Requested More Money For House of Industry.

Thursday morning, at nine o'clock, the grand jury presented its report to Judge Madden. The jurors visited the penitentiary and the jail and were greatly impressed with what they saw there. Everything in the jail was neat, clean and up to a high standard. The members also visited the House of Industry and were greatly pleased with what they saw; they are of the opinion that the institution should receive a larger grant from the government. Everything in the house was in first-class order. Before dismissing the jury his honor thanked them for their services.

A GREAT SCENE.

Splendid Jewish Tragedy at The Bijou Theatre.

A thrilling tragedy, based on the scriptural story of Judith and Holofernes, will be presented at the Bijou to-morrow and Saturday, with magnificent stage setting, and costumes, and excellent acting. The scene is laid during the uprising of the Jews against their Assyrian oppressors. The uprising was on the point of suppression, and the elders were about to submit when a beautiful and high-born Jewish woman undertook to save her countrymen. This was Judith. She proceeded, attended only by her maid, to Holofernes' camp and caused the great general to fall in love with her. Holofernes gave a magnificent feast in her honor. After the guests had departed Holofernes fell asleep, through drunkenness, and then Judith, after a prayer to God, cut off his head and making her escape, carried it back to the elders. The story does not appear in the Bible, but in the apocrypha. All the magnificence of Assyria is to be seen in this picture. A haunting costume is also presented, and a fine travelogue, "A Day in Paris."

BALL AT THE BARRACKS.

A Delightful Time in Dancing and Sociability.

Everything, on Wednesday night, made for the complete success of the first ball held in Tete de Port barracks for many years. The weather was perfection, a clear sky, a beautiful moon, cool, fresh breezes blowing from the lake, so that no one wedded of the dance—the setting was very beautiful.

Within the grey old barracks was a bower, made so with greens which are evergreen, and greens (fresh-tinted by the spring, lilies, palms, flowers of every hue and subtle fragrance, arranged to perfection. There was a lavishly laid out buffet table, and all the lights, in sitting out places, were dimmed and softened by red shades.

The mess room, where the guests were received, and the billiard room, were used for dancing, and the music by the battery band, floated through open windows by the dancers within. This was an excellent band, and a delightful one. The out-of-doors was utilized as much as possible, and supper was laid in a large marquee on the barrack square. Besides this the cadets provided sitting out places in the form of canoes, and it says lavishly for the Kingston cadets that they could take trains, and high-heeled slippers and ball-room finery into a canoe between dances, and come out unharmed from a paddle for the next dance.

Besides the dancing there was bridge for the dowers, and many devotees spent the time in their favorite game, before and after supper.

Receiving the guests were: Col. and Mrs. H. E. Burstall, wearing a handsome Empire gown, of cream, with beautiful lace and jewels; Mrs. Norman Stuart Leslie, in a creation of this line, and diamonds; and Mrs. Alan Palmer, in a lovely gown of white. All the battery officers, also, made capital hosts.

Among the guests were: Col. and Mrs. E. F. Taylor, Maj. and Mrs. E. B. Lafferty, Capt. and Mrs. John Corbrant, and Mrs. Christine, Capt. and Mrs. de Burc, Col. and Mrs. Douglas Young, Col. T. D. R. Hamming, and Miss Grace Hemming, Capt. and Mrs. J. Hamilton, Miss Lenore Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bell, Mr. and Mrs. de Mowbray, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Martin, Miss Phyllis Short, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Butler, Miss G. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Carruthers, Miss Marie Carruthers, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stevenson, Mrs. Raimy Duff, Miss Jean Duff, Mrs. Arthur P. March, Miss Boswell, and Miss Nora Gordon, Miss Eliza Pense, Miss Frances Hora, Miss Mabel, and Miss Dorothy Brownfield, Miss Bessie, and Miss May Smythe, Miss Leta Carson, Miss Mildred Cooke, Miss Kathleen O'Hara, Miss Loretta and Miss Irene Swift, Miss Madelon Carter, three out-of-town girls, in pretty frocks, were Miss Mulson, of Montreal; Miss Lillian Taylor, of Ottawa, and Miss Doris Sackling, of Toronto.

There were twenty dances and a number of extras, and very attractive programmes, with the regimental coat-of-arms adorning them, were carried home as souvenirs of a night in June which will stand out among many June nights, the memory accompanied by the pleasantest thoughts.

CONCERT AND SALE.

Fine Affair Was Held at St. Luke's Church.

The concert and sale held under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild, of St. Luke's church, last night, was a most successful affair, and much enjoyed by the large number in attendance. Rev. R. S. Fomeri, occupied the chair. The arrangements were under the charge of Mrs. Watson, and the success was due in no small measure to the efforts she put forth. The programme was a most delightful one, and included piano duets by the Misses Stewart, solos by Miss Gertrude Laidley, piano solos by Master K. Walker, solos by Rev. Mr. Bilkey, quartette selections by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Miss Macmorine and Mr. Marshall, Jr., solo by Miss C. Fomeri, recitations by Miss Bessie Comeau, and a very interesting part of the proceedings was the contests. The first was a drawing contest for a box of choice chocolates, and the winner was Miss Florence Scofield. The prize for the least guessing contest was an autograph book, made by the Ladies' Guild, and this was won by Frederick Clayton. The different sale tables did a good business, and it is expected that a good sum will be realized. The tables were under the care of the following: Fancy goods, Mrs. Marsh; home-made candy, Mrs. Murray; Mrs. Graves; ice cream and strawberries, Mrs. Saunders; Mrs. Caldwell; and Mrs. Birmingham; candy booth, volume ladies of St. Agnes' Guild of the church. This booth was very prettily decorated with red, white and blue bunting.

EVERY LODGE BUSY

MEETING OF I.O.O.F. DISTRICT COMMITTEE.

The Year Has Been Prosperous—Money Paid Out During the Year—John Polle, of Kingston Was Chosen D.D.G.M.

The annual meeting of the district committee, I. O. O. F., for Kingston district, No. 36, was held on Wednesday evening in Cataragi lodge room. James M. Smith, of Parham, D.D., G.M., was in the chair. There was a full representation of members present, every lodge in the district being represented.

The D.D.G.M. reported that he has paid an official visit to each lodge in the district and installed the officers, and attended various other meetings as the circumstances suggested. The reports which he had received indicated that the year had been a very prosperous one for the order, and that every lodge of the district was actively engaged in a good work of the order.

The statistical reports showed that there was a membership in the district of 1,720, with very few suspensions for non-payment of dues.

The financial statement showed that during the last year there were paid in sick benefits in this district, $22,582.56; in widows' benefits, $810; in funeral benefits, $350; in special benefits, $89.22, a total of $23,812.13. The assets of the lodge had increased from $31,613 to $35,822.09, an increase for the year of $4,209.02.

Attention was called to the splendid accommodation which was afforded by the Orphans' Home of the Order at Oakville, and the members of the order were urged to see that any orphan children in the district received at this institution the care and education which the Oddfellows had so generously provided.

The report of the special committee impressed upon the members of the order in this district the importance of Decoration day; the law of the order being construed into a command that the living should perform their duty infallibly towards the dead.

In view of the new ritual which has just been issued by the order, the committee urges the holding of a lodge of instruction to the new ritual, the combination of lodges, or lodge teams can be secured to give an exemplification of the new work.

In view of the motion, a notice of which has been given in grand lodge, to abolish the district committee, a motion was duly moved and seconded to this effect: That the district committee be persuaded that the business of the district can be best conducted along the plans provided for this committee, but that the greater usefulness of it depends upon a programme, which should be prepared by a committee some time before the meeting, and it is recommended that the incoming D.D.G.M. appoint a committee for this purpose.

It was moved and seconded that the grand lodge be requested to instruct the representative to the Sovereign grand lodge to secure, if possible, a change in the law regarding the official receipts, so that the signature of the financial secretary only will be necessary, and that when so desired the subordinate lodge may procure a special seal for the financial secretary in issuing receipts to members.

There was a very lively discussion upon some of the questions before the meeting and it was generally conceded that the session was one of the most interesting that has been held in years. John Polle, Kingston, was named by the committee as D.D.G.M. for the ensuing year, and the next meeting of the district committee will be held in Kingston in May next.

CAPSIZED A CANOE.

Two Young Men in Danger at Kingston Mills.

On Wednesday afternoon an accident which might have been serious in result, took place in the Rideau river below Kingston Mills. Two young men were out in a canoe, paddling around the river. When about half way between the shores, the man in the bow went to remove his coat, and not being used to a canoe, he moved too quickly, turning the craft over. As is usual in many of these accidents, one man, the man who caused the accident could not swim, and it fell to the young man in the stern to get him to the shore. The swimmer got his companion to the overturned boat, made him take hold of it, to steady himself and get over his fright. He kept him there a moment or so, and as he could not get the canoe right side up, he started for the shore, with his companion's arms around his neck. It was a hard struggle, and when he arrived on dry land, he was nearly exhausted. The accident happened in the quiet part of the afternoon, and no one knew anything about it until it was all over, and the boys were ready to return home, when their wet clothes attracted attention. Neither was seriously injured by the occurrence.

Boys Played "Hooky."

The boys who play "hooky" from school these days are given a merry chase by the police. Yesterday, the police were notified that three lads were missing from their classes, and constables succeeded in rounding up the youngsters, and as a result, the three were in their proper places at school to-day. There is very little chance of boys playing the old game these days, without being brought to time.
