LABOR CONDITIONS

SHOWED AN IMPROVEMENT IN JULY.

Cause of Improved Tone Was the Favorable Agricultural Reports—Ottawa Wants a Technical School.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Ottawa is taking steps to impress on the minister of education that it is willing to do its part towards having one of the proposed technical schools in the city.

Industrial and labor conditions showed an improvement during July, as compared with the preceding month. Railway employees were taken on in large numbers and there was an increase in the output of manufacturing establishments and in the general demand for labour.

Railroad companies were giving employment to several thousand men. Buildings and improvements were increased in volume.

The cause of the improved tone was in large part the continued favorable report with regard to the agricultural prospects. Crops in the province give promise of big yields, those of 1907 being beaten. The fishing and lumbering industries were somewhat quiet.

The metal collars of Nova Scotia and the metal camps of British Columbia have had a prosperous month. A surplus of unskilled labor was reported at certain points, but the amount was less than in June and in some localities a scarcity of men was reported after the beginning of harvesting.

As in the previous months of the season, the volume of immigration was much less than at the corresponding period of 1907.

There was a marked decrease in the number of trade disputes in Canada during the month of July compared with previous months, and very few of them had any serious effects on industry. St. George, N.B., continues a severity of a strike of granite cutters and at Toronto building operations were delayed by a general strike of plasterers during the greater part of the month.

The loss of time to employees through trade disputes, during July, was approximately 21,000 working days, compared with a loss of 82,527 days in June and 81,100 in July, 1907.

40,000 MURDERED.

Young Turk's Allegation Against the Secret Police.

London, Aug. 28.—Mohammed Dammouli, one of the founders of the Young Turkey movement, who is now in London, has given in an interview an interesting account of this movement.

He says that the organization has nothing whatever to do with the so-called Young Turkey of Paris, but was formed as a secret society in October, 1904, as a last resort to free Turkey from the thraldom of the secret police, by whose machinations thousands of the best men in Turkey disappeared.

According to his estimate 40,000 men have been so disposed of. He relates that forty men were brought from the tower to the shores of the Bosphorus one evening. He heard them screaming at night time, and next morning all had disappeared.

On another occasion a German steamer lying in the Bosphorus, on weighing her anchor, drew up several corpses. The captain of the steamer received a large bribe from the police not to mention the matter.

"The sultan has been wrongly blamed for this condition of affairs," he said; "he is surrounded by a camorra and can trust nobody, and had he attempted to reform the government alone, he would undoubtedly have been assassinated."

IN BAD CONDITION.

What Strikers Say of the C.P.R. Rolling Stock.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—The committee of managing C.P.R. mechanics are setting the machinery in motion, through Alphonse Verville, M.P., to bring to the notice of the commission claims which are made on behalf of the strikers that the C.P.R. rolling stock is getting into bad condition as the outcome of their trouble and to such an extent that the reputation of the commissioners are being affected.

The strike committee claims that in one instance a locomotive was sent out from the Outremont yard without its air brakes in working order.

Death At Atkinson.

Atkinson, Aug. 27.—On Thursday afternoon, August 20th, Mrs. Spence widow of the late Robert Spence, died after a lingering illness at the home of her son, John. The late Mrs. Spence was born near Cataract in 1843, but for many years resided in Pittsburgh. Deceased was a member of Sand Hill Presbyterian church and took an active part in church work. She will be much missed especially in the neighborhood of Pine Grove where she lived for a number of years. She leaves one daughter and four sons: Mrs. E. Comer, Manitoba; John, James and William of Pittsburgh, and Frederick of Brockville. She is also survived by two brothers, Thomas Bell, Pittsburgh; John of Leeds township, and one sister, Mrs. Blake, of Pittsburgh. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon to Sand Hill cemetery, and was followed by a large concourse of friends. Owing to the absence of her pastor, Mr. McQuarrie, service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McConnell assisted by Mr. Danby.

Borden's Exalted Talk.

Montreal Herald. The election chief and the briber feel the weight of Mr. Borden's (platform) wrath. And he does not stop there. "Strike not only at them, but expose and send to the penitentiary if possible, the respectable gentlemen who supply the funds and superintend the work at a safe distance."

This was spoken before the public had heard about the way Zangiac Graham telegraphed money to all parts of the country, under instructions, as he said, received from Mr. Borden, in a letter. Mr. Borden denied writing the letter. Mr. Graham went out of his way to reaffirm that he got it. Mr. Borden has not challenged the proof, and he hasn't tried to put anybody in the penitentiary for supplying the funds from a safe distance, either.

SAVED FATHER'S LIFE.

Harry Cline of Ingersoll a Little Hero.

Ingersoll, Ont., Aug. 28.—Harry Cline, the little thirteen-year-old son of W. A. Cline of this town, is being upon as a hero.

While swimming across the Thames river, east of here, with his eight-year-old son, Melvin, on his back, Harry's father was seized with a cramp, he became unconscious and sank with the youngster.

Harry, who was on the bank, stripped off his clothing, and diving, rescued both father and brother from the fifteen feet of water that is found at that spot.

Mr. Cline and his three boys were out fishing and were attempting to cross the river in order to make a short cut to town when the accident happened. The younger lad could not swim.

DIDN'T STEAL THE HORSE.

Men Drunk and Took It Only As Convenience.

Brampton, Ont., Aug. 28.—Police Magistrate H. H. Shaver heard a peculiar charge of horse stealing. Two men, named Willocks and Winger, of Port Credit, became exceedingly drunk on the night of August 14th and despairing of getting home, took a horse and buggy belonging to Mr. Kee, Cooksville, from the shed in which it was tied during the progress of a grand jury trial, and drove off. Recovering from their spree next morning they found themselves at Waterdown, and were later on arrested for the theft of the animal. As everything pointed to a drunken frolic, with no evidence of actual theft, the prisoners were found guilty technically only and let off on suspended sentence.

SAFE ROBBED IN HULL.

Game Worked on Lady Alone in Ottawa, Aug. 28.—A safe was robbed in Hull, yesterday, in the middle of the day and $225 secured. A man got a two-dollar bill changed in the store of J. M. Laverdus by Miss Laverdus, who was in charge alone. A few minutes later a working man entered the store and asked if he could store some tools in a shed behind the store for a few hours. The young woman went to open the shed, and when she returned the man was gone with the contents of the safe. It is presumed that the man who got the bill changed and the one who made off with the money were confederates.

Complaint About Horse.

Inspector Arnel, of the Humane Society, received an anonymous letter, in which the writer complained about a horse on one of the new war dogs, being ill-treated. The inspector made an investigation into the case, and could find no evidence of any of the horses used in this work being ill-treated. People who have complaints to offer the inspector would convey their name to the letters, so that the inspector could see them and make all the necessary enquiries, otherwise it is often the case that a complaint cannot be followed up so closely.

Threatened The Bailiff.

Yesterday afternoon Bailiff Clarke went to the outer station to seize a stove. The woman who owned it objected and threatened to thrash the bailiff if he dared to take the stove. A call was telephoned to the police station and Constable Mallingier went down to the assistance of the bailiff, who secured what he was after.

Carnival In Kingston.

A splendid play with the great carnival of Nice, France, as a background, is offered at the Bijou to-day and Saturday. It is called "The Girl at the Carnival." The drama is a most powerful one. The principal acts take place at the carnival and in the streets of Nice while the recent splendid carnival was in progress. Thus the audience enjoys at the same time a fine play and a "sight of the wonderful comedy."

A Big Row Prophesied.

A member of the city property committee stated to-day, that there would be a big row next Tuesday if the sketches for the new city buildings dome are not ready. One member declares he will move that another architect be engaged. It is now five weeks since the dome was burned, and practically nothing has been done. The property committee itself is at fault in not engaging an architect three days after the fire occurred. It is also slow about having the interior parts of the building damaged by water, repaired. Nothing has yet been done to the caretaker's quarters. It's high time something was done to the buildings.
