

THE 5 P.M. EDITION AT THE POLICE COURT

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Sewer Paragraphs Picked Up by Reporters on Their Rounds.

Calmen's phone, 490. William Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at McAuley's. Phone 778. The public schools and collegiate institute closed, to-day, for the summer holiday.

Miss O'Reilly, of Kingston, is the guest of Miss Macdonell, Church street, Toronto. Four insane prisoners were removed from Stoney Mountain penitentiary to Kingston penitentiary to-day.

The orders of United States courts do not run in Canada, and the injunction against the I.O.F. is, therefore, quite ultra vires. W. H. Godwin has settled the claim of Mrs. Kyle, Wolfe Island, for $300 against the British America Insurance company for loss of barn through fire from lightning.

Bumors has it that Rev. P. L. Richardson, of Ottawa, son of Mrs. J. E. Richardson, Brock street, is to accept a professor's chair in the Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal. A complimentary farewell banquet was given at the Hotel Quatre, Belleville, Thursday night, to Col. M. J. Hendrick, for about fifteen years United States consul at that port, who has been moved to Moncton, N.B.

Howard Van Zant, consul of Kingston, was present. The banquet, held at the Hotel Quatre, had a splendid assortment of gents' furnishings and ready-made clothing at low prices. The order department is well assorted with new goods. First class value and fit guaranteed.

The Ottawa Journal is doing a little facetious twitting: "What has become of the protests that were to be entered in Kingston and elsewhere over loud allegations of conservative corruption in the recent Ontario elections?" There is two weeks yet for action and "Willie can wait" is well disposed to do it.

COSTLY MAST GREASE.

Sailors of British Bark Used Ambergis. San Francisco, Cal., June 26.—Greasing masts, sea boots and oil skins with ambergis, valued at approximately $400 a pound, sailors on the British bark Antiope wasted about $20,000 worth of the stuff unaware of its value. It was not until yesterday that John Mathieson, master of the vessel, learned that he had let a fortune slip through his fingers. A small piece of the "grease" had been saved and this was identified by an Oakland druggist as ambergis.

The Antiope reached here from Newcastle, Australia, a few days ago. On the way up, in latitude twenty degrees south, a large quantity of "grease" was seen floating on the surface of the ocean, and a calm prevailing, the man managed to scoop up several bucketfuls of the stuff.

Married in Ottawa.

The marriage of Miss Roberta Elizabeth Moreland, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Moreland, to Melville Horsey, formerly of Kingston, was celebrated, very quietly, on Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of "grease" in Madras street. Owing to the death of the groom's father, which occurred recently, only the immediate relatives of the family were present. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns, and pink and white roses and carnations. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. McAtosh, of the First Congregational church, assisted by the groom's brother, Rev. Mr. Horsey, of the Second Congregational church, Fourth avenue. The bride wore a beautiful Parisian gown of embroidered net over duchesse satin, made in empire effect and tulle veil worn over a wreath of orange blossoms, carried a bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony a reception was held, the bride and groom leaving by the four o'clock train for New York. Lake Champlain, Albany and other points. The bride wore a very handsome travelling suit of golden brown voile over brown taffeta and blouse of Irish lace, and pretty hat of brown mohair trimmed with blue roses and brown mull.

LIVINGSTON'S

YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Accused of Stealing $95.25 From An Arden Man—Was Employed at a Local Hotel.

Two hours were taken up at the police court this morning, in the hearing of a charge of theft, preferred against Mrs. Perron, employed as a chambermaid at an Ontario street hotel. Harvey Thompson, a young man who lives near Arden, some time ago reported the loss of $95.25 to the police. He was a guest at the hotel and left the money in a purse under his pillow.

Thompson went into the box and gave his story. He told Crown Attorney Whiting that he was in Kingston on June 2nd last, and stayed at an Ontario street hotel. He said he lost the sum of $95.25. As there was no lock on the door, when he went to bed, he placed his money in his purse, and placed the purse under his pillow. In the morning he left the money under his pillow and went out. He had three $20 bills, three $10 bills, a $5 bill and a $1 piece. He reported the loss to the hotel proprietor, and the police were afterwards notified.

The roll of bills handed over to the police by the accused when she was suspected was produced. Thompson could not say for sure whether the money was his, but the bills were the same denomination as those he had.

To A. B. Cunningham, who appeared for the accused, witness said that he only had a couple of drinks before retiring to bed. He had a conversation with the accused, but the latter denied any knowledge of the money. Witness told her that if she gave it up he would give her half.

The wife of the proprietor of the hotel gave evidence. Mrs. Perron was the chambermaid who had charge of Thompson's room. She did not suspect the accused of stealing the money, and as Thompson had been around town she thought that he had lost the money some other place. Witness said that she had been informed that the accused had changed a $20 bill at a local dry goods store. Witness had been told at the store that Mrs. Perron had produced a $20 bill, but when questioned by witness, she said that this was not so. The accused told witness that the money was her own. Witness said that some time ago Mrs. Perron had given her some money in the hotel and had given it up. She had always found her honest, and was one of the best workers she ever had in the hotel.

Chief of Police Baillie told Mrs. Perron that she was not to be taken into custody. She was willing to give the money back to the man who lost it, but she was not guilty of stealing it.

Constable Arniel told of a conversation he had with the prisoner. She told him that she didn't know that she had the money, and that someone must have put it in her trunk. She further stated that her watch and some handkerchiefs had been stolen from her trunk.

Constable Mullinger told of the prisoner bringing the money over to the police station. On this occasion she denied taking the money.

This concluded the evidence, the prisoner being committed for trial, bail being fixed at $1,000.

"THE MOUSE-TRAP."

An Amusing Farce on St. James' Lawn.

A most amusing little farce, cleverly acted from beginning to end, held the audience, or rather the grass in St. James' rectory garden on Thursday night. The story of an innocent little mouse was worked out by Miss Mildred MacMorine, "Mrs. Prettypat," a widow; Hubert Osborne, "Mr. Briefbag," an ardent lover, undaunted by several refusals, and Miss Mabel Sedgwick, "the maid," instructed to ask Mr. Briefbag to climb up the fire escape as the door to the drawing room must on no account be opened lest the monster, with the dreadful wagging tail might get in again. The lover's entrance by the window, his panting declarations of affection while yet on the sill, the bewildering interruptions of further impassioned appeals by the widow, whose mind was more on the peril than the pleader, her violent hysterics and the lover's valiant attempt to dry her eyes with pipe and matches, were funny enough, but when the treble nature of the lady's terror dawned upon the lawyer, and he leaped upon a chair in an even worse paroxysm of fear than his lady-love, the audience became hilarious, such section of it, at least, as was not shading its eyes sympathetically with the miserable principals. However, in the time the widow forgives Mr. Briefbag for being too unnerved to respond to her tragic appeal. "Wave me, wave me from the creature," the horrible beast is frightened away by Mr. Briefbag's cater-wauling, and they make up in the most approved fashion, but decide on a mouse-trap as the first purchase towards a home full of wedded bliss. All sorts of congratulations came the way of the actors, as the whole thing was one of the smartest bits of acting seen here in many a day. Funny ice cream was sold between times (three performances were put on during the evening), and a good sum was realized.

NINE MEN LYNCHED

AS THE RESULT OF A RACE WAR.

Two White Men Killed By Negroes—A Bunch of the Latter Strung Up—The Jail Was Rushed.

Houston, Texas, June 26.—Nine colored men have met death at the hands of a mob in the vicinity of Hempfield, in Sabine county. Yesterday both races secured arms. The lynchings followed the killing of two white men. Two weeks ago Hugh Dean and several other white men visited a colored people's church and school house where a dance was in progress, probably in quest of liquor, it being the custom of colored folk to sell whiskey at such affairs. In the evening Dean was killed and six colored men were held for the killing. The evidence tended to show that a plot was formed at the dance to kill Dean.

Saturday last Aaron Johnson, a prominent farmer, was assassinated while seated at the dining table with his wife and child, the bullet being fired through a window. For this crime Perry Price, colored, was arrested, and confessed, implicating Robert Wright, a relative of one of the men held for Dean's murder. Price declared he was offered $5 to kill Johnson. Then followed the forming of the mob last night, the overpowering of the jail at Hempfield and the lynching of the six colored men held for the murder of Dean. Five were hanged to the same tree, while another attempted to escape and was shot to death. Later in the night William McCoy, colored, was killed while standing at the gate of the Johnson home and this morning the bodies of two colored men were found in the creek bottom. Wright, who confessed to killing Johnson, and man he implicated, were taken to Beaumont for safe keeping. Sabine county is situated in a most remote part of the state with a lack of railroad and telegraph facilities.
