WAS HURRIED TO PEN

J. E. ANDERSON, BIGAMIST, ARRIVES AT PRISON.

Chief McDermott had charge of prisoner, who was not handcuffed—His Trip on the Train. J. E. Anderson, bigamist, and former public school inspector, at Brockville, was hurried to the penitentiary, after he was sentenced to a seven-year term. He was sentenced at 10:45 o'clock in the morning, and at four o'clock in the afternoon he was registered in the roll at the big prison at Portsmouth.

Chief McDermott arrived with the prisoner over the K. & P. railway at 3:45 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. The prisoner was not handcuffed and in this way a possible scene was avoided. There was a small crowd at the station, but there were only a few who knew that it was Anderson, the bigamist, that Chief McDermott had in charge. The chief and Anderson got into an open carriage just as soon as they alighted from the train, and in a few seconds they were driven out King street at a lively clip. Smiling and talking to Chief McDermott the prisoner did not appear to take his position very keenly. He is in good health and gave every appearance of being recovered from weakness shown at different times since his arrest. On the way to Kingston Anderson chatted with the chief, and during the stop-over at Sharbot Lake sent a parcel to wife No. 1 at Toronto.

The prisoner, who is fifty-five years of age, was found guilty of marrying the twenty-one-year-old daughter of Rev. Mr. Jamieson, Methodist minister at Renfrew, when he had a wife and nine children in Toronto. When the sentence was imposed at Renfrew Anderson, who had probably been expecting it, was apparently unmoved and his eyes never left the floor, although he grew somewhat pale.

Constable Lee, of Pembroke, who brought the prisoner down, said that Anderson had acted like a child in his conversation. It has been learned since his arrest that Anderson was advanced considerable money by one or two Renfrew gentlemen, while it is also said that at his wedding a gift was received apparently coming from his mother, but his mother, it seems, has been dead a number of years, and it must have been Anderson himself who sent the gift, as a further form of deceit.

Anderson, when he entered the penitentiary, became known as No. 504. He will likely be set to work to teach the penitentiary school, which occupies forty minutes during the dinner hour, and also a couple of hours in the evening. This school instruction is chiefly for the illiterate. During the day time he will be otherwise busy. At present the penitentiary is over-run with excellent clerks, quite a number of the prison, including bank managers and bank accountants.

The penitentiary inmates have not totalled so high for some years. The prison population is at present fifty or sixty in excess of any time during the past two years. Quite a number of men have been sentenced to prison during the last year or so.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.
All Small Boats Should Carry Lights at Night.

Kingston, June 8.—(To the Editor): With the growing number of motor boats on the harbor and rivers it becomes increasingly necessary that all boats should use the white, red and green lights proscribed by law and custom as well as common sense, and this should apply to skiffs, canoes, yachts and all sorts of boats. For craft propelled by hand an ordinary bicycle lamp, with its white search light and red and green side-bulbs will suffice. Under existing conditions with fast and lightweight motor boats shooting all over the bay and with unlighted canoes and yachts floating about, a fatal accident is only a question of time. Kingston, therefore, should do what is done in other yachting centres, and oblige all craft to go lighted after dark.—RED LIGHT.

The Whig will bulletin the provincial election returns tonight. Come around and see them.

Delegates To High Court.
At the last meeting of Court Frontenac, held Thursday evening, the following delegates were elected to the high court of Eastern Ontario, I.O.F., to be held here on the 25th and 27th of August next: James Craig, R. W. Allen, George Wilkinson, R. S. Graham, Joseph Hipson, J. M. Sharman.

Special Notice.
Members of Council No. 20, C.O. C.F., who have not secured their tickets for the "At Home," on Tuesday, June 9th, will have the same given to them from 7 o'clock to 8 P. M., Bell, 1714 Wellington street. Grand officers will be in attendance.

They Were Numerous.
More drunks were on the street on Saturday evening than there has been in some weeks. A large number were around the streets in an intoxicated condition. Election talk brought on a good many scraps and some of them became regular free fights before they were finished.

Screens For Windows.
Workmen were to-day engaged in placing screens on windows of the police station. The screens were ordered by the police commissioners as a result of the complaints made about liquor being passed through the window to the prisoners. The placing of the screens will do away with this, and all offenders will now be compelled to do without an "eye-opener."

Gave Instant Help.
When George Coxworthy called for help at the time of his accident Herald Ferris was the first to hear him. Turning around Herald was at first powerless, but in an instant he jumped just in time to prevent a death. Herald was not able to assist in lifting George from the machine, but ran for the office to phone for the ambulance while other fellow workmen lent every possible assistance.

SATURDAY'S BASEBALL

THE LOCOS DEFEATED THE VICTORIAS.

By 8 to 6—The Game Was Keenly Contested—The Junior Game Was Won By the Crescents By 12 to 11.
One of the best games of baseball this year was pulled off at the cricket field on Saturday afternoon, when the Canadian Locomotive Works team defeated the Victorias by eight runs to six. The game was one of the closest and snappiest seen here in some time. It was anybody's game until the end of the ninth inning. In some innings it would be a pitcher's battle, and both batteries were able to look after themselves when it came time to do so. The teams went to bat as follows:
C.L.C. (8)—Burke, c.; Saunders, p.; Dixon, lb.; Dehoney, 2b.; Ewart, s.s.; Eford, 3b.; McMahon, lf.; Davidson, cf.; McKim, rf.
Victorias (6)—H. Dick, c.; G. Dick, p.; Evans, lb.; McCartney, 2b.; Pound s.s.; Williams, 3b.; Gillespie, lf.; Nicholson, cf.; Maudslayi, rf.
P. Nicholson made a satisfactory reference.

The game was witnessed by a large number of people, each side having a good bunch of supporters who did a lot of rooting for their own team, and at times the excitement was quite warm. Several times the score was tied and each team was in the lead more than once, but the Locos finally got together near the end and landed the winning run. This is the first game the winners have played this season and they deserve credit for their victory. Saunders threw a steady game, and to him the locals owe their victory. He caught many men at third and second, saving runs. He throws to the bases well, and when throwing to the plate deals out some good hot stuff.
In the junior game the Crescents added another victory to their list, when they defeated the C.L.C. II team twelve runs to eleven, in a hard fought game. Both teams put up good ball, and like the senior contest it was anybody's game until the finish, when the Crescents pulled out. They are now second in the league, the Victorias being first with two wins, the Crescents next with two games won and one lost, and the C.L.C. have lost three games.

YOUNG MAN DISAPPEARS

And Mother Makes Complaint to the Police.
Robert Allan Clark, aged eighteen, rode away from his home, Montreal street, on a bicycle, last Tuesday, before noon, and has not put in an appearance at the house since. This is the story of the young man's mother, who called at the police station, this morning, to register a complaint.
Mrs. Clark says that she can give no reason why her son should want to leave home, and cannot account for his continued absence, without her receiving any word. The young man had been working all winter, and on the Monday night before his disappearance was home as usual, and appeared to be in the best of spirits.
Young Clark is described as being of dark complexion and when leaving wore a pair of dark overalls, a light checked coat, and cap.

Married On June 4th.
Miss Isabel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Joyce, Division street, was united in marriage, on Thursday, June 4th, to R. T. Eager, of Detroit, formerly of Toronto. The young couple left for Chicago and the west for their honeymoon.
Prevost, Brock street, has a splendid assortment of gent's furnishings and ready-made clothing at low prices. The order department is well assorted with new goods. First class value and fit guaranteed.

BATTLE WAXED WARM

SAID TORY PARTY HAD A BIG FUND.

Determined to Win Whatever the Cost—Spies Brought Here to Watch the Liberals—Two Cases of Intimidation.
The election campaign assumed a more lively aspect on Saturday afternoon and evening. J. H. Metcalfe's withdrawal from the contest did not affect the liberal outlook, as it was anticipated that there would be a re-action against W. F. Nickle for interfering with the run of the labor candidate. A close election was, of course, anticipated, but the liberals seemed quite confident that Mr. Pense would win out, in spite of obstacles. These obstacles were three-fold: First, the tory party having the government prestige; second, the patronage, and third, the biggest amount of booze brought into Kingston in twenty years.

For the past two weeks the tory machine element has sought votes through asylum patronage, and secured a number by a "hand-out," now and then by a "hand-out" at intervals. Giving work at the asylum to a number of persons was another thing. Again, hotel owners have been threatened, and one by no less a personage than a local liquor license commissioner, who informed him that if he worked in this election, his hotel would be cut off next year's list. Another hotelman was threatened by a deputization ten days ago, if he voted for Metcalfe. He told this deputization to go to—, that he could live without a liquor license. This shows the most contemptible tactics adopted by the party.

It was freely reported that the tory side had $25,000 at their disposal and that amount was needed to buy the constituency. The purchase of the license was reported at the rate of about $30 each.
The greatest piece of gall and hypocrisy on the part of the tory machine bunch was the bringing here of a number of detectives from Toronto and Ottawa for the purpose of watching the liberals so they couldn't bribe the electorate. One of these "detectives" gave away this information on Saturday night. The liberals were suspicious of this imported gang, suspecting them of being here for the purpose of intimidation and bribery. Several of these imports were watched. On Sunday afternoon, a couple were met by a prominent conservative. Liberals got wind of this, and declared that if the chance came, both of these parties would be arrested on the first opportunity that afforded.

Leading liberals figured that only one thing could defeat Mr. Pense, viz., lack of organization at every subdivision. It was known that the Nickle party had excellent organization. If the liberals were as well organized as they were in 1905 and 1906, Nickle couldn't win.
Labor men were very angry over the pulling out of J. H. Metcalfe. The Independent Labor Association held a special meeting on Saturday evening and a motion was brought in to support Mr. Pense, but the majority thought it better to connect with no particular candidate at that late date. The feeling, however, was in Mr. Pense's favor, the leading officers speaking in his behalf.
The polls seemed to be well manned by both sides from the time of their opening at nine o'clock. The Nickle side appeared, however, to be in stronger force in a number of subdivisions. The tories were quite confident of winning out, but the same confidence was expressed on the part of Mr. Pense's supporters. At noon it was difficult to make a positive forecast beyond the statement that the election would be close. Kingston is a well-divided constituency, and has been so for the last sixteen years only by the most thorough organization and the hardest of campaign work.

To Be Fine Hay.

Hartington, June 6.—Farmers are rejoicing over the prospects of a good crop of hay. Mr. and Mrs. Benson Babcock are visiting friends in Fafon Rapids. Mrs. George Elberbeck is remodeling her home. The Epworth League will hold a garden party in the near future. Dr. T. H. Trousdale and Dr. McDonald, spending some time at J. Taylor's, have returned to Kingston, for the medical council examinations. Mrs. William Patterson, Sr., Camden East, was at her daughter's, Mrs. John Dowler's, this week. Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Lake visited Inverary over Sunday.

Epidemic of Dysentery.

It affects many people more in winter than in summer—in the case it is due to improper eating—in the other to congestion excited by cold. A very small dose of Servilin repeated every hour or two removes the trouble thoroughly. If there is pain, relief is immediate—if merely relaxation, the result is just as certain. You can't find a treatment for bowel troubles, indigestion and stomach disorders half so good as Polson's Servilin, thousands say so.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The Productions Announced For This Week.
The Fiske stock company closed its engagement at the Grand Opera House on Saturday evening. The piece produced was "Shadows of Midnight," and was handled in a creditable manner. The specialties were new and up-to-date. The company left, this morning, for Peterboro.

Mrs. Leslie-Carter in "Du Barry."
The engagement of Mrs. Leslie-Carter at the Grand on Tuesday, June 9th, in David Belasco's play, "Du Barry," will offer the theatregoers of this city an opportunity of seeing the greatest emotional actress of the present age. There is but one actress of our time to whom this dramatic artist can be compared, and that one is Sarah Bernhardt, and the "Du Barry" at her best. In the very many plays that the great French actress has appeared, not one of her impersonations takes precedence over Mrs. Carter's rendition of "Zaza," "Du Barry" and "Adrien." Of this wonderful trio, her "Du Barry" takes first rank. It is the play which presents Mrs. Carter at her best, her very best. "Du Barry" was written for Mrs. Carter, and in it she shines with particular brilliancy. It is a great role, one of the biggest and most varied that has come from the pen of a dramatist.

"The Lion and the Mouse."
Much interest attaches to the presentation here again at the Grand of "The Lion and the Mouse," June 10th. The Charles Klein drama presents a picture of American financial life much discussed and widely written of, the money magnate who controls the financial world by means of the electric push-button on his desk—it is based upon facts well-known to the public. In Mr. Klein's characterization of "Ready Money" Rydler, he has deftly introduced the touch that humanizes even a man of millions—paternal affection. "The Lion and the Mouse" is a vivid denouement of the struggle between Rydler and the girl beloved by his son. The play is filled with human interest and pictures vividly financial and social life of to-day.

ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL

ARCHBISHOP ADMINISTERED SACRAMENT.

To 150 Boys and Girls—The Address Given By His Grace—The Preacher at Vespers Was Rev. Father Maher.
The important festival of Pentecost was observed in St. Mary's cathedral on Sunday with solemnity and grandeur. The archbishop presided. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Hanley, rector of the cathedral. The choir sang in a spirited manner the "Missa Regis," first and second tone, in which the male voices were clear and distinct. The gospel intoned at the mass was John six, 23-31.
At the conclusion of the mass the archbishop imposed the sacrament of confirmation on seventy-six boys, seventy-four girls and six adults. He then addressed them on the importance of the Holy Ghost, imparted to them, and urged them to have the courage to be valiant soldiers of Jesus.
In the evening grand vespers were sung. Rev. Fr. Maher spoke eloquently and forcibly on the descent of the Holy Ghost on the apostles and divine commission given to them to preach the gospel of Jesus to the world. The altars were handsomely decorated with flowers and brilliantly illuminated at the benediction of the holy sacrament.
