WOMAN AND LOVER ON TRIAL FOR TREASON.

Accused of Trying to Secure For France Secret of Germany's Smokeless Powder.

Kiel, July 18.-Fraulein Petersen and her lover, a German non-commis sioned officer, were examined, to-day, before a court-martial here on

The utmost secrecy is preserved, as such cases, but it is believed that the authorities suspect Petersen of having attemped to obtain for the French government a knowledge of the constituents of German smokele

Fr. Petersen was born in Hamburg, where her parents kept a small inn, but has the appearance of a Parisian. She is forty-four years of age, but looks much younger.

She was employed as a governess when suspicion was aroused by liberal supplies of money which Fr. Petersen declares her innocence and denies that she went regularly to France to receive $125 a month for espionage. It is known, however, that she had meetings with French agents.

THEIR CHIEF DISGUISED By Clever Trick Brigands Make

Rome, July 18.—Baron Remondini was giving a banquet to his friends | celved at the City Clerk's Office. at Brindisi castle, in the San Vito week, when a gentleman dressed in weighing charges of Market No. 2, for hunting costume appeared at the the term of one year from the first house and stated that he was tired and hungry, and asked for the baron's hospitality. The baron straightway sked him to join them, and an hour later all present took part in a small

Suddenly six mounted carabineers, headed by a sergeant, appeared, and the sergeant, calling the baron aside, said that he knew that the famous brigand, Suma, the terror of the San Vito district, was within, and, pointing out the strange guest, declared him to be the notorious brigand. The stranger was at once arrested and locked up in the stable The baron, thankful at escaping danger, asked the carabineers to stay and have supper and then join the dance, which they did. In the middle of the proceedings, however, the carabineess suddenly drew revolvers and threatenen all present with death unless they at once delivered up all their money and jewelry. Those present eventually yielded up about $30,000 worth of valuables

The carabineers then jumped their horses and got away as soon as possible, taking with them the arrested man, who, it turns out, was their chief, the famous brigand Suma, and the rest of the band were his followers in disquise.

FREAKS OF STORM.

Deaths Are Reported Throughout France.

Paris, July 18.-Seven persons have een killed by lightning in France within the last twenty-four hours during the heavy thunderstorms which have occurred over the country. Lightning, yesterday, struck school at Provins, where about 200 little girls were assembled, and though no one was killed, several were seriously injured. A curious sight was witnessed in the given to the newspapers, first on Nor-Bay of Cancale during a storm. Myriads of dragon flies were blown into the bay and drowned. Boats riding at anchor were invaded by winged insects of every description. At Lisieux, Viscount de Marle, a prominent landowner in the district, ley, the "bride's" mother, issued was killed as he stood under a tree cards announcing the wedding on
