VERY VIOLENT

Against King Edward Visiting Russia.

SOCIALISTS PROTEST

ATTACK MADE ON EMPEROR NICHOLAS.

Russia the Subject of Debate in British Commons—The Canadian Club Banquet in London to Lord Crewe Was a Notable Event.

London, June 5.—Violent protests were made by the socialists and labor members in the House of Commons, yesterday afternoon, against King Edward's approaching visit to Russia, in language, the offensiveness of which no attempt was made to veil. The speakers drew lurid pictures of the alleged conditions in the Muscovite empire, declaring that while they had no objection to King Edward privately visiting his relative, Emperor Nicholas, they had the greatest abhorrence of the idea of a state visit to Russia, "with its horrors, tortures and persecutions terminating with the hanging of liberty in Russia." They declared it would be a shame and disgrace to Great Britain. King Edward, they said, could not avoid contamination if he mixed in evil company.

The labor-socialists suggested that the visit had been engineered by Russia with the view of rehabilitating her credit. John G. S. McNeil, nationalist, joined in the debate.

Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, on behalf of the government, deprecated the tone and the temper of this attack. He declared that the evidence proved clearly that the system of government in Russia had apparently bettered during the last two years and such an attempt to exert pressure as suggested would hinder this constitutional progress instead of helping it.

James Keir Harvie, socialist-labor, excelled himself in violence of language against Emperor Nicholas and the Russian government. He was called to order by the speaker, who threatened to stop the debate unless he withdrew certain objectionable phrases. This Mr. Harvie finally did. The labor-socialist motion condemning his majesty's visit to Russia was defeated by 225 votes to 59.

The Financial News replies to an indignant outburst by the Financial Post, of Canada, regarding the Premier's statement with respect to the alleged defaulting of an unnamed Canadian city by pointing out that Brandon defaulted on a coupon in December, 1898, until the bondholders compelled it to resume payment.

The Canadian Club, last night, banqueted Lord Crewe, Lord Strathcona presiding over a large and distinguished gathering. Lord Strathcona eloquently expressed the assurance that Lord Crewe, being as keenly imperialist would, equally with his predecessor, do his utmost to unite the different parts of the empire.

Respecting the announcement of penny postage with the United States he anticipated it would soon be universal. Having paid tributes to Earl Grey, who had been given invaluable support by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he referred amid applause to the Quebec tercentenary, and also emphasized the patriotism of Western Canada, where there was room for millions from the United Kingdom.

Lord Crewe responded, expressed regret that his duties prevented him from going to Quebec. During the three hundred years Canada had undergone all the experiences which went to make up the life of a great nation and now stood in the forefront of the civilization of the world. It only remained for Canada to develop a literature and an art worthy of her activities. Hon. Mr. Seely, Thomas Barrow and Hon. Charles Russell also delivered addresses.

CHUG OF AUTO

Is the Death Knell of Big Family.

REMEDY NOT EASY

MOTOR CARS ATTACKED AS CAUSE OF RACE SUICIDE.

Chicago, June 5.—Dr. Edwin E. Graham, of Philadelphia, chairman of the section of the American Medical Association, devoted to consideration of the diseases of children, declares automobiles a cause of race suicide.

In the "chug, chug" of the big sixty-horsepower touring car can be heard the death knell of the big family, a laugh of defiance at the appeals of President Roosevelt, and the teachings of those who prefer a motherless wifehood, according to the picture drawn by Dr. Graham.

"The remedy for a reduction in the birth rate is not easy to apply," declared the doctor. "All nations are becoming more extravagant in their methods of living. Automobiles and babies do not mix. If we have one, often we must renounce the other."

Race suicide received a blow from another direction, when Dr. Walter B. Dorsett, of St. Louis, in addressing the section of the association on diseases of women, asserted that wives who deliberately avoided motherhood were as guilty of murder, as though they took the life of a living child. He advocated the passage of laws providing a punishment for such action.

Dr. Graham did not confine his attention to race suicide. He also spoke of drinking among women in the United States and foreign countries, the murder of infants and the connection between infant life insurance and burial clubs and the death rate among children.

"Since all empires are founded on babies, unless a change in the trend of statistics of infant mortality shall take place, our future generations will fail to develop physically and numerically along lines which are both normal and eternal," he said.

"Race suicide is not a theory, but a fact. France is actually facing slow extinction. Its birth rate is smaller than that of any other European nation. The bother and expense incident to the care and rearing of children does not appeal to all women of the present day. Motherhood is not always synonymous with wifehood. A high birth rate is usually, but not invariably, linked with prosperity."

The speaker then called attention to the fact that the birth rate among the foreign population of this country was higher than among the native population.

"Giving opiates to children in the form of narcotic or a soothing syrup is pernicious and should always be absolutely forbidden," he continued. "Infant life insurance and burial clubs cause the death by neglect of many. There are statistics proving that a much greater number of the children insured and in burial clubs die than of other children in the same cities and towns living under exactly similar conditions. Coroner's inquests should be rigid and impartial, and if there is any question or possibility of infanticide the case should be thoroughly investigated."

THE GERRYMANDER

Anent this Iniquitous Piece of Legislation the Toronto World (conservative) said, before the elections came on: "If the liberal government had done things parallel to the 'readjustment' of some of the changes adopted in the redistribution measure, Hon. Mr. Whitney, as opposition leader, would have stormed the skies in protest."

The members of the bridge committee of the county were in the village on Thursday morning, in reference to the new bridge.

The little son of Albert Tompkins was injured, last week, by being thrown from the wagon when the horses ran away. Fortunately the injury was not serious, and the little fellow is rapidly recovering. Off a Launch at Leek Island, Gananoque.

Gananoque, June 5.—The seven-year-old daughter of William Guernsey was drowned off Leek Island shore at dusk last night. The father had left in a small launch for Gananoque and left the little girl in the large launch playing. The mother missed her and supposed she had come to town with her father. When he returned she asked him about the child and he said he had left her in the large launch, which was then tied in the slip. Together they went to the large launch and there was the little body lying on the bottom in about four feet of water.
