

TO BE A NEW RECORD IN SWIFT PASSAGE OF MAILS ACROSS OCEAN.

The Canadian Authorities Put Mail on Board the Indomitable—Greetings From One Postmaster-General to Another. Montreal, July 31.—There are great expectations in Dominion postal circles that, within a few days, the news will be flashed from England to Canada that all records have been broken in the carriage of mail matter between the two shores. It is not generally known that when H.M.S. Indomitable sailed from Quebec on her return trip to England with the Prince of Wales, returning after his attendance at the Quebec ter-centenary festivities, she carried several bags of Canadian mail matter. It is not customary for warships of the British navy to carry mails but the Indomitable's return passage was expected to be fraught with such auspicious results, in the matter of speed, that the idea was conceived of signaling the event by creating a new record in the mail service between Britain's premier overseas possession and the motherland. The arrangements, so far as the mail matter was concerned, were left in the hands of George Ross, chief superintendent of the Canadian postal service, Montreal, and A. B. Hodge, post office inspector, Quebec. These gentlemen personally supervised the transfer of six or seven bags of matter from the Quebec post office at 12:30 a.m. on the 29th instant, the Indomitable sailing at three o'clock the same morning. Contained in one of the bags was a letter from Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, postmaster-general of Canada, to the Hon. Sydney Buxton, the postmaster-general of Great Britain, the contents of which have not yet been made public but which, naturally, would be expected to contain greetings on what may prove to be the creation of a new world's record.

RACE SUICIDE CONTINUES. What Late Statistics in England Reveal.

standard of the Empire. The census registrar-general's latest report does give food for serious reflection. It shows that the increase of population is proceeding year by year at a steadily diminishing pace, so that the time is not far off when it seems that Great Britain will have reached the stationary condition which France has already attained. The year 1907 shows the lowest birth-rate on record in the United Kingdom. In London the rate per thousand is now 25.5; forty years ago it was 36.5; and even in 1900 it was nearly 35. The marriage rate has also decreased. In 1871 there were 772 bachelors for every thousand male persons under the age of 25; now there are 824; and 724 spinners against 669. Fewer people are married, and those who are married have fewer children. Divines of all the religious confessions are protesting against "race suicide," and the revolt against marriage. The Bishop of London has spoken earnestly on the subject, and Father Bernard Leighton, the fashionable Catholic preacher of the West End, has delivered one of his declamatory and sensational sermons upon it. But in spite of the preachers the process of arrested increase does not seem likely to be checked. The most disturbing factor brought out by the registrar-general's report is that the birth-rate continues (p. 1) to be highest among the destitute classes, and lowest among those who seem best situated to enrich the nation with capable, well-developed children. In the miserably poor London boroughs of Bethnal Green, Shoreditch, and Poplar, the birth-rate is as high as 34 and 35 per thousand. In Westminster, which includes Belgrave and Piccadilly, it is only 19, and in Hampstead, where there are no poor, it is as low as 18.5. It is not so much that the right people do not get themselves born, as that the wrong people do. There is a London Society of Eugenics, which is endeavoring to submit the whole of this large question to scientific examination; but whether they will do much good remains to be seen. Meanwhile, it may be noted that "race suicide," if that be the name for it, is not limited to the British Isles; for the birth-rate in London still stands higher than it does in Berlin, Vienna, Brussels, Rome, or Melbourne.

Plan For Reform in Escort Duty. "I think a man in escorting a woman should always walk between her and the other persons on the sidewalk," said an American who recently returned to the United States from Germany after several years there. "I am much opposed to the custom by which a man in accompanying a woman walks on the sidewalk nearer the curb. The German has settled that question admirably. A German invariably walks near to the centre line of the pavement, thus the woman does, and thus protects her from the jostling to which American women often are subjected. In a throng American men and women turn to the right in passing, and, consequently, if the escort of the American custom is on the right of the woman persons going in the opposite direction bump into her. If the escort walked on the inside he would be her guard."

Ranchman's Novel Courtship. Louis L. Kramer came all the way from Yuma, Cal., to marry a girl he had never seen. The bride was Miss Flora Weiss, a pretty young woman of Tazewell county. The bridegroom wrote to his aunt here, Mrs. Patterson, to put him in communication with a girl who would make him a good wife, as he was lonely on his ranch in Colorado. Mrs. Patterson recommended Miss Weiss, a neighbor's daughter, and correspondence was begun. The girl was taken with the romance of the affair, and when photographs were exchanged and a proposed marriage was quickly and satisfactorily consummated, she was allowed. An acceptance was written, and then Kramer came east to claim his bride. The marriage was celebrated the day after his arrival, and the couple departed immediately afterward for Yuma.

Killed While Automobiling. Philadelphia, July 31.—Charles Humphreys, chief clerk in the bureau of the police in this city, and Henry B. Bromley, of a well-known family of manufacturers, while in an automobile crossing the tracks of the Reading railway, at Nyctown station, this morning, were run down by a train and instantly killed.

A GRIPMAN'S CRIME. A Separated Husband Out For Slaughter. Seattle, Wash., July 31.—Jesse Fifer, a grip man, killed his eight-year-old daughter, Hazel, and Mrs. Dennis without a patient, fatally wounded his wife, and seriously wounded Mrs. Ethel Warren, his sister-in-law, in a private hospital, here, last night. He had committed suicide. Fifer and his wife had separated and the woman lived at the hospital.

Will Be Opposed. New York, July 31.—The Times states that if the Pacific Mail Steamship company withdraws its fleet from the trans-Pacific trade, the Japanese companies will not be allowed to have the monopoly of the trade for long, as the North-German Lloyd will start an opposition service before next spring.

The Dunikirk, N.Y., plant of the American Locomotive company, has received an order for thirty locomotives from the Argentinean railroad. The French warship Admiral Andre is still at Quebec trying to locate a $3,000 anchor and chain. It has been placed and will speedily be raised. The militia department at Ottawa has no information as to the report that a special message is to be issued to the troops who went to Quebec. Henry Williamson, alias Canavagh, pleaded guilty in Toronto police court to charges of housebreaking and was sent to penitentiary for five years. Hon. A. B. Aylesworth is advised by his physician that with the local treatment available in Ottawa, his hearing may be completely restored. The Prince of Wales was so charmed by the Quebec pageants, especially the Wolfe and Montcalm march, that he wishes their reproduction by Cinematograph.

Mr. J. Walsh, ex-M.P.P. for St. Ann's division, Montreal, has declined to contest the return of his opponent, Denis Tansey, conservative, declared elected after a recount. While James Bowes, a retired farmer of Stratfordville, was walking along the street, in that village, a bullet fired at a sparrow glanced and lodged in the farmer's arm, causing a painful injury. In Ottawa workmen allowed an iron plate to fall on Joseph Carra. The plate fortunately fell on its flat side and Carra escaped with nothing worse than bruises. He was taken to the hospital. W. H. McGillivray, an Ottawa contractor, while writing in a pass book, stepped on a loose stone, on a step, and fell through a doorway to the floor below. He had his left arm broken. The new steel freighter, David B. Meacham, bound on her maiden trip from Astabula to Port Arthur, with 9,000 tons of coal, ran on the rocks at passage island on Wednesday night in a heavy fog. President Evans, of Denver, and Secretary McHugh, Washington, of the International Stone Cutters' union, are in Montreal making preparations for the opening of their annual convention on Monday. Suspects placed under arrest at Quebec have left for parts unknown. The last were the four colored women, two of whom were placed on the Montreal boat, and the other two on last night's C.P.R. train. A spectacular fire at Broadway and Fifty-third street, New York, damaged the Standard Storage Warehouse, causing a loss of $200,000. One fireman was slightly injured and fifteen horses were burned to death. Thomas Fisher, West Flamboro, for defaming the character of Miss Edith Riley, made a public apology to the young woman, and the charges made were without foundation and undertaken not to annoy her in future. At Jackson, Mississippi, William Oliver, a young aeronaut, was killed while making a parachute drop. Just as the parachute fell the strings on one side broke, and the aeronaut dropped two thousand feet to his death. May Kinsman, a girl employed in a newly started steam laundry at St. Thomas, had her hand so badly smashed in a large mangle as to necessitate amputation. She was talking to another girl and not watching her hands. Semi-official reports say the holding in of stocks and bonds by Philadelphia interests, which took over the control of the Lake Superior Corporation means that the Canadian Pacific will secure the steel plant and the Algoma Central railway as recently reported.

In the arrest at Hamilton of Albert Beveridge, Detroit, the police have the owner of the clothes which were found hanging near the water, and which gave rise to rumors of drowning. Beveridge claims that he was with a gang of men who stole his coat from him, stole $4 from the pockets and threw him into the water.

EAT MISSION BOYS. Horrible Tale of Murder and Savagery. Victoria, B.C., July 31.—Murders and cannibalism in the Bismarck archipelago, followed by a German punitive expedition in which some villages were burned and the capture of a trading schooner and murder of Oliver Burns, a Sydney trader, in the Solomon Group, was brought by the steamer Aorangi, which arrived, last night, from Australia via Honolulu. Three mission boys were victims of the cannibalistic affair in the Bismarck Group, which is under German control. Rev. W. Danks' mission station was attacked at Baining, and the three boys who were captured were killed and their bodies carried to the hills, where a feast was held. The remains were roasted and devoured. Evidence of the feast were found by an expedition sent to punish the natives. One of the party, a German trader named Schmidt, was mortally wounded by a spear. The same mission was visited at a mission in 1904, when the mission was rushed and five missionaries and teachers and five sisters were massacred. Some eighty guests will attend the provincial banquet to Lord Roberts in next Wednesday in Toronto. The Wood Medicine Co., Toronto, Ont. CANNON POLITICS IN PERSIA. Shah Resorts to Old-Fashioned Methods of Government. Constitutional government in Persia is travelling a rocky road. Since the time two years ago when some thousands of priests and citizens took refuge in the British legation and refused to leave until the late shah granted a parliament, the progressive elements have had things rather their own way. They have taken an extremely high tone in dealing with the government, and as a rule the government has yielded to their demands. But now the shah has achieved a coup d'etat of a truly Oriental sort. He had ordered the parliament to surrender five reforming agitators, and the parliament refused. The doors were guarded by Cossacks, of whom the shah has a small force under Russian officers, and when somebody threw a bomb among the soldiers they opened fire in return. A lively skirmish ensued, and then artillery was brought up and began to bombard the parliament building. Finally the Cossacks stormed the place and, driving occupants from the building, they put under martial law, and the troops began systematically to bombard one house after another, with the idea of shelling out reformers from grandees' homes in which they were supposed to have taken refuge. Incidentally they looted shops and other buildings. The shah was said to have made a list of proscribed houses, and to have issued orders that one should be bombarded each day. After the bombardments the houses were so thoroughly pillaged that even the timbers and the locks and hinges of the doors were carried away. Thousands of people were killed in these proceedings. The shah issued a proclamation ordering new parliamentary elections and announcing that he intended to maintain the constitution, and the principle of popular representation, but to crush political agitation. He then declared an amnesty, which was to include even those ministers "accused of being guilty."
