WIFE QUITS HUSBAND

MURDER AND SUICIDE END FAMILY QUARREL.

Woman's Aunt Interferes in Domestic Affairs and Brings Disc Cord Where Peace Reached.

Paris, Sept. 8.—The French law which makes the relatives of a wife heirs to half the property of the husband was responsible yesterday for a tragic murder and suicide in Paris.

A workman named Bary, his wife and their 7-year-old daughter Marguerite lived quite happily in Paris until about this woman, hearing that Bary was giving a weekly sum of money to his aged parents, suggested to Mme. Bary that he was acting against her interests.

The wife spoke to her husband about it, and he replied quietly that his money was his own and that he had a right to do what he liked with it. He continued the pension to his parents. This was six months ago.

Mme. Bary was finally persuaded to leave her home, husband and daughter and go to live with her aunt. Then she began an action for divorce, and secured a ruling of the court permitting her to remove half the furniture in her husband's establishment.

Accompanied by a solicitor and a commissaire, Mme. Bary went to her husband's flat yesterday morning and the division began. Half way through, M. Bary asked his wife to step aside and talk to him a moment. He begged her to stop the legal proceedings and to come back and live with him.

She refused unless he would consent to stop paying out money to his father and mother. To this he would not agree, and she turned to the commissaire, and pointing to a table, told him to carry it downstairs.

The table was Bary's first present to his wife, and as it was taken out of the room he drew a revolver, fired, and wounded her mortally. Then he shot himself through the leg.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure, with local treatment, pronounced it curable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

IS EXPERT BURGLAR

POLICE SAY HER EXPLOITS WERE MOST DARING.

Vanity Was Her Ruin—A Girl of Eighteen Years Who Acted in a Most Startling Fashion.

Manchester, Sept. 5.—Maggie Jane Scott, a tall, slim girl, 18 years of age, was charged at Carlisle yesterday with a remarkable series of burglaries.

Scarcely dressed, and with her hair hanging down her back, the girl burst into tears when she was placed in the dock. Her attitude was demure and shy, but the chief constable of Carlisle, in describing the prisoner's exploits, said they were among the most daring he had come across in the course of twenty-five years' police experience.

The prisoner, he explained, had held several situations in Carlisle, from which she had, however, been dismissed for lazy and indolent habits. Her vanity and love of finery had, he believed, for articles which she stole were mainly hats and clothes.

The burglaries, added the chief constable, were committed after midnight, the girl in most instances obtaining an entrance by climbing through windows which had been left unfastened. Once inside a house, the prisoner would ransack the ground floor, sometimes spending several hours in doing so. An amazing feature of the case was that the girl went through her operations and got clear away without waking the sleeping occupants.

The magistrate decided to deal with the girl under the probation of offender's act. She will be taken to a home and kept under observation for two years.
