SALARY OF MANAGER OF LIGHT PLANT INCREASED TO $1,500.

Committee Considered Gas Extension in Streets—Coal Contracts Awarded to R. Crawford & Co. and Jas. Sowards.

A number of important matters were disposed of yesterday afternoon by the light, heat and power committee in regular session. In attendance were: Aids, Givens (chairman), Chown, Couper and McCartney.

It was decided to install a gas main on Colborne street, between Sydney and Clergy streets, and on Brock street, between Alfred and Frontenac streets. Manager Folger reported that the necessary number of consumers has not yet been secured on several other streets, where gas has been petitioned for. No gas main will be laid on a street unless there is one consumer for every seventy-five feet of main laid.

On some streets it is impossible to get the number of signatures, on account of vacant lots intervening, and this is to be considered. Aid, Chown said that some scheme would have to be devised for special cases of this kind. A higher rate might be paid by consumers on such blocks. The committee considered it as rather hard that gas had to be refused households in cases of this kind. This matter will be gone into later on. In the meantime, the plant's canvasser will interview petitioners on blocks of this kind, and ask them if they would be willing to pay a higher rate until new houses are erected on vacant lots on their blocks, or to guarantee to consume a certain quantity of gas.

The request of the Kingston Milling company for an extension of franchise for use of the streets over which to carry its transmission line for bringing power from Kingston Mills to its mill on Ontario street, was left over till next meeting. The company asked that the franchise be made to cover the same period as its deal from the dominion government. This period of time was not stated, and as E. C. Gildersleeve, the manager of the company, could not be found at his office, the committee had to delay action.

The committee decided to again tender to the city council the amount recommended by J. M. Campbell and the city engineer for repair to certain streets, in which gas mains had been laid. The letters of Mr. Campbell and the engineer were ordered to be presented, along with the tender.

The committee agreed to accept $72,777 from the Canadian Westinghouse company to cover damage in connection with the breakdown in the 300 kilowatt generator last fall. The settlement was effected by J. M. Campbell for the city, and Mr. Blatch of the Westinghouse company.

The amount of taxes on the light and power plant property this year was reported as $4,794.87. This amount is over $1,000 more than last year. The difference is due to the increased value of the plant, due to extensions. Aid, Chown said he didn't think the plant should be charged any more taxes than last year. At his suggestion, the bill was held over for the chairman and the manager to secure information, as to the basis of the taxation.

Six tenders were received for coal. The awards were made to the lowest tenderers as follows: For 1,500 tons of hard coal screenings, James Sowards, at $2.75 a ton; for 1,500 tons of bituminous coal, R. Crawford & Co., at $3.09 a ton; for 800 tons of Buck Mountain grate coal, R. Crawford & Co., at $5.99 a ton. The figures paid last year for these three grades of coal were $2.50, $3.19 and $5.73 a ton, respectively.

On motion of Aid, Couper, the salary of the manager of the plant, C. C. Folger, was increased from $1,200 to $1,500. The work of the manager was highly spoken of by Aid, Givens, Couper, Chown and McCartney, who were unanimous in their opinion that his salary should be raised. The city at present is saving what it formerly paid Mr. Campbell as expert.

The matter of repairs to the tall chimney at the plant was left to the chairman and the manager, with power to act.

UMBRELLA WAS STOLEN.

Young Kingstonian Who Was Rather Absent Minded.

A young Kingstonian, who recently returned home from the west, is mourning the loss of a fine umbrella, and in connection with the theft there is an interesting story, or rather a good joke, as it is looked upon by his host of friends, who managed to hear about the affair. The story is told under the heading of "The Missing Umbrella, or a Story of a Rainy Night."

It was Sunday evening. Dressed in his best suit, and while by the way, was a brand new one, this bold knight started off to meet his lady friend, to take her for a walk. It threatened rain, so he carried his umbrella with him. After a few hours stroll around the city, the couple returned to the young lady's home on street. It was too warm to go inside, so they took possession of the gate post. As in all such cases the time for parting came all too soon and so when he said his last good-bye, the young man started for home. He gave no thought to his umbrella, and left it standing against the gate post. But before he was half way home, he had good reason to remember about his umbrella, as it commenced to rain very hard. He turned around again and headed for the home of his friend, to get his umbrella, but he was doomed for disappointment, as when he arrived upon the scene, the umbrella was missing; some other person caught in the rain had made good use of it. And still it rained. When he arrived at his home, his new suit and the appearance of having been in the wash tub. He was out a suit of clothes and an umbrella. Enough said.

THE SPORT REVIEW.

Roller Skating Race on Friday Evening.

The increase team will practice at the cricket field tonight and every member is requested to be present. The team needs to get plenty of full practices. The return game in Belleville will be harder than the game down here, and the locals barely saved themselves in that. Captain Singleton is recovering from his severe illness and will be in the game again in a few days. The junior lacrosse team practices in the cricket field, every afternoon and is showing up very well. If the youngsters keep at it it will not be long until they can jump into senior company and take care of themselves in fine style.

The race will be forty times around the rink.

The Barrield Harriers are doing fine work these days. On Monday evening the boys ran fifteen miles over the road, the winter covering the distance in an hour and forty minutes. This is good running and the racers should be given every encouragement to continue their work. Most of them will likely go to the race in Brockville on Dominion day.
