work during the year.

Princess Street Methodist Church.

The annual meeting of the Princess street quarterly board was held at the parlour last evening and was of a very encouraging character. It has been a year of extra strain, financially, owing to the erection of their comfortable and much needed parlour, but the people have responded nobly to the appeal. The amounts raised by the different departments were as follows: Ladies' Aid, $250; Young People's Guild, $70; men's offerings and collections, $520 for minister's salary; the latter being in advance of any previous year. The congregations are steadily increasing and the outlook for Methodist in this part of the city is very hopeful.

A Story Recalled.

Appropos of last night's performance the story is recalled of a supper party given here, some years ago, in which the chief figures were one of the greatest authorities in English in the world, another professor whose philosophical views have circled the globe, and a third, the host, that poet and man who once gathered bright minds about him in "Romilly House" and "Queens-cote." And it wasn't of the intricacies of our mother tongue, nor of the depths of Kant, nor of the quibbles of the law that the learned ones talked, but just of the clearest common sense of that Oxford don, that foremost mathematician and recluse, Rev. Charles Dodgson ("Lewis Carroll"), who told it first to amuse some little girls whom he dearly loved and afterwards gathered it into books for millions of other children to enjoy.

Had A Runaway.

A farmer's team, standing in front of a residence on Queen street, above Sydenham street, became frightened at some boys running down the street and dashed down the hill. The produce in the wagon was spilled over the road. At Wellington street the horses went to turn and collided with a post, damaging the back of the wagon. The horses were stopped by a soldier, near the corner of Wellington and Barrack streets.

Frontenac Liberals.

The liberals of the county of Frontenac met in the Whig hall, on Saturday afternoon, and after considering the political situation, it was decided upon a vote being taken to support Dr. W. Spankie, of Wolfe Island, the independent candidate in the provincial campaign. The name of John O'Keilly, of Hallowell, was proposed, but the motion to support Dr. Spankie was carried.
