BUSY DAY AT CAMP ALL REGIMENTS WERE OUT ON THE FIELD.

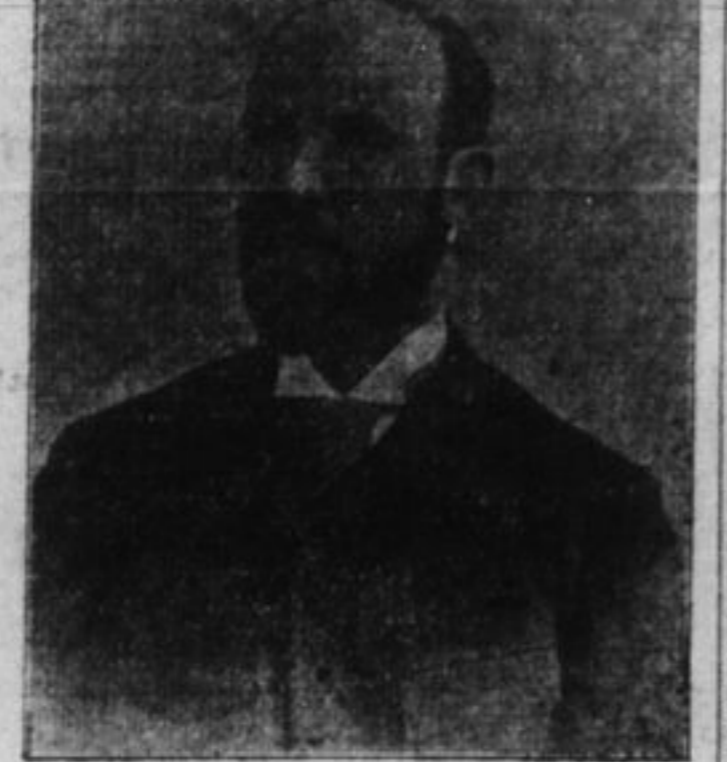

And a Fine Day's Work was Accomplished by the Men—Notes of Interest From the Camp. Tuesday was a busy day at Barrfield camp. The different regiments were out in the field at eight o'clock in the morning, and a fine day's work was accomplished.

Notes of the Camp. A meeting of the chaplains will be held to arrange for Sunday services. The following regiments paraded to-day, for musketry instruction: 10th Regiment, at 8.15 a.m., at the barracks; 'A' and 'B' squadrons, 4th Hussars, at 9 a.m., for instruction; 15th Regiment, at 11 a.m., for judging distance; 'C' and 'D' squadrons, 3rd Dragoons, at 2 p.m., for instruction; 45th Regiment, at 2 p.m., at the barracks.

Musical Treat in Store. A treat to be looked forward to by all is the concert to be given in St. George's hall, Tuesday, September 15th, by Miss Carolina Molina, who has a charming voice, and Miss Murray of King, whose playing is too well known to need comment. R. R. F. Harvey will play all the accompaniments.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured. By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PROF. SHORTT NAMED. As One of the Civil Service Commission.

Prof. Adam Shortt, of Queen's, has been appointed a member of the Civil Service Commission. This is the body that hereafter will have to do with the appointment of civil servants of the inside service, merit alone entering into the selections. The customs and post office service are exempted from the commission. Professor Shortt will accept the position. He has been a resident of Kingston since 1879, and on the staff of Queen's since 1886. He will resign his professorship and remove to Ottawa. Prof. Shortt is well known on account of his success as a chairman of arbitration boards.

Sketch of His Career. Prof. Shortt was born of Scotch parentage, at Kilmearney, Ont., on November 24th, 1859. He was educated at Walkerton high school and at Queen's University, entering the latter in 1879. He graduated as bachelor of arts, with gold medal in philosophy, and as governor-general's prizeman in 1883, and as master of arts in 1884. Subsequently, he took a post-graduate course at Glasgow and Edinburgh Universities. On returning to Canada he was appointed assistant professor of philosophy in his alma mater in 1888. In 1889 he became lecturer in the new department of political science, and in 1892 became professor of that subject, occupying that position till the present time.

Industrial Triumph. The good fortune of several Kingstonians in following up the discovery of an exceptionally fine brick clay at Washburn, a small way up on the Rideau system, has led to a promising industry. The bricks being produced are as finely finished as any Canadian pressed products, and are harder and more durable. They are so superior that they must be leaders in the Eastern Ontario market and competitors all over Ontario. Messrs. Paisley & Chisholm, the operating lessees, are taking orders and soon some Kingston buildings will show the good fruits of local enterprise.

Quincy Adams Sawyer. Nothing more artistically and financially successful has been done for a number of seasons in the way of dramatizing a popular novel than that of Quincy Adams Sawyer, a widely read New England story, which for over six years now has continued to be one of the best selling books in this country. 'Quincy Adams Sawyer' in play form will be seen in all the elaborately fitted of five country houses at the Grand Opera, Saturday, September 5th, matinee and night.

Married at Athens. The marriage took place at Athens, on Monday-morning, at 8.30 o'clock, of Miss Minnie Morris, teacher in the Model school here, and Matthew Webster, of Ottawa. Mr. and Mrs. Webster left Brockville via the steamer Kingston for Toronto, and will go from the Queen City, on a trip to Fort William. The groom is a brother of Ford and Edward Webster of this city.

Drink For Health. To be wholesome, soda water ought to look good, taste good and be good. To be good in every sense it must be made from perfect materials and free from contamination of every kind. Our clean, pure soda water is typical of the purity of our soda water, and is as good as it looks and tastes. Wade's Drug Store.

Valuable Information. A Whig representative was approached on a street car, on Tuesday afternoon, by a young New Yorker, who has been employed in the city this summer. He was very desirous that the people in Kingston should be informed that he was wearing 'green socks with tie to match.' No doubt the many readers will be interested in the intimation. PLANS FOR CITY DOME NOT ACCEPTED BY PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

The Estimates Too High—Architect to Prepare Another Plan on Exact Lines of Old Dome and For Its Restoration. The city property committee met, yesterday afternoon, to receive the plans of the new dome for the city buildings, prepared by Power & Son. There were present, Aids. Angrove (chairman), Couper, Free, Graham, McCartney, and Toye. Joseph Power presented two sketches for the proposed dome, the proportions being a little larger than those of the burned dome. However, the committee considered the estimates too high and instructed the architect to prepare plans and specifications for restoring the old dome on the old lines, and to meet the committee on Thursday afternoon of next week.

Both sketches prepared by the architect satisfied the committee, but as the lowest estimate would exceed the insurance money received, neither was accepted. The first of the plans was the more imposing, the dome being made nineteen feet higher than the old one. To construct the dome of Roman stone from that of steel would cost $25,000 to $27,000. To construct a concrete base and reinforced concrete dome would cost from $20,000 to $22,000. To construct a steel frame wood-laid dome would cost $16,000 to $17,500.

The second plan was more like the old dome, but six feet higher and a little wider. The prices for its construction in the above mentioned materials were $16,000 to $17,500. $14,000 to $15,000, $11,000 to $12,000. To reconstruct the old dome in steel and wood, the architect estimated, would cost $10,000. None of the above figures covered the cost of clock or bell.

Ald. Graham declared that none of the schemes was what the committee wanted. It couldn't afford to erect a costly dome. He claimed that the architect should have brought in a plan and given an estimate of what it would cost to restore the old dome on exactly the same lines. The base of the dome was in good condition, in his opinion. Mr. Power didn't agree with Ald. Graham as to the base. He said that a good deal of it would have to be replaced. Ald. Graham still maintained that the base was good.

Ald. Toye pointed out that it would cost pretty close to $2,500 to replace the clock and bell. Hence the cheapest plan submitted would cost more than the amount of insurance received. The desire of the committee seemed to be not to spend more than the insurance money in erecting a new dome. It was finally decided, on motion of Ald. Graham, to instruct Mr. Power to prepare a plan for the restoration of the old dome, following its exact lines, and also to prepare specifications, so that these can be submitted to the committee when it meets on Thursday afternoon of next week. Then the committee will instruct the architect to call for tenders. A week will be allowed for tenders to be received, and then the whole scheme will be submitted to the city council somewhere about September 15th.

The first sketch presented by the architect showed a dome that would have been an adornment to the city buildings. The clock and bell were placed at the bottom of the dome proper. It contained pinnacles, besides columns, and was nineteen feet higher than the old dome. The cheapest structure from this design, including bell and clock, would cost about $19,000. The second sketch was more like the old dome, only the proportions were larger. Architects claim that a properly constructed dome should be built from the central stone walls erected as its base. The old dome, they say, was carried in too far.

Citizens who like good architecture say that a cheap dome should not be erected on the buildings. They hold that if the town of Kingston, over sixty years ago, could erect such a magnificent pile, the present generation should surely be able to put a $20,000 dome upon them. They think it a shame that the old dome should be so eager to erect a cheap structure. Let debentures be issued for twenty years and let the succeeding generation pay its share, they say.

MISS LAIRD MARRIED To Frank Yeigh, a Well Known Torontonian.

A quiet wedding was solemnized, at eleven o'clock, on Wednesday morning, at the residence of Mr. Robert and Mrs. Laird, 187 University avenue, when their daughter, Annie Louise, was married to Frank Yeigh, of Toronto, in the presence of their immediate relatives. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. M. Macgillivray, of Chalmers church, and Rev. Prof. Alexander Laird, of the Royal Military College.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Rev. Robert Laird, of Queen's university, and attended by her sister, Frances. The groom was supported by his brother, E. H. Yeigh, of Toronto. The lovely wedding gown was of cream silk crepe de chine, with trimmings of flet lace and white satin. With it was worn a tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms, and a diamond and pearl brooch, the gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was of white roses.

The bridesmaid was dressed in pale green crepe, with pearl crescent, and also the gift of the groom, and carried pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Yeigh, after receiving the hearty good wishes of their friends, left on the noon train for a trip to the Maritime Provinces. The bride is a graduate of Queen's and the groom is a well-known journalist and magazine writer, and both have hosts of friends, who showered gifts in abundance upon them.

QUEEN'S MAN HONORED. Goes to International Congress at Edinburgh. Rev. J. A. McCullum, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in Philadelphia's wealthiest and most beautiful suburb, has been appointed to represent the United States at the International Congress on the Lord's Day, to be held in Edinburgh in connection with the National exhibition, October 6th to 14th next. Mr. McCullum graduated from Gananoque high school in 1895, after which he came to Queen's, graduating in 1899. He spent one year in post-graduate work, and then went to New York, entering Union Theological Seminary, from which he graduated with high honors in 1903. During his course here he also did graduate work in sociology and political philosophy in Columbia University.

The Ripe Old Age. The remains of Miss Jane Catherine Ferns were reverently laid to rest on a hillside of beautiful Cataract cemetery, by a number of the members of St. George's congregation who have grown up from infancy in her sight and memory. Her memorial stone will record the ripe old age of eighty-two years. Preceding her to the long rest in that lot were her mother and two aunts, whose ages also are notable.

Christiana, wife of Alexander John Ferns, died November 27th, 1887, aged eighty-four years. Jane Grey, wife of James Baymond, died December 1st, 1866, aged ninety-two years. Sarah Jane Baymond, widow of Lewis Cameron, died January 24th, 1892, aged eighty-six years.
