

IRISH JAUNTING CAR

KINGSTONIAN WRITES ON HER TRIP TO IRELAND.

Visits Many Places of Interest and Has Word of Praise For the Well Kept Roads.

Miss Mabel Anderson, who resides at the corner of Princess and Division streets, and who, with her mother, on a visit to Ireland, writes the Whig as follows:

"On an Irish jaunting car, accompanied by mother, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lavery, we drove along the shores of Strathborough from Newtownards, on a bright sunny day. The car was not such as I have been led to believe that Irish cars were like, but nevertheless a handsome one, with rubber tires; this combined with a swift horse, made our drive a very pleasant one. We passed through the domains of the Marquis of Londonderry, and had the pleasure of seeing his house, known as Moore Stewart, in which house King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra were the guests of the noble marquis. We then passed on to Gray Abbey, and saw the remains of the old abbey, as built in the twelfth century, by De Courcy, the remains of which are kept in a good state of preservation by the board of works. Ireland, Gray Abbey is in the village of the Montgomerys since the sixteenth century. The Montgomerys' residence here is known as Rosemount, and the present owner is Major-General William E. Montgomery, D.L., a gentleman loved and highly esteemed by all classes of people. He is almost adored, but he is no more thought of than his good wife, who, in her earlier days, was lady-in-waiting to the late Queen Victoria the queen being her godmother.

"Gray Abbey is six miles distant from Newtownards. We then took inland, passing the domains of Lord Fallywaller, where we had tea at the Dunluce Arms hotel. This has been a very pleasant drive and the scenery delightful. If all of Ireland is equal to this then surely the green sod is a delightful place. We had a walk along the sand and saw some birds nesting along on St. George's channel from Belfast direction, heading for the land, and at this place the Atlantic liners can be seen on their start from Liverpool for Canada. After a wait of an hour we drove to Millisle, where Mr. Lavery showed us two of his houses and also a piece of ground that he has taken to erect a bungalow, as it is a beautiful spot, facing the salt water in St. George's channel, and within eighty yards of the water's edge. We then turned for home (Newtownards) and passed along another six miles of very nice country. Every inch of the fields seemed to be cultivated with early cabbages, potatoes and good crops of all kinds. Go where you may the roads are well kept, nicely rounded in the center and surface. Men keep the grass and weeds neatly cut from side to side; they also kept ditches cropped short with wall flowers, and it is certainly a great pleasure humming along on their well-kept roads. We left Newtownards at two o'clock and after an absence of five hours, in which we covered fifteen Irish miles, equal to twenty-four English miles, we had our tea and a short talk; then went to bed and slept like tops."

GIRL FALLS 200 FEET.

Escape From Death or Even Broken.

London, Aug. 15.—A girl named Olive Perry, while gathering flowers yesterday, fell over Clifton Rocks, a distance of about 200 feet.

She had a marvelous escape from death, for when rescued she was found to be suffering violently from shock, and no bones were broken.

She was taken to the Bristol Royal Infirmary, and is making a good recovery.

Skeletons Discovered.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—A party of priests from St. Boniface College have discovered remains of Fort St. Charles built in 1732 by Sieur de La Verendrye, first explorer of the North-West, on an island in Lake of Woods in American territory.

They also discovered skeletons of Father Aulmar and Jean Baptiste de La Verendrye, and nineteen skulls of French-Canadian voyagers who were massacred by Sioux Indians in 1736.

For many years past the Roman Catholic church here made attempts to locate these remains but until the present month all efforts to do so had failed.

Invented New Rifle.

Oberndorf, Wurttemberg, Aug. 15.—Paul Mauser, the aged inventor of the rifle, bearing his name, has invented a new military rifle, the principal feature of which is a twenty-five round automatic magazine feeder. The rifle may also be used as a single-shot piece, the barrel reloading after each shot, while the magazine of twenty-five cartridges remains ready for an emergency. The new rifle weighs but a few ounces more than the rifle now used in the German service.

SASKATCHEWAN ELECTIONS.

Premier Scott Sustained—Ministers Defeated.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—The latest returns from Saskatchewan indicate the return of union supporters of Premier Scott, and seventeen provincial rights. Four places are still to be heard from and the election in one constituency is yet to be held. Hon. J. A. Calder is likely defeated in Melfort and W. R. Motherwell's defeat in North Qu'Appelle is conceded. Hon. Mr. Tupper was defeated in Prince Albert but carried Duck Lake, according to incomplete returns.

Liberals Elected.

Regina City, Saskatoon City, Swift Current, Yorkton, Wadena, Cannington, Rosthern, Saltcoats, Duck Lake, Liberal possibly elected; Arm River, South Battleford, Estevan, Francis, Hanby, Humboldt, Moosomin, Saskatchewan county, Touchwood, Liberals elected and probably elected, nine out of ten.

Provincial Rights Elected.

Regina County, Prince Albert City, Moosejaw City, Pipestone, Moose Mountain, Maple Creek, South of Appelle, North Qu'Appelle, Milestone, Souris, Pheasant Hills, Prince Albert County, provincial rights probably elected, East Mountain, Lloydminster, North-Battleford, Redberry, Weyburn, Provincial rights elected and leading, seventeen.

When the returns are finally in it is anticipated that the Liberals will be found to have won at least twenty-five seats leaving fifteen for their opponents. The endorsement of Premier Scott's policy by giving him a majority of ten in the legislature is regarded as a sweeping victory. Liberals throughout Saskatchewan are delighted with the result of the election, and it does, after a campaign in which the Premier's opponents used every means to discredit the policy which he has been responsible for.

Premier Scott, in granting to the province a measure of redistribution which was a very entirely fair, has undoubtedly gained the approbation, not only of his liberal supporters, but of many who have been numbered among his opponents.

His fearless appeal to the country has been justified and the opinion of the people exemplified at the polls in a striking manner.

He has himself been returned as member for Swift Current by a majority which can only be gratifying to the liberal leader.

A Late Despatch.

Regina, Aug. 15.—Premier Scott carried Swift Current, a new constituency by about 100 majority, but returns are far from complete. Hon. J. A. Calder and Hon. W. R. Motherwell are both likely defeated. Hon. Mr. Tupper carried Duck Lake by about seventy-five majority. Figures so far: Liberals, 19; conservatives, 17.

The stack work of the Ottawa will be by Otto Quinn, and the locals think he will handle the visitors a bunch of curves that will fade them easily. Both teams have been working hard for this game, and it should prove a fast, snappy exhibition. Play will start at 3 p.m.

Head Between Rocks—Was Placed in Place Where It Was Found by Persons Who Robbed Dead Man.

Brookville, Ont., Aug. 15.—High Sheriff Bellinger, of Jefferson county, N.Y., who is in charge of the district attorney's investigation into the death of Hugh Graham, at Alexandria Bay, N.Y., told your correspondent that after minute examination he was fully convinced that Graham was murdered and his body placed in the water and wedged between two rocks.

The autopsy proved conclusively that the man was alive when his body entered the water. Sheriff Bellinger says that the position of the head was such when found as showed it to have been placed there by persons who robbed deceased.

It is said here that the Canadian government will be asked by relatives to investigate the circumstances of his death.

PREFERS THE QUIETER LIFE.

Duke's Wife is Not Boycotted by Society.

New York, Aug. 15.—The story of the Duchess of Marlborough being boycotted by society arises from the fact that she goes out on seldom into the street in which she was formerly loved. This is entirely due to her own desire to live a quieter life. She is sought after as much as ever, but accepts few invitations.

She was one of the belles recently at two most exclusive parties, one given by Mrs. Cavendish-Bentinck, the other by Lady Dickson-Poynder. There were royalties at both, and at Lady Poynder's the Duchess dined twice with the Duke of Connaught, King Edward's brother.

For general society she has no liking, and is most careful to avoid going to any place where she is likely to meet the Duke of Marlborough.

The Duchess has never been to court and has never met the King and Queen since her separation from the Duke was announced.

The King disapproves of separations between prominent titled persons regarded for the aristocracy.

He has not forgiven the Duchess for absolutely refusing to have even a colorable reconciliation with the Duke. But the Duchess meets all the King's set, who sympathize with her, and she entertains them occasionally, though her parties are very quiet and are rarely announced in the newspapers.

Meantime the Duke, who is making desperate efforts to keep his end up in society, finds that even a Marlborough with a very different person from a Marlborough with America's dollars, he lives between Blenheim Palace, which is shut up and desolate, except for a dozen rooms, and the Ritz Hotel in London.

He is working hard for political prominence, but is an uninteresting speaker, and since the possibility of his getting handsome campaign contributions from the Vanderbilt fortune has vanished he cuts a less important figure with his party chiefs.

INDULGE IN NEW VICE.

Ether Inhalation is Their Latest Habit.

Paris, Aug. 15.—The inhalation of ether, which for some time has been a favorite vice among certain Parisians, is being taken up by Americans here to some extent, and one or two unpleasant episodes have happened recently as a result.

At a small dinner given by a smart American who lives near the Arc de l'Etoile the hostess happened to be along in the drawing room when the first guest, a young man well-known to New York society, arrived. He had been staggered into the room after he had been announced, his eyes half closed and his face blanched.

"What is the matter with you?" asked the hostess, who happened to be a good friend of the man. "You've been inhaling ether."

The man admitted the fact. The hostess explained to him that he was in no fit condition to attend the dinner, and asked him to leave the house, which he did at once.

The next day he called to explain. He had made the acquaintance, it seemed, of several young French noblemen who carried out the ether about with them and who inhaled the fumes frequently during the day. The young American had been persuaded to try the effect. This was on the morning of the day of the dinner, and his recovery had been slow.

"It was simply an experiment," he said, "and not one which I would care to repeat."

The habit is not one easy to break. The effects are said to be even worse than those of cocaine.

Slav Woman Had Not Washed in 60 Years.

Cranbrook, B.C., Aug. 15.—Stories of the famous side of the Fernie fire are coming to light.

Ferne is sixty miles from Cranbrook, and the crowd was bunched hurriedly and crowded into the cars coming east. On Aug. 3 there arrived a grand sight from the banks of the Arno with the most morose, desolate, battered, and disgusted old Plymouth Rock rooster tucked under his arm that the wondering eye of man ever rested on. What he wanted this ugly old fellow for is a matter beyond even his own ken, but through all the crush and ruin he clung to that relic of the old box he used to call his home.

A Slav woman arrived with only a waterproof coat over her, but in little while she carried a chicken about a week old. Another clung to an old box, such as is used for carrying a silk hat, as if to life.

Down in the wash tent a Slav woman consented to allow her child to be washed thoroughly, but when she was asked to bathe she simply said she was sixty years of age and had never had occasion for such foolishness. The chief of police had to be called in to overcome her objections.

HE SEIZED THE LIONS

DOESN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH THEM.

Can't Find Anyone Who Will Take Charge of the Animals—Lions Belonged to Madam Adgie—Seized on Behalf of Reading Railway.

Atlantic City, Aug. 15.—Madame Adgie, lion tamer, has lost her lions, and the bailiff of the district court, Walter Hardeste, is in trouble. He seized the kings of the forest for a claim of $500 presented by the Reading Railroad, and Adgie, the owner, led him have her big pets.

Adgie, it appears, shipped them here from New York. The railroad broke some of the animals among her freight and she refused to settle until the railroad did. Then came the court's execution to seize the lions.

They have been seized in their cages, but the bailiff is not anxious to take them to his home, and he cannot find anyone in the resort who wants to undertake the contract of looking after them.

The railroad is responsible for their keep, which require a handquarter of beef for each meal.

In the meantime the bailiff has armed himself with two guns, and gets under cover with every roar which comes from the cage. The lions are evidently "siding in" with their mistress.

ABSTINENCE UNION ADOPTS A STRONG RESOLUTION.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 15.—Denunciation of the liquor traffic, an appeal for sanctification of Sunday and the exclusion from membership in Catholic societies of those engaged in the liquor traffic were the striking features of the resolutions adopted by the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union.

The Union declares its allegiance to the Catholic church and especially reminds the clergy "of the anathema which is uttered against him who preaches any other gospel save that which has been delivered to the Apostles." With all our souls we welcome the encyclical of our Holy Father, Pius G., on modernism.

The resolutions also say: "Without periodicals that cannot live without liquor advertisements should die. Let them not drag down the Catholic in their greed. We earnestly suggest that Catholic organizations which exclude saloon-keepers from membership and which forbid the use of liquor at their meetings should not tolerate the formation of clubs within their membership which despise the letter and spirit of those laws that have been made by their organization for the honor of the Catholic name."

It was voted to hold the next convention in Chicago. Rev. James T. Coffey, of St. Louis, was elected president.

VANS AS ARSENALS

THIRTEEN DEAD IN FIERCE GIPSY FIGHT.

Revolvers, Knives and Other Weapons in Battle Between Two Rival Bands.

Vienna, Aug. 15.—A regular battle took place last night between two bands of gypsies attending the horse market at Friedeck, Silesia.

The trouble began in a quarrel between two gypsies belonging to rival bands over the sale of a horse. The quarrel resulted in one of the men shooting the other dead in the garden of a farmhouse.

The other gypsies at once joined in and fought fiercely with each other with knives, revolvers and other weapons. Eleven of the gypsies had been killed before the police approached to interfere. All the gypsies who were not hors de combat then sprang into the river, with the object of swimming across. Two were so exhausted by their wounds that they sank and were drowned.

The others, when they reached the other side, found that their vans with their wives and children were in the hands of the police. The vans were found to contain a miniature arsenal of weapons and a large hoard of stolen goods.

If You Are In Good Form, Stay That Way

Men, and Especially Women, Who Are Plump Are Most Liable To Get Too Fat.

Many women, taking pride in getting plump and just a little over-normal in weight, do not realize that they are cultivating what is bound to result in a serious overload of fat. They are eating too much, and it will surely come to rob the victim of her cherished beauty, grace and form.

There never was a beautiful fat woman, nor a handsome fat man. Beauty is not only in normal people and often even in those who are really lean.

One of the most wonderful things that Hengo does is to reduce the weight to perfectly normal, where the patient is neither too fat, nor too lean.

This means that it does not take off so much flesh that it makes you look "cracked," but it takes just enough off to make you appear in perfect form. The food will be so normal that all you eat of the food, and you will wish just exactly what you should naturally wish.

One of the surest ways to keep from getting fat is to take a little "Hengo" every day. Don't fear that it will cut off too much flesh, because it will not reduce you below normal. On the other hand, Hengo is a health builder and it has been known to put on just as much as very thin people and build them up to perfect weight and form. This shows that a powerful regulator it is. It is a beauty keeper and a beauty maker.

There is nothing "just as good" as Hengo. For sale by all druggists at $2.00 per full size box, or by mail for $3.00. For the Home Co., 5333 Beacon Hill, Detroit, Mich. The company will send on very thin people and build them up to perfect weight and form. This shows that a powerful regulator it is. It is a beauty keeper and a beauty maker.
