

WROTE FOR MONEY

Now Bigamist Will Spend Five Years in Kingston.

Masquerading in Windsor With Latest Victim --Believed to Have Several Other Wives.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 2.—Convicted of having married at least two different women, and possibly a third, Nathaniel Self, of London, was sentenced by Magistrate Bartlett to five years in penitentiary for bigamy. Self, who was masquerading here under the name of George Ferguson, was arrested, two weeks ago, on complaint of his first wife, who is now residing in London, where Self deserted her with her children some months ago. Becoming financially embarrassed, the absconding husband had the temerity to write to his first wife for money, and this proved to be the key to his undoing. At the time of his arrest Self was staying at an hotel with Miss Lillian Norris, also of London, whom he had married a short time ago. The police believe he also had wives in Woodstock and Paris.

HEAD LIKE PILE DRIVER.

Negress' Dive Merely Dents Hard Ground.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 2.—Washington physicians are speculating to-night on just how far a negro may fall, head foremost and live.

Gertrude Brown, a negress, who holds the record for making things lively in the neighborhood of Florida avenue and Thirteenth street, has won the falling record too. Jailed yesterday, she started an immediate tour of investigation for head striking, the hard ground first. Physicians found she had sustained no internal injuries, the spot where she struck the ground alone suffering.

"I always was a hard-headed nigger," Gertrude said.

ROBERTSON BROS.

KAISER AS MATCHMAKER.

To Marry Daughter to Heir of Austro-Hungary.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Interesting reports are afloat to the effect that the kaiser has his eye upon the young man who will some day be Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary as the future husband of his only daughter, the sixteen-year-old Princess Victoria Louise. The scion of royalty who is the object of this alleged august matchmaking is the Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, nephew of the reigning emperor, Francis Joseph.

Young Karl Franz, who is just twenty-one, is the eldest son of the late Archduke Otto Franz Joseph, brother of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, who inherits the Austro-Hungarian throne when the present aged monarch dies. Archduke Karl Franz is directly in the line of succession because the Archduke Franz Ferdinand has renounced his right of succession for his own children, in consequence of his morganatic marriage with Princess Von Hohenberg.

Confirmation of the reports as to the German kaiser's plans for his daughter is naturally difficult to secure, but the Viennese are persuaded that his majesty had them definitely in mind when he took his daughter along to Vienna last May, on the occasion of the congratulatory sovereigns.

Archduke Karl Franz Joseph lately finished one year's service as lieutenant in a German Hussar regiment, Princess Victoria Louise, although not a pretty girl, is said to be growing up to be an exceedingly sweet and talented young woman, who, as the only daughter in a family of six sons, is the constant chum of her mother, the empress.

The shah's troops, which had been camped outside the town for days while the leaders parleyed, entered it unopposed on the 29th and were drawn up at parade. The rebels suddenly opened a tremendous fusillade on the soldiers, killing and wounding 800.

HE BIT THE JEWELER

Man Throttles a Mad Dog; Saves Children From Attack.

Wolf's Attention Drawn by the Screams of Little Ones—His Thumb Was Almost Chewed Off.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—A mad dog running amuck in Lake View, yesterday, created a panic among the residents, but the only person reported to have been bitten is Gustave Wolf, a young jeweler, residing in 1711 Diversey boulevard, and he was injured through saving others from the brute's attack. Wolf was seated at the front window of his home when his attention was attracted by the screams of children. The animal was coming from the west, snarling at everybody within reach. He was close to the legs of an old man, who hurried out of the way, and left the animal making a straight line for a group of children.

Wolf, who was between the dog and the children, grabbed for the strap about the dog's neck. His aim was bad and quick as a flash the dog had Wolf's right hand between his teeth, and was biting through with all his might. Though he suffered excruciatingly Wolf caught the strap with his left hand and loved the dog down and choked him until Reginald Oliver, a neighbor, procured a revolver and killed the brute.

Wolf's thumb was almost severed. Dr. N. Ellis Oliver, 1707 Diversey boulevard, cauterized the wound and then sent the young man to the Pasteur Institute.

Efforts to Have it Annulled Been Abandoned.

New York, Sept. 2.—Instead of the final judgment to annul the marriage of Miss Helen Maloney, to Arthur Herbert Osborn being granted as expected, the case was marked off the calendar. This means that the marriage supposed to have been performed in Mamaronock is still in force, and that the relations of the young woman to Samuel Clarkson, with whom she eloped to Montreal and from thence to Europe last fall, must remain unchanged.

An explanation of the unexpected turn of affairs has been made. Osborn's friends say his attitude is purely passive, believing all action should be taken entirely by the young woman. The deepest mystery surrounds the reason why Mr. Maloney, the Philadelphia millionaire, wishes to have the marriage remain unannulled, when he was the first to desire that it be called void. It is known that he does not favor Clarkson and is extremely provoked by the recent disappearance of his daughter from his summer home at Spring Lake, N.J. Miss Maloney is supposed to be with friends in Philadelphia.

A possible explanation of the unexpected action, is found in a story printed by the World as coming from Rome, to the effect that the pope and the college of cardinals have refused their consent to the annulment of the marriage which was rendered necessary by the fact that Miss Maloney's father, Martin Maloney, Philadelphia millionaire, is a papal marquis and his family members of the Roman church.

The only other occupant of the room at the time was the boy's younger brother, Joe, two years old. The little fellow was wrestling on a bed near the fatal window. It is believed that the older had lost his footing during the tussle and fell against the screen of the window, which gave way, letting him fall to the pavement below.

A LOVER'S REVENGE

Tore Out the Tongue of His Faithless Sweetheart With Forceps.

Was Dragged to Death at Heels of His Horse by the Indignant Villagers.

Rome, Sept. 2.—For tearing out his former sweetheart's tongue because she had broken her promise to remain faithful while he saved enough to support her, a travelling dentist named Francesco Vergani has been dragged to death by a horse to which he was tied by the bystanders who witnessed his vengeance.

Vergani, when a youth of nineteen, fell in love several years ago with Eloise Ferrari, a girl a year his junior, and the daughter of a prosperous farmer of Regio Province. The girl liked him, but her parents objected that he was too young and too poor to wed. Hoping to make a fortune in America, the young man took passage to New York, after making his sweetheart promise to accept no husband until he returned to claim her.

The two took their vow of faithfulness in the village church, repeating together, as they concluded, "May I be stricken dumb if I violate the oath I have taken."

Fortune was slower in coming to him in the new world than Vergani had hoped, and it was eight years before he considered himself able to support the woman of his choice in the fashion to which he thought she was entitled.

He found employment in the meantime with an itinerant dentist, who, taking a fancy to the young Italian, finally made him his partner, and equipped him with a smattering of dentistry, and enabled him to accumulate enough to make him, in Italy, a comparatively rich man. A mutual friend, Vergani had heard regularly from his betrothed during the first six years of his exile. Then the letters suddenly ceased. The Italian was worried and anxious, but still confident that the girl remained true to him. He was confident, too, that had anything fallen her, his friend would have informed him.

TRUST COMPANY OF AMERICA.

Has Paid Off Its Loan of $25,000,000.

New York, Sept. 2.—The Trust company of America, of New York city upon which a sensational run was precipitated during the financial panic of 1907, has managed its business so successfully as to be able to pay off in its entirety the loan of twenty-five million dollars which it then effected. The company in point of assets and liabilities was the second largest in the country, and the run which it successfully sustained exceeded any ever known in the history of America. The ordeal through which it passed demonstrated that it was clearly of a sound basis, and its administration had been a prudent one.

Blood-hounds took up the trail at the house and followed it to Sprous' house. Sprous was arrested and brought here. Cooper and Sprous were engaged in a suit over lumber.

The balloon had a very narrow escape from landing in the Niagara Gorge. Mueller, in charge, rib fractured; Gerald Gregory, ankle sprained; Harold Gregory, back injured.
