We've just profited by that, and a few days ago we unpacked a special purchase of petticoats. All white—of fine lawn and nainsook. Not the "scrumpy" sort (you know the kind we mean), but splendid full-fashioned skirts—generous in every way.

Some are prettily trimmed with val lace and insertions—others are graced with fine embroidery.

In all wanted lengths—with underfrills.

Each is worth considerably more than we ask. $1, 1.25, 1.35, 1.50, 1.60, 1.75 and so on up to 5.00 each.

WHAT WHIG CORRESPONDENTS TELL US.

The Tidings From Various Points in Eastern Ontario—What People Are Doing And What They Are Saying.

Burglars At Maberly.

Maberly, July 1.—The store of John Manders was entered by thieves on Thursday evening. They succeeded in making a hole in the door, large enough to let in their hand and then unlocked the door from the inside. Mrs. Manders hearing some noise came downstairs and it is supposed she frightened the thieves away as there was money left in the till in the morning. The thieves got only about a dollar in small change.

A number from here are going to the picnic at Zealand on Thursday. There will be a picnic in Maberly on the 12th July. Potatoes and corn are looking good. The weather is very hot. There will be a little light. There has been an abundant crop of strawberries. Mrs. Bevin is improving. George Buchanan remains about the same.

Picadilly Personals.

Picadilly, June 30.—The school children expect to enjoy themselves at a picnic at Cole Lake on Dominion day. A sad death occurred at the home of Mrs. C. Godfrey, when her grandson, Coleman Godfrey, passed to rest. Mr. and Mrs. Harkers spent Sunday at D. J. Goodfellow's. Mrs. Stanley Wells and her two daughters, Mariel and Olive, have returned home after visiting friends in Kingston. Jas. Goodfellow is home on a visit. Miss Payne intends leaving for her home on Thursday. L. and E. Redmond spent Sunday at S. Harper's. N. Cowley is spending his holidays with P. Walker. A new visitor has come to stay at George Meon's. Miss R. C. Howes is visiting at Sydenham. Miss S. Quinn is the guest of Miss O. Godfrey.

Willetsholme Waits.

Willetsholme, July 2.—Many from here attended the social at Sand Hill Friday last. John Wilson has erected a new stone stable under his barn. H. McNeely spent Sunday with friends in Lansdowne. C. McAlpin, at T. Bell's. School has closed for the holidays. Misses Erin Wilson and Myrtle Orr paid a flying visit to Kingston last week. M. Woodman, Gannaque is at C. Thompson's. Runaway At Plevna.

The horse ran about two hundred yards, and was stopped by a bluff of rocks. Gilbert Oatler has erected a summer house opposite his store. It will be occupied this summer by G. W. Dawson and family. Dr. Wright, Manitow, Man. spent a few days in the vicinity visiting friends. J. Collins is spending his holidays with his parents at Beachburg. Mrs. J. W. King and daughter have returned home, after being in Kingston a few days. Visitors: T. Armstrong, Mountain, Grove, at Erwin Albert's; Miss Fannie Watkins, Ardoch, at Esther Wood's.

Careless Powder Handling.

Glendower, July 2.—(To the Editor): I have visited Cobalt for one month and have returned back to Bedford, and I would advise all young men, and those of middle age, too, if they desire employment, to not go to Cobalt, for there is no regular work concerning handling powder. Every man who can run a drill has to load holes. Supposing he has never seen powder or handled it before, and sometimes there are missing holes left, and another gang goes on drilling and sometimes strike powder and are blown to atoms. There is a large number of men blown to pieces every month. I think if our government would send a good mining inspector there that knew his business he would appoint a man to load holes and fire them, and that there were no mining holes left, and it would save a lot of precious lives.—ANDREW LEEMAN.

Inventary Items.

Inventary, July 1.—Camp meeting, conducted by the Holiness Movement, starts to-day in Mr. Clow's grove. A number of people from a distance have already arrived to attend. Haying has commenced and the crop promises to be fair. Master Carl Duff and Miss Irene Bartel are home after trying their entrance examinations at Sydenham. Miss Alta Johnson and brother, Albert, are home from Sydenham high school. The teacher, Miss Nettie Johnson, of the public school entertained her pupils and some of their friends at a picnic and boating party on Collins Lake, on Tuesday, June 30th. Mrs. J. Ferguson continues very poorly. Visiting: Miss Jennie Keves at Mrs. J. Gunnery's; Mrs. A. Lake at John Lake's; W. Simpson at A. Sands'; Mr. and Mrs. Kelly returned to Watertown, N.Y., after spending a short time at her father's, Mr. Sears'.

Sanbury Notes.

Sanbury, July 1.—With excellent growing weather everything is progressing finely. The Salvation Army will again change officers, Captain Lawrence having gone to Odessa. N. Jackson has resigned his residence. The children of this locality are now enjoying their summer holidays. Geo.

THE PARAGRAPH PULPIT

Unitarian.
REV. C. W. CASSON.

Feudalism in Religion.

It is a fact that while we have outgrown feudalism in all else it still exists in religion. The customary theory of salvation is a sheer feudalism. Just as the peasant once paid tribute to the baron, pledging loyalty to him in consideration of his being protected from the ravages of marauding foes, so the Christian has paid tribute to a supreme Saviour, surrendering his liberty and voting allegiance in consideration of his being protected from the powers of hell and given safety in the hour of danger. The Unitarian church holds that such a conception is out of date, and inconsistent with the ideals of a free people.
