

REPUTATION IN FURS

Quality is the main thing in Furs. A mistake in buying at the wrong store will be a source of constant worry.

Furs admit of as much deception as any other skins and qualities can be so manipulated as to imitate rare and costly skins. The only safe way is to buy from a house whose judgment is known to be correct, and whose standing in the community is beyond question.

We guarantee you absolutely against misrepresentation of any kind. All we ask is that you consider us as your standard of qualities and values.

ALL THE DOG'S FAULT

CANINE DESTROYED A FINE FLOWER BED.

An Owner Had to Pay For the Damage in the Police Court—A Warning For All Owners of Dogs.

A Scotch terrier dog, owned by George Wilkinson, was responsible for a case that came before Magistrate Farrell, in police court, this morning. Edward Sudard, living on Division street, charged that the canine destroyed his flower bed, while it was allowed to run at large. Wilkinson claimed that he locked the dog up after Sudard had complained about it.

Sudard told of the dog paying a visit to his flower bed on Sunday afternoon last. The dog, he said, had been a nuisance around his place for the past two years. Even before he had a flower bed, the animal came around barking, and was a source of great trouble. He had asked Wilkinson to look after the dog, but had been given no satisfaction.

Sunday afternoon, the dog came to his flower bed and destroyed some geraniums, and he considered that it was high time to take action. He placed the total damage at about $4.

"Are there no other dogs but mine that cause trouble?" asked Mr. Wilkinson.

"There are other dogs, but they do not destroy the flowers."

" Didn't our dogs engage in a fight?"

"They did fight, but they can't now, because mine is locked up."

" His dog barks and makes just as much noise as mine," said Wilkinson.

Constable Arniel said that he noticed the dog tearing up the flower bed, and notified Wilkinson to keep the animal away.

Donald McIntyre, who appeared on behalf of Mr. Sudard, said that Wilkinson should have stopped the dog from going on the flower bed.

Magistrate Farrell said that Wilkinson had a dog license, but that some action must be taken when the animal became a nuisance to the neighborhood. He imposed a fine of $2 and costs, said fine to be paid over to Mr. Sudard to pay for the damage under arrest.

A charge against a local contractor, for violating a city by-law in having used too narrow tires on his wagon, was dismissed, as it was his first offense, and he has promised to set things right. Constable Arniel laid the information.

The city solicitor, Donald McIntyre, said that he did not wish to press the charge under the circumstances, but stated that the vigilance of the police in seeing that the by-law was not violated was appreciated.

WAS AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Social Held Last Night at Princess Street Church.

Owing to the precarious weather, the Princess street lawn social, last evening, was held in the Sunday school rooms, of the church. Quite a goodly number assembled, and a very enjoyable time was spent. After ice cream, strawberries and cake had been freely partaken of, an excellent programme was rendered. Beside the music given by the church choir, some very beautiful selections were rendered by Mrs. Robinson and Miss Drury, with banjo accompaniment. Rev. R. B. Nelles gave a short but excellent address, as did also Mr. Robinson. Solos were given by Miss Landry and Drury, and by a quartette composed of Misses Leitch and Wilder and Misses F. Gardner and W. Mack. Several selections were also given by a quartette composed of Misses F. Wilton, W. Thompson, F. Gardner and W. Mack.

Misses Mary and Lizzie Gardner and Mrs. Henry Wilder were in charge of the refreshments.

The chairman was Oliver Chown who filled this position in a very able manner, and responded to the call for a chairman's address in a few well-chosen words of greeting and congratulation at the successful gathering.

The King Edward.

The film for Wednesday and Thursday will be "The Hedgehog Coat," and "The Foreman's Hatred."

The former is exceptionally humorous, and includes the ludicrous capture by the coat of a highwayman.

The latter ranks with "Ustler Joe," in interest and popularity.

A specially attractive scene in it is the saving of a child's life by her pet, a French poodle dog, which drags her out of her room, under the bed in which is located a live and scissoring bomb.

The Late Mrs. John Potter.

The death occurred early Wednesday morning of Mrs. John Potter, 35 James street, after an illness of four months, of gangrene.

The deceased was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, seventy-seven years ago, and came with her parents to Kingston when she was two years old. Her maiden name was Mary Patterson. In 1851, she was married to John Potter, who died four years ago. Mrs. Potter was a member of Zion Presbyterian church. She is survived by five sons and one daughter, all resident in Kingston. They are, Mrs. Northmore, and James A. Trueman, Abraham, Alexander, and Andrew J.

Magnificent Sights.

Haven't you often wanted to see the vast and splendid buildings of Egypt that were erected by the Pharaohs before Solomon built the temple; and don't you want to see something of the new Egypt of British rule?

It only costs 5¢, to go to the Bijou and see this travolue, and get a hundred dollars worth of education in ten minutes. It's as good as a $2,000 trip abroad. If you can't travel you certainly ought to "travelogue." Also moving pictures and illustrated songs.
