LOST HIS LEG

A Sad Accident to George Coxworthy.

MANGLED BY PLANER

WHILE AT WORK IN LOCOMOTIVE WORKS.

His Fellow-Workmen Horrified—Accident Occurred in a Flash—The Sufferer is in a Critical Condition in the General Hospital.

A fearful accident occurred in the machine shop of the Canadian Locomotive Works on Thursday afternoon, at five o'clock, and as a result George Coxworthy had his left leg mangled so that it had to be amputated above the knee, and he now lies in the General Hospital in a critical condition. The accident happened in full sight of many other workmen, so quick-aid their fellow-workman, but only stand horror-stricken at the ghastly sight, as the man fell back from the machine with the lower part of his body wrenched and torn by the huge machine. No blame can be attached to any person. It was one of those regrettable accidents that seem to happen quite often in large shops, and happen so unexpectedly that one knows nothing until they are over.

Mr. Coxworthy was operating one of the smaller planers in the machine shop, his own machine that he had been running for some time. On the side of the machine is a part called the dog that moves the knives and metal after the metal has passed through once and had one shaving taken off. The dog revolves quickly as the metal passes through. In some manner the operator got his leg caught in the dog and in an instant his left leg was wrenched out at the knee.

The other men working near came to his aid as soon as possible, and the sight they found was truly fearful. The leg was mangled into shreds from below the knee to about two inches above the knee, crushing the whole knee joint, and the foot and ankle also badly crushed. When the iron caught him it did not crush his leg as it would be crushed by something falling on it, but pulled it out and turned it around with a quick wrench, which tore all the ligaments and muscles from his leg.

S. Corbett's ambulance was immediately summoned and the injured man was removed to the General Hospital. When Mr. Coxworthy was picked up and put on the stretcher he was quite conscious, knew how he had been injured and knew those standing around him. Dr. Kilbourn was summoned as soon as the ambulance arrived and when the patient picked up a little the doctor amputated the leg, about half way between the knee and the hip.

"Coxey," as he is familiarly known among a large circle of friends, was one of the most popular men in the Works, and always made friends where ever he went. In his younger days he was one of the best defence men the Kingston O.H.A. team had, and was a fine baseball player. When the old roller rink was running on Johnson street "Coxey" was one of the best, and only a short time ago was up at the new rink and could show them all some fine turns. Last winter he played a most effective game for the Locomotive Works hockey team in the K.A.H.A. series. His many friends sympathize deeply with Mrs. Coxworthy and her two children in their great misfortune.

INSPECTION OF 14TH

BY GENERAL LAKE ON THE CRICKET FIELD.

The Old Rifle Regiment Showed Up Well—The General Expressed Himself Well Pleased With Its Work.

On Tuesday evening the 14th Regiment, Princess of Wales Own Regiment, was inspected by Major-General Lake on the cricket field, and a fine showing the corps made. The regiment, about three hundred strong, both bands attending, left the armouries about half-past seven o'clock and marched along Montreal to Brock, to Sydneyham, to the cricket field. The regiment presented a fine sight. The riflemen were all out in their best, the white helmets adding greatly to the parade. The streets all along the line of march were black with people and when the regiment arrived at the field the crowd was very great, young and old being out in numbers to see the regiment go through its drill. During the evening the brass band rendered several selections at different parts of the field.

Lieut.-Col. Keat put the regiment through the first part of the drill and the different companies certainly did their work in fine style. The complete line of men would move as one man. The right and left half sections were also put through, the right being companies Nos. 1 to 4, and the left half being Nos. 5 to 8. Maj. Cunningham then took command of the regiment. Capt. Hughes put the men through the review, the regiment was drawn up in line ranks, facing the fountain of the court house, when the men were inspected by Gen. Lake, who was greatly pleased with the men's appearance and conduct. After going over the lines the regiment was put up and down the field once or twice and then the company commanders took command of their separate companies and put them through their evolutions. This is where both officers and men showed well. There was very little to pick from between the different companies. All went through the difficult movements without the least hesitation or mistake. The men had been in the field about an hour and a half and during that time had seen the review well every minute. In the drill hall, most of the movements are done at the double and the men did not have much rest in between, but they walked out and over to the armouries without showing any ill-effect.

When in the armouries, Gen. Lake congratulated the men on their appearance, saying that the 14th was in fine shape, and if anything, better than before. The general was greatly pleased with the entire inspection. Many people who know, and who have seen the annual inspection for some years, stated that the regiment went through last evening better than it ever did before.

Accompanying Gen. Lake were Col. Gordon, Lieut.-Col. Hemming and Lieut.-Col. Young, of the Eastern Ontario command.

After inspection a luncheon was served to the officers in the ante-room at the armouries, where a few hours were pleasantly spent with songs and stories.

CLOSE UP THE RANKS AND MOVE STEADILY FORWARD TO VICTORY.

Let Every Pense Man Aid in the Work of the Candidate's Reception—Liberals Are Full of Unity and Vigor.

Get your canvases closed up, boys.

The workmen are working hard for Pense.

Next week will be another awful week for Whitney.

If you have a rig, help the liberal candidate on Monday.

Premier Whitney, however, was not bold enough to be honest without a gerrymander.

All the labor legislation on the statute books is liberal legislation. Don't forget that.

The Whitney power policy is neither water nor electric power—it is simply wind power, so far.

Slandering opponents is a poor way of conducting an election. It is out of date in this progressive age.

There never was a government which was better picking for the lawyers than the present one at Toronto.

The acclamation elections do not count. Whitney put up candidates in a dozen grit constituencies he knows he cannot elect.

Are asylum supplies purchased by tender as conservatives said they would be? In Kingston they snicker at the suggestion.

The Crothers' promise of free school books having done its work, is now withdrawn from circulation as a Whitney election weapon.

All the legislation upon the statute books of Ontario in the interests of the working classes came from the liberal side of the legislature.

All electors favorable to Mr. Pense's candidature will be welcome at his committee rooms, which are open all day and every evening.

The farmer has not been a favorite of the Whitney government. Agriculture has got less of the increase of expenditure than any other department in the province.

Dr. Hossack estimates that 30,000 liberals voted for Whitney candidates in 1905, when Whitney made an appeal for a non-partizan verdict. They have been sold and betrayed, and will not be fooled again.

The liberal candidate stands for British precedents, British majority rule, British practices and British fair play. The conservative candidate stands for Yankee imperialism of the political method, the gerrymander, the spoils system and the atrocious double vote and minority representation of Toronto in the conservative interest.

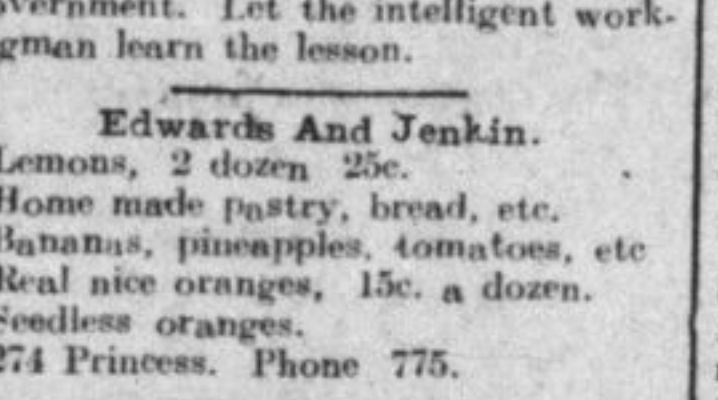

The conservative organ in Brantford boasts that the "fair wage" clause has been inserted in the specifications for work to be done at the Ontario Institution for the Blind. Of course, it has been; it had to be; it's the law, and it must be remembered that the law was passed by a liberal government. Let the intelligent workmen learn the lesson.
