AT COOKE'S CHURCH EVILS OF CIGARETTE SMOKING AND INTEMPERANCE

Referred to by Rev. Dr. MacTavish in a Sunday Sermon—A Warning Given to the Young Boys.

At Cooke's church, Sunday morning, Rev. Dr. MacTavish preached a strong sermon on the evils of cigarette smoking and intemperance. These evils he said, were very conspicuous and if anything could be done to remove them from the national life, it should be done at once. Christians, he said, were not doing their duty if they closed their eyes to these rampant evils, and put forth no efforts for their removal. In regard to cigarette smoking, he stated that in this country, there were almost four hundred million cigarettes consumed last year. It would have been fearful to contemplate what he would have been caused by boys who were in bad luck for their school, college or office? That moral depravity following the cigarette habit was frightful. Lying, cheating, impurity, loss of moral courage and manhood, were the general results. Boys who used cigarettes were found to be unreliable workers, and in many instances they were not wanted. Some of the larger corporations would not employ them. It was the duty of every parent, to discourage the habit among boys.

In referring to the liquor traffic, Rev. Dr. MacTavish said, that this had been a giant evil for many a year, and was likely to be formidable for some time. One of the hopeful signs was that a wave of prohibition was sweeping over the American continent, and that it was specially directed towards the bar-room. Fully one-half of the territory and almost one-half of the population of the United States was under prohibition. Seven states were entirely under prohibition. In our own country the wave was rushing along, not perhaps as impetuously or with such power as could be desired, but nevertheless it was moving forward.

Speaking on local topics, Dr. MacTavish stated, that it might not be possible to carry it in Kingston. It ought to be carried, but the chances were that public opinion was not yet ripe enough for it. People remained to be educated, and some people received their education in morals very slowly. But if the city could not carry local option, arrangements might be made to have a by-law passed, so that liquor could be sold only in shops for consumption of the premises. And what would be the effect of this? He hoped at least, that it would eliminate the element of private gain and that it would put an end to the treating system, and close up the bars. If these three things were accomplished, we would have taken three long steps toward the goal of prohibition.

HAD HIS LEG BROKEN

THOMAS M'ADAM MEETS WITH SAD ACCIDENT.

Fell Down Stairs at His Home on West Street on Sunday Morning—Has Been Ill Since Last November.

Thomas M'Adam, aged seventy-five, of 25 West street, one of Kingston's oldest residents, was the victim of an unfortunate accident, on Sunday morning, and is now in the general hospital, in a very dangerous condition. He fell downstairs at his home, a distance of about twenty feet, and his right leg broken and suffered internal injuries.

Mr. M'Adam has been ill at his home since November 14th last, suffering from gangrene in his right foot. Recently, he has been able to get around with the aid of crutches. Sunday morning, he was about to come downstairs, when the accident happened. He was at the top of the stairs, and was being assisted by his sister-in-law, Miss Isabella Makins. Just as he took the first step, he was seized with a weak spell. One of the crutches slipped away from him, and he fell to the floor below. When the crutch slipped away, it struck Miss Makins, and as she was stunned for the moment, she was unable to render Mr. M'Adam any assistance. Mr. M'Adam fell very heavily, and being in such a weak condition from his illness, it was nothing short of a miracle that he was not killed. He was removed to the General Hospital, it being found that besides having his right leg broken, he suffered internal injuries as well. He did not regain consciousness until this morning.

At the hospital, to-day, noon, it was stated that he was doing as well as could be expected, and his many friends hope that he will be able to pull through. His doctors held a consultation this morning.

Mr. M'Adam is a machinist, and was employed at the locomotive works, having learned his trade there under John Makins, of Lindsay, who was the first apprentice at the shops.
