The next moment when the native expected to look beneath the lifting wraith of smoke and see the prostrate form of a blood-stained giant, he was horrified to realize that the rifle had failed in its service, and that with the clogged barrel he was at the mercy of the on-rushing monster. With angry snarl and rampant arms the beast fell on the now fleeing man and hugged him ferociously. The bear held the man in such a way as to clasp the vice-like jaw on the unhappy Nigakuse. The man jerked the arm away, but in the foaming mouth of the beast remain-

MORAL LAWS IN DAWSON.

Order In Mining Centres Is Excellent Says Minister.

Rev. J. R. Seymour, a well-known Methodist clergyman, who has sper about eight years on various stations in British Columbia, and who for the past two years has been stationed at Dawson as pastor of the Methodist thurch there, said recently in referring to the conditions affecting church work, that after an experience in various parts of the Province of British Columbia he could say that the moral conditions in Dawson were quite as good as they were in any place of its size in the province. The dance halls had been wiped out by the council and the police were exercising quite rigid oversight, and seeing that the laws were properly enforced

Mr. Seymour, from his long exper ence in the mining towns of Britis Columbia, is well qualified to judge of these conditions, and his announce ments on moral conditions in Dawson are contrary to the reports that Rev. Dr Pringle has been circulating.

Questioned with regard to Dr

Pringle's action, Mr. Seymour said that as pastor of a sister church he did not feel that he should attribute Pringle, he said, had taken an active part in pressing for moral reforms It was not for him (Mr. Seymour) to find fault with that, as his efforts were similarly directed along these lines ill, Verong, presided at the funeral In a fight among a lot of Italians As to the methods employed to ache said, that rested with the individ remains to their last resting place. serely beaten that no hopes of his re- ual worker.
