

INCURABLE HEART TROUBLE

LOOKED FOR DEATH IN A SHORT TIME.

Entirely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

"Gentlemen.—The days of miracles are not all past and I feel that my complete recovery from what seemed inevitable death, is practically a miracle. I suffered from severe indigestion and dyspepsia for nearly twenty years. I could not take food without fearful distress and I became almost a skeleton as the result of the suffering. I could not do any work and I came to run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors. They both pronounced my case heart failure and incurable, and I looked forward for death in a short time. I not only had the doctors but after they gave me up I tried many remedies and treatments but got no better."

"At this time my son asked me to try 'Fruit-a-tives,' and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight. I am now so well that I have sold my farm and bought 200 acres more land. I make this statement voluntarily for the sake of humanity, and I am convinced that 'Fruit-a-tives' is a wonderful remedy that will cure stomach trouble where doctors and everything else fail."

(Sgd) Henry Speers, J.P. The doctors were all wrong. Mr. Speers had what we call "irritated heart." Indigestion and dyspepsia completely upset the stomach. Poisonous gases were formed which swelled the walls of the stomach and pressed against the heart. I looked for death in a short time. 'Fruit-a-tives' immediately strengthened the stomach, insured sound digestion and regulated the bowels. There were no poisons—no miasmatic gases remained in the system, and the heart was no longer irritated. Then the pain and fluttering stopped. 'Fruit-a-tives' is put up in two sizes 25c and 50c. If your dealer has not both write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Tips For The Farmers

BY UNCLE JOSH

Co-operation among the proprietors of creameries, cheese factories and dairy milk supplies will tend to bring about cleanliness among patrons, and the use of better utensils.

Frederick Dunn, Lansing, York county, Ont., recently shot two white crows. Such crows are very rare.

Farmers should hand weed the fields they keep for seed. They would then get absolutely pure seed. We cannot expect to get pure seed on the market unless farmers produce it.

The hopper style of feeding the growing chicks is not only labor saving, but has many advantages. The chicks soon learn to eat only what they require and there is no waste; at the same time, the birds are never underfed. A gain in growth is claimed by those who have tried it, and that is sufficient reason for its adoption. The hopper should hold from a bushel to a bag of grain.

The easiest way to physio a horse when alone or otherwise, is to put on a bridle with rein on upper side of bit rings, passed through over a post in the stable door. Draw head up high, if he refuses to swallow, confine the nostrils for a moment with hand, and the medicine will go down.

Ducks grow faster when they have no pond or water to swim in. However, they must always have a plentiful supply in troughs. Have their troughs set up on platforms so they cannot paddle up the soil alongside.

Many farmers, although keeping a number of horses, do not know the simplest remedies for the slight ailments the horse is heir to. Flatulence or colic with swelling is quickly relieved by a drench of salt and water (which will only take in a certain amount of salt), followed by gentle exercise. This will force the gas out, and the patient will soon be relieved. A second dose in about twenty minutes is advisable if not sufficiently relieved.

Colic without swelling, but with cramp of the bowels, needs a stronger remedy—two teaspoonsful of baking soda, two teaspoonfuls of ground ginger, two teaspoonfuls of turpentine, two teaspoonfuls of laudanum, in a little warm milk. For a purgative dose, a ball composed of three ounces of Barbadoes aloes, a little ginger moistened with water, mix with in two long-shaped pills, and thrust with hand well to the back of throat. This does not sicken a horse like oil does. Feed on bran mash only before dosing. In the case of a horse purging badly, give three teaspoonfuls of laudanum in milk. In a slight case of purging, a handful of flour mixed with his oats will help.

Milk has a curious history in Japan. Thirty or forty years ago it was abhorred. The average Japanese could not induce himself to drink it. But today many a thousand consumers become people have come to like it and partly because the doctors have recommended it as an unique and wholesome beverage. "Milk balls," too, are now quite numerous. Butter will probably take much longer to come widely into vogue, because of its expense. A pound of fresh butter costs at least one yen (49.5 cents, gold) in Tokio to-day, an extremely high price for Japan.

Our present knowledge of feeding can be boiled down into the following maxims:

The more food the cow can be induced to eat, the more milk she will produce. Cows do not usually consume more food than they can properly digest. The ration, therefore, should be made as palatable as possible in order to induce the cow to eat large quantities. The larger the amount of protein in the ration, the larger the milk flow. Protein in the ration is essential to the production of the milk. The less energy required to digest the ration, the larger the milk flow. The richer the ration, the richer the manure. The dairy farmer must look here for a large part of his profit. No two cows can be fed alike. Each must be studied differently. Increase the protein in the ration and watch the milk flow.

The Man On Watch.
The Lampman had much to say about the portraits of ex-mayors in the town hall when we met last night. "It's ridiculous," he said, "to compare the paintings of years ago with those executed within the last decade or so. Why 'one hardly recognizes some of the recent pictures. My good friend ex-Mayor 'Bobby' MacFarlane is a much better-looking and less wild-looking than the picture of him in the town hall. The same can be said of the portraits of 'Eddie Ryan, 'Jimmie' Munroe, 'Charley' Livingston, 'Johnny' Bell and a few others. The old-time pictures done by the late Mr. Sawyer are pieces of art." "It's the people who are to give the verdict upon a picture," the Lampman declared, "and not the painters. If a painting fails to appeal to the people, then it is a failure, good picture."

BROKEN IN HEALTH.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Strength After Medical Treatment Had Failed.

"I can truthfully say Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me what one of the best doctors in Halifax failed to do—restored my health." This statement is made by William J. Weaver, 172 Argyle street, Halifax. Mr. Weaver adds: "A few years ago I took employment in a large factory as fireman. I knew the work would be hard, and friends told me I would never stand it, but as I was a strong man, weighing 180 pounds, I laughed at the idea of not being able to do the work. Anyhow I started and found the job a hard one indeed. There were a number of firemen employed and men were taking and quitting the job every few days. I kept at the work for two years and during that time lost fifty pounds in weight, and was a broken down man, not only taking my meals and often took my dinner back home with me without touching it. When I would be working on the night shift I could not sleep in the day time, and I added to my trouble. Finally I became a total wreck and had to quit the work. I could hardly drag my body, and yet had become so nervous that I could not sit still and would walk about the house until I was ready to drop. The doctor came to see me every day, and changed the medicine time and again, but it did me no good. Finally he wanted me to go to the hospital, and at this stage a friend came to stay with me overnight. While he was reading the evening paper he came across the testimonial of a cure wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He said, 'why don't you try them; nothing else is helping you and they may get me a good deal better.' When this was done I got a half dozen boxes, and before they were all gone I began to feel like a new man. I continued using the pills for a couple of months when I was again as well and as strong as I had been in my life, and I have not seen a sick day since. I have never had a headache, and I am in the world equal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for building up a broken down and nervous system, and for such trouble I would strongly recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure such cases as Mr. Weaver's because they make the rich, red blood that feeds the starved nerves and tones and strengthens every part of the body. That is why they cure anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, paralysis and other troubles due to bad blood and shattered nerves. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Impossible As A Politician.

Emporia Gazette.
Fred. Wellhouse, the Kansas apple king, tells a story on himself that explains why he has not succeeded in politics. He has not told a lie since 1864. He was then held up by bandits, to whom he handed over a small sum of money, and declared that it was all he had. The urbane bandits didn't believe him, and searched him, finding a package of money that he had hoped to save. They were so incensed by his disregard for the truth that they threatened to kill him, and it was by the mere chance that he escaped with his life. He then made a vow that he would never again tell a lie and has stuck to it.

I next met the Bookseller who started out to call the 'Yankees' to time. "What do you think," said he. "Only yesterday I heard a Yankee woman telling her companion about a Spanish girl who was studying the 'American' language. Wouldn't that give you the rheumatism? The 'American' language? What language spoken on this continent is the English language, though in the United States lots of slang has been added to it. There's no such thing as American language, any more than Canadian language.

"But that's not all," the Bookseller remarked. "The Yankee you know, want to claim everything that is notable. Look at the picture postcard of the finest steamers on the St. Lawrence labelled 'New York,' or with the Stars and Stripes crested over the scenes. The Lost Channel got a crew. When this was done I got a half dozen boxes, and before they were all gone I began to feel like a new man. I continued using the pills for a couple of months when I was again as well and as strong as I had been in my life, and I have not seen a sick day since. Why Prince and Lord Roberts Are Hurried Away. Why did the king refuse to come to the Quebec celebration when we all wanted him so much? Was he afraid of the sea? When he wants to recuperate he goes to sea. Why did the Prince of Wales arrange to flee home the moment the celebration was over? Did he not know that the whole continent wanted him? Why has Lord Roberts had to give up his cherished purpose of visiting our country? The reason is plain. Human nature cannot stand our exactions. Lord Roberts, with very full programmes for Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto, each of which we printed, was by special request, to pass through Montreal in response to the cheering that we would be able to entertain him later when the weather would be less oppressive, and more of our people would be at home. This repose was to consist of a reception at the city hall, an ovation and speech at the board of trade, two luncheons and two dinners, a review of the troops and a garden party, all in less than two days. This is the mercy we have upon the empire's heroes. What wonder if the frame that endured the Boer campaign in hot Africa, and the torrid climate of India without winning, should capitulate before such merciless assaults?
