WERE CONVICTED THEY WERE IN BURGLARIES AT TORONTO JUNCTION.

Sullivan Who Was Shot Just Out of Hospital—A Delicate Operation Performed—Said Shipping is Dull.

Toronto, June 10.—Michael Martin, John Riley and John Sullivan, before Judge Winchester, this morning, on charges of committing a series of burglaries, on March 17th last, at Toronto Junction. The two latter men were caught while burglarizing the store of Keys & Sons, and Sullivan, while attempting to escape, was shot by Constable Peters. He has just left the hospital and came into court with the aid of a crutch. On the one charge Sullivan and Riley were found "guilty" and they will be tried on the other charges this afternoon. Martin was allowed to go. He said he might have been with Sullivan and Riley on the night of the burglaries, but he was so drunk he could not remember. Both the other prisoners said, in court, they never saw Martin before.

George Miller, the fifteen-year-old boy, who was shot by his little friend, Clarence Gildner, a week ago, underwent a delicate operation at Grace Hospital, yesterday, by which the rifle bullet was removed from his left lung. The removal was a success, but the lad spent a restless night and, today, is reported as being not so well. If no complications set in, young Miller will recover.

Shipping men along the water front bid trade very quiet this spring. Some of the package lines have not had all their boats idle commissariat, and the tonnage steams are being hit hard. As a result, a good bit of coal is being handled by vessels that ordinarily do not compete for coal trade. At Oswego the competition is very keen for what grain is being moved from Port Arthur and Fort William to Montreal. Steamers are forced to either take coal or return in ballast. This condition of affairs is not confined to upper Canadian ports, but is equally felt on the American side. So many vessels have tied up across the line that several men, with officers' and captains' partners, have visited Toronto during the past few weeks seeking to obtain berths for the summer.

The Bank of Commerce crop reports from the west for the last week of May indicate that the grain is, in many places, three weeks ahead, and there is every indication of bumper crops. In Saskatchewan there has been scarcely enough rain in places and there are points in Alberta which have had almost too much, on the whole, however, the outlook is exceptionally hopeful.
