Who Wants a Distinctly New Hat?

The curving of a brim—the way the flowers and foliage are combined and applied—the tilt and swing of a plume—the LITTLE things about the trimming and shaping of a hat make it decisively modish, or commonplace.

The very latest ideas in summer hat-creating are on display here.

Whether you select a trimmed hat for everyday street wear or one of the richly dressy hats that reflects the modes of Parisian designers. You'll find our present showing of Millinery correct, becoming, and pleasantly priced.

Come, while the assortment is at its best.

THE TOILING MASSES

M'KAY'S EIGHTH LETTER TO ONTARIO'S PEOPLE

A Cardinal Principle of Liberalism to Trust the People—The Measures Adopted to Help the Working People.

Toronto Globe.

"Trust the People" has ever been a cardinal principle of liberalism. The pages of our statutes, both provincial and dominion, contain many concrete illustrations of this principle. From the liberal party has come nearly every enactment to extend the franchise to the masses, and to place all men on an equal footing as to citizenship. To liberals we owe the ballot manhood suffrage, and manhood suffrage registration, as almost the entire volume of labor laws to be found in the statutes, whether dominion or provincial.

Dominion Measures.

I can, at present, recall no outstanding measure passed by conservatives, during the many years they were in power at Ottawa, for the benefit of the great army of toilers, if an exception be made of the creation of Labor Day. Against this, among other acts, there stand to the credit of liberals, for example, the creation of department of labor, establishing and conducting of the Labor Gazette, the general act of conciliation and arbitration, the alien labor act, the "fair wage" policy, the Lemieux act for the compulsory investigation of disputes affective public utilities.

Provincial Measures.

A perusal of the princial statutes of 1871 down till 1905, will show that scarcely a year passed that did not witness legislation intended and adapted to improve and to make for the betterment of the condition of the laborer. Outstanding among these are such acts as the mechanics' and wage earners' liens act, the act respecting masur and servant, the act respecting accidents to employees on railways, the factories act, the shops regulation act, the trades dispute act, the miners act, the act respecting schools for artisans, the act respecting technical schools, the act creating a bureau of labor.

Opinion Of Labor.

It is not surprising, therefore, that some years ago, A. W. Wright, (who is at present an independent conservative candidate in West Toronto), who was then a labor leader and an honored member of the executive board of the Knights of Labor of America, should have said things decidedly favorable to the Ontario labor laws. Mr. Wright is in the habit of saying things, and lately has hinted that he may now any evening say something highly interesting. Speaking of the then Ontario labor laws, he said: "While there is still a great deal of legislation which we labor cranks think should be enacted, I am free to say that Ontario has not much to learn from any state in this respect, and is immeasurably in advance of most of them."

Liberal Convention.

In November, 1901, at the great convention held in Massey Hall, the liberals of the province of Ontario unanimously, by way of resolution, made the following a plank of their platform: "That this convention is pleased to notice the progressive character of the labor legislation of the province of Ontario during the past twenty-five years, by which wages are secured by liens and preferences over ordinary creditors, or by simple processes at law, by which the safety of the working classes has been protected on railways and in factories; by which the hours of labor have been restricted, and facilities offered for voting at municipal and parliamentary elections; by which the inspection of factories, bakeries and mines has been provided, and a labor bureau established for collecting information with regard to the condition of labor in Canada and other countries. That this convention is of the opinion that those branches of the public service affecting labor should be consolidated with a view to the fullest consideration of the various matters with which they are concerned, in order, if possible, to establish bettef relations between capital and labor, the avoidance of strikes by the best methods of conciliation, and the prevention of unskilled alien and prison labor from unduly interfering with the opportunities of the labor classes of this province."

Conservative Record.

Contrasted with the above, the conservative party in this province has nothing to show, except broken ante-election promises that it would require all prison-made goods to be distinctly labelled as such. This pledge, contained in one of the resolutions adopted at the conservative conference in November, 1904, was expressly violated in one of the very first prison labor contracts made by the present government on attaining office, and has actually been openly repudiated by the provincial secretary, who has charge of this department, on the floor of the house! But as to prison labor contracts, more anon.

Almost Choked To Death.

Lionel E. Schwartz, a commercial traveller writing from Winnipeg, Man., says: "Catarrhozone cured me of asthma after doctors had despaired of my recovering. I seldom slept through the whole night without waking up in a fit of coughing. Sometimes I almost choked to death. I have not been bothered since using Catarrhozone. It has cured me entirely. Catarrhozone is the only remedy I have ever met to give such good results." Sold by all dealers in three sizes, 25c., 50c., $1, for two months' treatment, which is guaranteed to permanently cure.

Notes From Philipsville.

Philipsville, May 26.—The rain on Friday put a stop to seeding for a few days. Pastures and meadows are getting a great growth. Some of the farmers have finished seeding, and are fitting up their planting ground. Mrs. B. C. Phelps, Watertown, N.Y., spent a few days with B. C. Parrants. Miss L. M. Blackburn, nurse, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. B. Phelps, for a few days. She had a call to Frankville, Tuesday, to take charge of an operation. B. B. Ostrum, teller in the Farmers' Bank, is spending the holiday at his home in Frankford. The Philipsville cheese factory opened its doors for the reception of milk on the 19th. When the factory is finished it will be one of the best factories in Ontario. The factory is built in a grove of maples. The building is thirty by eighty-two and one-half feet, built of brick, plastered on the inside and ceiled with three-inch lumber. It comprises a boiler room, manufacturing room, cold storage, and an ice-house, all under one roof. The proprietors are putting down cement floors throughout the whole building. The Baptists have the foundation completed, ready for the brick work for the extension of their church building. Young people from here held a picnic on Victoria day at Jones' Falls. They left Delta in "put-puts." E. A. Whitmore attended his aunt's funeral at Lyn on Friday. Deceased died at Picton. Miss Edith Davidson, Brockville, spent the holiday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Phelps. Mr. Montgomery, of the Farmers' Bank, paid Elgin a short visit on Sunday.

Getting Ready For Heaven.

Heaven is less a place than a condition. It will be heaven only to those who get ready for it here. No one can sing in the heavely choir who has not learned heaven's music on earth. No one can enjoy heaven whose enjoyments here are not heavenly. To the base, impure, sensuous, it could not be heaven. Get ready for heaven now. Learn its love-songs. Enter into its enjoyments. Live now as you expect you would have to live in paradise. Drop now what you know that you would have to drop at the gate. Do not depend on heaven, for heaven depends on you!

FALSE THEORIES

Lead to Worthless or Harmful Remedies.

Stimulating the scalp may allay the itching of the dandruff, but that does not cure the scalp. The disease won't yield to quinine or capsicum nor alcohol, because it is caused by a germ or parasite. To cure dandruff the germ must be destroyed. Until recently there was no hair preparation, or dandruff cure, or hair restorer on the market that would kill that insidious germ that dries up the scalp in little scales called dandruff, and absorbes the vitality of the hair, causing falling hair, and finally baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only really scientific preparation to cure dandruff, prevent falling hair and baldness. Sold by leading druggists.
